Mexico's Revolution.
Practical British.
Hoover and Portes Gil.
Mr. Candler Knew.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

THE Mexican government seems to be gaining steadily in revolutionary fighting scattered over a wide Mexican area.

Those who say the Mexican people are not interested in this revolution are mistaken. Millions of Mexicans are intensely and passionately interested in what they consider an attack on the established religion of Mexico. It is a religious protest rather than a revolution in the usual sense.

AMERICANS who bought shares in the British General Electric Company are told that new shares will be issued only to British subjects. Americans are told "United States capital is not wanted in England." American investors are not desired as purchasers of the new stock.

THE new stock will be worth double its price or more, which may have something to do with a practical decision.

In any case, it will teach Americans to invest their money in home enterprises, of which there are plenty.

BRITAIN is to be congratulated on the fact that "United States capital is not wanted in England."

It is not long since five billions of it was wanted there, in a hurry, and this country sent it. And it isn't so long since this country consented to accept part payment in settlement of that debt.

CONCERNING government oil lands, President Hoover says simply: "We are going to keep them, not lease them or sell them." That will suit the people.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, says Congress should decide such matters, but the country is content to have President Hoover decide them, since he decides the right way.

IF THE President can stop the criminal waste of national oil wealth he will render a service to many future generations of automobile owners. Fortunately, he knows that, and probably, he knows how to go about conservation even of oil in private hands.

ASA G. CANDLER, SR., who invented Coca Cola and made millions, is dead. His life proves that attention to detail is the foundation of success. After attention to detail comes capacity for SUPERVISION. "Organize, deputize, supervise."

Mr. Candler carried detail to the grave, giving minute directions as to his funeral rites, including the wording of an announcement for newspapers and describing clothes that he was to wear in the coffin, a "dress suit," a good idea, if, indeed, we rise "in the flesh."

Mr. Candler set an example to his fellow citizens in liberality. He died in a hospital which he provided for the public at a cost of $1,500,000.

THAT somebody is making money may comfort you, if you are not making money.

The Michigan Central Railway, for instance, on March 28 will pay to stockholders a cash dividend of 100 per cent, which certainly is fair enough. Most of it goes to the New York Central Railroad, in control of Michigan Central.

AND there is the Union Carbide Company, declaring a stock dividend of 400 per cent.

Wall Street was cheerful yesterday, no wonder. And call money cost only 6 per cent. Just think of that.

MRS. BLANCHE WHIFFEN, "Virginia's grand old lady of the stage," was eighty-four years old yesterday, well and happy, telling young people how frightened she was on the stage sixty-seven years ago.

GOOD actresses, like Ellen Terry, Sarah Bernhardt and innumerable others, when they take care of their health, live to be old. Their brains remain active, and human beings, like trees, die at the top.

CONSIDER Mme. Lavergne, of Dijon, France, who celebrated her one hundred and sixth birthday yesterday. She has never called a doctor since, at the age of twelve, a wagon ran over her. Mme. Lavergne has lived in France under three kings, two republics and one empire, and wouldn't live anywhere else. She can't read well, but thinks that being a good listener is better.

IN Southwest Africa a giant meteor, recently fallen, is said by scientists to be the world's largest. It weighs more than fifty tons.

Thousands of meteors bombard the earth every year, big enough to destroy any building. But a majority are melted by friction of the air, and fall in harmless dust.

SOME, it is believed, bring with them germs of life from outside space. Intense cold does not kill primitive life, although heat does kill it. Scientists agree that all life on this planet may have started from microscopic life germs brought by meteors and developed by evolution. You need not believe it.

THOMPSON RICHES HID, CLAIM

J. V. Thompson, former Uniontown coal baron, now bankrupt, still has assets valued at several million dollars, which were not listed with the trustees of the bankrupt estate, according to a petition filed today before Attorney Watson B. Adair, referee in bankruptcy.

On petition of the trustees, Referee Adair has set April 8 as the date for questioning several witnesses who are said to know of assets not reported to the trustees.

PRINCESS WITNESS

Among the witnesses to be summoned are the Princess of Thurn and Taxis and Miss Mary Sheplar, of New York. The petition states that one witness valued the assets as high as $5,000,000 and another placed the value at $3,000,000.

In presenting the petition, the trustees said that while little credence was placed in the statements, they believed it their duty to have the witnesses questioned by the referee.

Representatives of approximately 1,700 creditors attended a hearing before the referee today, at which time the subject of claims was discussed.

CITE OTHER CLAIMS

The trustees of the bankrupt estate presented another petition on claims. It is alleged many claims were paid by securities and have not been stricken from the records. The discussion was to eliminate those who have been paid. The meeting was continued until March 22.

The former Uniontown millionaire is in contempt of the Fayette County courts at Uniontown over his failure to turn over certain assets involving about $125,000 to creditors in that county. He is believed to be in Ohio.

Einstein, 50, Flees Birthday Greetings

BERLIN, March 14.—(AP.)—Innumerable friends and well-wishers of Prof Albert Einstein, the famous scientist, called at his home today to pay their personal respects on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday—but he was nowhere to be found.

To all, his secretary had the same answer: "He stole out of town quietly two days ago with his wife and daughter to escape possible ovation."

Ethel Barrymore's Play Discontinued

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—Ethel Barrymore is still confined to her home with influenza, it was learned today when it was announced that "The Kingdom of God," her starring vehicle, would be discontinued.

23 FIREMEN OVERCOME BY SMOKE

MONESSEN, Pa., March 14. — Twenty-three firemen were overcome by smoke and one other severely injured in a fire truck wreck as flames swept a three-story brick building early today causing a loss estimated at $75,000.

The building, located at Fifth and Donner streets, was occupied by the Green Stores, Inc.

SPREAD THREATENED

Flames for a time threatened the entire business district.

Ollie Osborne, Charleroi fireman, suffered severe injuries to his right leg when the Charleroi truck skidded at the end of the Charleroi-Monessen bridge, en route to the fire, and crashed into a pole. He was taken home in an ambulance. The truck was badly damaged.

WIPES OUT STOCK

The fire started in the first floor of the structure and virtually wiped out the stock of the Green Stores, with a loss of $35,000.

On the second floor the McGinley Hat and Dress shop, the offices of Dr. R. E. Palmer and D. G. C. Farquhar, dentists, and J. M. Bell, osteopath, were damaged by smoke and water. The Cooper & Long shoe store, adjoining, also suffered heavy damage.

Firemen of Monessen, Charleroi, Donora and North Bellevernon battled the blaze for four hours before subduing it.

The building is owned by the First National Bank and Trust Company of Monessen.

MASONIC ROOM DAMAGED

The Masonic lodge room on the third floor was slightly damaged.

The firemen were overcome by dense smoke issuing from the basement but resumed their posts after receiving medical attention. The smoke filled the streets and other business places in the block and guests at the Grand Hotel, a block away, were forced to leave their rooms.

Showers to Continue, Temperature Near 50

April showers have stolen a March on the calendar, the weather man admitted today.

He would not hazard a guess at May flowers, but he did predict that the rain of yesterday would continue today, without much variation in the temperature, which was expected to hover near 50 degrees.

WOOSTER, O., March 14.—The state's surprise witness in the trial of Elias and Arthur Arnold, Orrville father and son, for child-stealing, brought the prosecution's case to a close shortly before the noon recess.

Mike Melich, who shared a cell with the elder Arnold in the Wayne County Jail, was the witness. He told of conversations between the two Arnolds and testified that Arnold, senior, had expressed fear that his son would confess to the charge of taking little Melvin Horst

LINDY ON WAY BACK TO U. S.

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 14.—(INS.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 12:02 p. m. (1:02 p. m., Eastern Standard time) on his flight from Mexico City to Brownsville, Tex. He stopped to refuel his tri-motored Ford plane.

Col. Lindbergh ended his visit to his fiancee, Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, when he hopped off for Brownsville, Tex., with 10 passengers and six sacks of mail at 8:30 a. m.

The plane in which he originally flew to Mexico City and in which he was injured when it somersaulted after a landing with one wheel missing, was left behind.

Although the Lone Eagle was in his usual taciturn mood when he first reached the flying field, he later thawed out and chatted with newspapermen and strangers. Just before he got into his plane he had become so affable that he was shaking hands.

Asked about plans for his wedding to Miss Morrow, daughter of United States Asbassador Dwight W. Morrow, Lindbergh replied: "I canont tell you anything about that now."

"When do you expect to come back?"

"I canont say that either," Lindbergh answered, "but I would like to come as often as possible."

MORTGAGE ON FORNEY RESIDENCE

Is Alfred W. Forney, missing slot machine king and reputed millionaire, "broke?"

Books of the county recorder's office today revealed a mortgage given by Forney on his palatial residence at 3344 Perrysville avenue for $28,000 in favor of the National Bank of America, 709 East Ohio street.

Forney signed the mortgage, the records disclose, in New York, March 8, before Arthur Rosenfeld, a notary, and in the presence of one M. V. Andrews.

VALUED AT $35,700

The mortgage was returned here and filed March 9 with the added signature of Forney's wife, Mrs. Tracey E. Forney.

The Forney home is valued at $35,700 on the books of the city assessor.

On the same day that Forney signed the mortgage, Dr. J. R. Emery signed an affidavit in New York setting forth that Forney was ill, which was produced before Judge James B. Drew this week in explanation of Forney's absence when called for trial in Criminal Court on 16 gambling charges.

At the National Bank of America, today, it was stated that the institution had taken a mortgage on the Forney home. Officers of the bank had no information, they said, as to whether the money eventually was paid to Forney.

McGINLEY COMING BACK

County Detective James McGinley was to return from New York this afternoon, after a fruitless quest for Forney. McGinley visited hotels, hospitals, sanitariums and clubs in search of the missing racketeer, without avail, he reported by telephone.

If found, Forney could not be brought back for trial, unless he chose to come, Chief of County Detectives George W. Murren admitted, as misdemeanors are not a basis for extradition.

Father of Question Mark's Pilot Dies

BOYERTOWN, Pa., March 14.—(AP.)—Charles B. Spatz, father of Maj. Carl Spatz, commander of the Question Mark when it made its world record endurance flight, died at his home here today. He was 63. Maj. Spatz is expected to arrive here by airplane late today from Wright Field, Ohio. Mr. Spatz until he recently retired was editor of the Berks County Democrat for 40 years.

Kidnaped?

MRS. BESSIE CLOSKY

WIFE MISSING, AUTO FOUND ABANDONED

Michael Closky, of 5870 Burchfield street, today expressed the belief that his wife, missing since Tuesday night, had been kidnaped.

Mrs. Bessie Closky, 23, the wife, disappeared shortly after dinner when she left the house to go for her father-in-law, J. L. Closky, who lives at 6305 Darlington road.

The car in which she was supposed to have gone for the elder Closky was found standing at the curb of her home hours after she left the house. The fact that the car is not missing supports his kidnaping theory, the husband contends.

The young woman, relatives told police Wednesday night, recently had been ill. She is a graduate of Crafton High School. She is described as being 5 feet 2 inches in height, with long bobbed hair and drooping blue eyes. Her weight is 110 pounds. When last seen, she wore a raccoon coat, black hat trimmed in blue, tan ensemble dress and tan shoes.

4 ARMIES MOVE ON TORREON

MEXICO CITY, March 14.—(AP.)—The drive designed by the Mexican government to break the backbone of the revolution in the north gathered momentum today.

Four federal columns moved from eastern Coahuila relentlessly upon Torreon, held by the principal rebel army under Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar.

Retreating rebels resorted to skirmishing and desultory fighting to harass their attackers and some casualties were reported. Generally speaking, their principal concern was to reach the comparative safety at Torreon, however.

REQUEST TO QUIT CLASS REFUSED

Victoria Jenkins, 16, pretty and popular Munhall High School girl, locked herself in her room today and as her mother pounded for admittance shot herself, according to a report to the coroner. She died in Homestead Hospital.

Victoria lived with her mother at 822 Ravine street, Munhall. She wanted to quit high school. Her mother objected. Today's tragedy followed discussion of the school question, more heated than usual, when the girl came home for lunch.

"She locked herself in her room," the near-distracted mother told Munhall police.

"I beat on the door. Then we heard the shot."

Police broke the door down. The girl lay outstretched on the floor. The single bullet had entered her left side, ranged upward to the lung. They carried her to Homestead Hospital. On the way she sank into a stupor, from which she never recovered.

Munhall police said the girl was popular with everyone in the borough.

"We all knew her," they said. "She was always smiling. Usually there was a crowd of boys and girls around her."

Pilot Killed, 1 Hurt In Airplane Crash

BELAIR, Md., March 14.—(INS.)—Jack W. Albright, Philadelphia, was killed last night when has plane crashed into a swamp near the Harford Hunt Club. W. D. Ilgenfritz, Darby, Pa., passenger, suffered two broken ribs. Ilgenfritz said he and Albright left Philadelphia in the afternoon for Baltimore. After landing at the airport there they decided to take a sightseeing trip. Heavy fog overtook them, he declared, and Albright attempted to land here. Stalling of the motor is believed to have caused the crash.

Rockefeller Party Quit Egypt for U. S.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 14.—(AP.)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his party started home today after completing a visit to Egypt and Palestine. When Mr. Rockefeller arrived at Cairo, January 21, he said he had come to Egypt for rest and sunshine. He left with his wish apparently completely gratified. He said he had been greatly impressed by his tour through Palestine.

"Feel Much Better," Foch Tells Doctors

PARIS, March 14.—(AP.)—Marshal Foch had a good night and told his doctors this morning he was feeling much better.

He is eating well, mostly fish, and continues to sit up daily. His temperature was subnormal today for the first time since he became ill—98.2, but his doctors said this was satisfactory. His pulse was 88.

DEFECTS IN FISHER COAL POLICE BILL CITED IN NOTE

The proposed legislation sponsored by Gov. John S. Fisher and introduced on Tuesday in the Senate and House of Representatives to correct the evils arising from the organization of coal and iron police, was declared defective in a resolution forwarded to the Governor today on behalf of the Constitutional Rights Committee of Pittsburgh.

The resolution, adopted at a meeting of the committee last night, proposes remedies for the defects seen in the proposed measure, among others the increasing of the proposed bonds by such police from $2,000 to $5,000.

Among the defects pointed out in the resolution are the failure to provide for an adequate bond, effective supervision or control of the industrial police by any public authority, or to limit the district of operation so that villages and towns, while within company property, may be excluded from such supervision.

The executive committee of the Constitutional Rights Committee, an organization comprising a large number of prominent residents of the Pittsburgh district, is composed of the following: Dr. Mont R. Gabbert, professor of philosophy, University of Pittsburgh, chairman; Dr. Percy G. Kammerer, dean of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral; Attorney William E. Schoyer, Dr. Francis D. Tyson, University of Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. Ralph B. Urmy, editor of Christian Advocate, and Attorney Ward Bonsall.

MAN KILLED, ONE WOUNDED IN QUARREL OVER LOST JOB

INCOME TAX IN '29 OVER 2 BILLION

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—About two per cent of the American people will pay Uncle Sam more than $500,000,000 tomorrow and at the same time file income tax returns representing a total payment of approximately $2,100,000,000 to be scattered over the year.

Owing to the rapidly mounting cost of government during the past year, the probability of heavy appropriations at the extra session of Congress and a heavy decline in receipts, the Treasury is watching the March 15 return anxiously.

SEE 1928 MARK

Although the corporation tax was reduced 1½ per cent, experts said that an increasing yield from individual taxes, and larger corporate business in 1928, probably would push total payments at least as high as the $515,669,000 collected last March.

From July 1 to March 12, income and corporation tax collections were $1,116,000,000, a drop of $20,000,000 from the same period of the preceding year. Unless gains are made in the remaining 3½ months, the 1928-1929 collection will be approximately $2,150,000,000.

While Treasury experts have maintained consistently that there would be a small surplus, it was admitted today that the margin of safety would be slight, and that there was an actual danger of a deficit if any material portion of the probable appropriations of the extra session of Congress are expendible before June 30.

SEES NO DEFICIT

"As receipts and expenditures are now running the government should come through June 30 without a deficit," Secretary Mellon said today.

Mellon remarked that the surplus probably would be less than $50,000,000, although final figures are not yet certain.

The $45,000,000 extra expenditures necessitated by the decision of the Supreme Court in the postal pay case will not be felt until the next fiscal year.

Secretary Mellon said he anticipated that the income tax receipts would be about the same as last year.

away from his home last December 27.

SUSPICIOUS ACTS

Although he always maintained his innocence, according to Melich's testimony, the elder Arnold acted suspiciously, and when conversing with his son in a cell above, Melich declared: "The old man stood on my cot and made me mad."

At one time, Melich testified, Elias Arnold and his son talked about caps. The witness said the father asked Arthur if he had worn a cap the night of Melvin's disappearance. They could not remember, it appeared from Melich's testimony, so Arnold, senior, told his son to whisper to his mother when she visited them, to burn all his caps at home, according to the witness.

WIFE ALIBI WITNESS

Mrs. Dorothy McHenry, Arnold's daughter, was the first defense witness. She told of her husband, the husband's sister and herself attending a basketball game in Fredericksburg the night of Melvin's disappearance and denied, under cross-examination by Special Prosecutor Walter Mougey, that her father had told her to "shut up and keep your nerve" when Orrville officers took them into custody. She also denied several other statements, one of which was a threat against Junior Hannah, the state's eight-year-old eye-witness, alleged to have been voiced in the presence of the prosecutor himself.

HENDEL, BOND RING 'HEAD,' FAILS TO SURRENDER SELF

Inspector of Detectives Frank Boyd waited up for the dawn, and Martin Hendel, alleged "money man" in a Canadian postal robbery, to come to his Perrysville avenue home today, but came the dawn only.

It was the second failure of Hendel to keep a promise to surrender in the holdup for which three suspects are already under arrest here. They are Harry Meyers, alias "Dopey" Davis; Catherine Meyers, of 204 East North avenue, and Mannie Steinberg, film salesman, of 7105 Penn avenue.

Hendel

Steinberg was released in $10,000 bond yesterday after he had, according to Boyd, "come clean." Detectives found $80,054 of the bonds in Steinberg's possession Monday, they alleged. Steinberg told detectives the bonds had been given to him by Hendel.

A man representing himself as Hendel called Boyd yesterday afternoon and promised to surrender himself several hours later. When the time arrived he telephoned again to set the hour as 6 a. m. today. At 6 a. m. he did not even telephone.

300 Hunting Boy Trapped by Blizzard

GORDON, Neb., March 14.—(INS.)—Three hundred rangers, who went out to search for 6-year-old William Reeves, trapped in a blinding blizzard on the plains of Northwestern Nebraska, near here, were marooned by the storm today.

Futile efforts have been made to get food to them. Trucks which started through last night to the Reeves ranch were blocked by six-foot drifts.

Attempts to get into communication with the second party were unsuccessful.

GIRL IS HURLED FROM AUTO

Trembling in terror, Louise "Bobby" Cooke, 15, lay in Mercy Hospital today while South Hills police hunted two thugs who last night dragged her into a car, and two hours later left her lying beside Library road, near Library.

At the girl's home, 109 Craighead street, Beltzhoover, Mrs. Frieda Cooke, the mother, lay seriously ill. "Bobby" was on her way home from a doctor's office with medicine when the men seized her.

"Bobby" is a student in South Hills High School. Students, teachers and parents residing in the neighborhood were aroused over the outrage and a country-wide search for the fiends was started today.

Physicians refused police the opportunity of talking with the girl until her condition improves.

They hope she obtained the license number of the automobile.

The girl was found by Robert Long, of Library. He carried her to a Library drug store where first-aid treatment was administered. She then was removed to Mercy Hospital.

DECRIES JUDGE "BOOSTING"

Attorney Joseph Stadtfeld, president of the Allegheny County Bar Association, today issued a statement in which he decried what he interpreted as a political campaign by State Senator Frank J. Harris "and others" to persuade Gov. Fisher to appoint Judge Sylvester J. Snee, of the County Court, to Orphans Court.

Stadtfeld pointed out that Gov. Fisher had promised to study the recommendations of the Allegheny County Bar Association, which is conducting a referendum to determine the most popular lawyer for the vacancy created by Judge J. J Miller's death. Stadtfeld described Judge Snee as honest and able, but the actions of his friends as improper.

At the same time Stadtfeld criticized a feature of the proposed Metropolitan Charter which would set up a minor judiciary of 30 members, to be named by the County Court, the Common Pleas Court of the new Board of Commissioners. To avert "an oligarchy," Stadtfeld urged a rewriting of this feature so that the Governor, with the approval of the State Senate, name these minor jurists.

CHOOSING JURY IN THAW TRIAL

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—A bespectacled wisp of a man was escorted by blue-coated officialdom through the crowd jamming the entrance to a certain courtroom this afternoon.

The scene was the threshold to where the "humiliation" suit for $100,000 brought by Marcia Estardus—Mae O'Neill when she's home in the Bronx—against Harry K. Thaw, of Pittsburgh, Broadway and Matteawan, is being heard.

The unostentatious citizen was a juror in the case.

"Lucky Bird," mumbled one of the jammed outside the courtroom.

Four jurors already have been chosen.

When the box is filled with 12 men tried and true, the plaintiff will attempt to show that she has been humiliated by Thaw because he bit her "here and there" and spanked her with a hairbrush. All of which is said to have occurred at a New Year's Eve party in Thaw's New York apartment.

Thaw is said to plan to call Texas Guinan to prove he was at her club on the night in question.

Photographs of the alleged bites inflicted on Marcia's anatomy will be offered in evidence.

MELLON TO FIX FATE OF BILLS WITH GRUNDY

By W. I. GRUNDISH,
Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG March 14.—The fate of virtually every important measure that has been introduced in the Legislature since its opening in January will be decided over the week-end at a series of conferences in Philadelphia.

At these conferences, two men will decide one problem after another. One man is W. L. Mellon, former state chairman, and the other is Joseph R. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

GAS TAX DECISION

There are 208 members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There are 50 members of the State Senate.

Nevertheless, the two men mentioned, plus whomever they care to summon as advisors, will determine these questions:

Whether the voters of Pennsylvania will pay a 4 cent gasoline tax instead of a 3 cent levy.

Whether the residents of the state, who gave a majority of more than 400,000 in favor of voting machines, will be permitted to use such machines.

METRO BILL INCLUDED

Whether the voters of Pittsburgh will be allowed to have the Pittsburgh metropolitan district charter, with whatever changes are deemed necessary.

Whether the administration coal and iron police bill will be approved.

Whether the tax on anthracite will be repealed.

Whether the $50,000,000 soldier bonus issue will be approved.

Whether the blue laws of 1794 are to be modified to meet modern conditions.

LEGISLATORS UNCERTAIN

In other words, the conferees will decide the fate of every bill in the House or Senate. With April 18 fixed as the date for adjournment, the General Assembly has done little more than collect salaries and mileage allowance, not because the members are not willing to work, but because they are not sure what the leaders want them to do.

The conferences in Philadelphia this week-end will tell the story. It is an even be[illegible] the least, that the members [illegible]y every decision made in [illegible]stern city by Mellon, Grun[illegible] her leaders.

COURT FIGHT TODAY LIKELY TO RE-AIR STILLMAN CASE

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—Another public airing of the ancient marital troubles of James A. Stillman and his wife, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, loomed today when the banker's attorneys argue a motion in the $500,000 slander suit instituted against Stillman by Fred Beauvais, Indian guide named as co-respondent when Stillman sued his wife for divorce.

The motion to be argued today is for a change of venue. Yesterday's preliminary skirmish resulted in the issuance of a "show cause" order on Stillman, Florence H. ("Flo") Leeds and two others—"John Doe" and "Richard Roe." The Indian guide wants the last three named co-defendants with Stillman in the suit. No reason for this action had been made public early today.

Flo Leeds

"Flo" Leeds was named as an affinity of the banker during the divorce suit. It was Mrs. Stillman's success in carrying the fight to her husband and securing a judgment that he had been unfaithful that won the case for her. Afterwards the Stillmans were reconciled.

The case was settled on that point by the appellate division of the Supreme Court. Mrs. Stillman's guilt, if any, was not considered.

In Stillman's answer to the Beauvais suit, filed yesterday, he says:

"Upon appeal the appellate division struck out the findings that the defendant, Anne U. Stillman, was innocent of the charges made against her."

Stillman's answer also advances the defense that the suit is barred by the statute of limitations and that the papers and records in the divorce case are privileged.

9 DEAD, 12 HURT, TORNADO TOLL

LIBERTY, S. C., March 14.—(INS.)—Nine dead, more than 12 seriously injured, several not expected to live, and property damage estimated at $50,000 was the toll today of a tornado which dipped down over a little community near here last night.

D. N. Garrett, a deputy sheriff, his wife and two sons, J. C. Garrett, 18, and Edward, 9, and a daughter, Bertie, 11, were crushed to death when their home collapsed.

Nearby, the home of another Garrett family crumbled and killed Mrs. Tillman Garrett, and three daughters, all in their 'teens.

The damage was centered in a narrow radius.

Texas Beauty Sues Ex-Father-in-Law

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—A $50,000 alienation of affections suit was filed in the Supreme Court today by Mrs. Jeannette Kraus, former Texas beauty contest winner, against her foromer father-in-law, George Kraus, and Mrs. Grace Mytinger, a wealthy Texas divorcee. She charges that the elder Kraus and Mrs. Mytinger stole the love of her husband, Emanuel. Mrs. Kraus secured a divorce last March.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 4.—Chief of Police George Buchwald is playing "daddy" today to a baby girl found wrapped in a blanket on the steps of the Bertschey Funeral Home here by Officers Charles Flanagan and William West. The baby is about 2 weeks old.

Sloboda, Playwright, Dead of Starvation

VIENNA, March 14.—(INS.)—Karl Sloboda, author of "The Tea Table" and other successful plays, which were produced all over Europe and America, is dead. The cause of his death was officially given as starvation. Sloboda lost his fortune during the inflation period and his new dramas were no longer accepted by producers.

HOOVER OPENS TAX REFUNDS

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Hoover today ordered that all future tax refunds from the Treasury in excess of $20,000 be thrown open to public inspection.

Thus, by a stroke of his pen, Hoover accomplished that which a coalition of Democrats and insurgent Republicans in Congress have unsuccessfully fought for in recent sessions.

The announcement from the White House stated that the President's action was taken at the suggestion of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who has heretofore been accounted an opponent of publicity for these refunds, and who because of that attitude has been an incessant target for congressional sharpshooting in recent sessions.

Catholic Conference Opened at Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va., March 14.—(AP)—Judge John Coniff, of Wheeling, and the Rev. Dr. John J. Ryan, of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., were speakers at last night's session of the seventh annual Catholic conference, which opened here yesterday. The convention will close with a banquet tonight.

Speakers at the opening session included the Rev. J. J. Curran, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and P. F. Fagan.

SEWICKLEY SLAYER FLEES

County detectives and Sewickley police today were searching for Sam Tronzo, of Straight street, Sewickley, in connection with the slaying last night of Vianese Sgroi, 47, of Crescent avenue, and the shooting of James Ammendola, 56, of Dixon road, Sewickley. Sgroi, shot in the chest and abdomen, died on the way to the Sewickley Valley Hospital, where Ammendola, wounded in his chest and left leg, is confined.

Tronzo and Sgroi, police said, quarreled over a job. Tronzo, the officers alleged, accused Sgroi of being the cause of his discharge as a gardener on a Sewickley Heights estate where Sgroi also was employed as gardener.

Sgroi was returning home from work when Tronzo confronted him. Each drew a revolver, police said. Witnesses reported hearing seven shots fired, but were unable to say who fired first. Ammendola was passing at the time and was struck by two bullets.

A guard was placed about Tronzo's home, where his wife, in an hysterical state, told police that her husband had not returned from work. Sgroi leaves his wife and five children, all living in Italy.

from there concentration of the huge federal army which he relied upon to take Torreon and smash the rebellion with a decisive blow.

Forces of Gen. Calles engaged in subjugation of Durango fought with a small rebel force about half way between Canitas and Durango City yesterday and killed 14 rebels and wounded about 49 others. Seven were taken prisoner and executed.

ABANDON TRAINS

Aviators scouting the advance from Saltillo to Torreon reported the fleeing rebels had abandoned their trains for lack of fuel, in one case turning over coaches and locomotive to block the track.

Troops of Gen. Andreu Almazan and Gen. Eulogio Ortiz advanced toward Torreon from Saltillo and Monterey along a northern route, capturing the puebla of Hipolito. The column of Gen. Caturino Cedillo followed the highway from Saltillo toward Torreon.

From southeast of Zacatecas, Gen. Lazaro Cardenas led a column toward the rebel stronghold.

REBELS IN SQUABBLE

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 14.—(AP.)—Presidente Municipale Rogerio Loreto of Agua Prieta, who has been considered one of the leaders of the revolution in northern Sonora, and other Mexican rebel officers today sought refuge on the American side of the border.

There was a reported breach between rebel civil and military authorities at Agua Prieta, which was said to have placed that town in an uncertain status in the revolutionary movement.

Ex-President Faces Mexican Execution

MEXICO CITY, March 14.—(INS.)—Eulalio Gutierrez, who rose from a carpenter's bench to the presidency of the Mexican republic, is expected to face a firing squad at sunset because of his connection with the present revolution. He was captured "in rebellion" at Concepcion Del Oro, Coahuila, by the forces of Gen. Ignacio Otero, one of his old companions in arms in the revolutionary days of 1912-14.

Skeleton Identified, Wife Murder Hinted

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—(AP.)—The skeleton of a woman found beside a road near here Sunday was identified yesterday by means of a plate of false teeth as that of Mrs. Ella Brady Espinos, 57, of East Chicago, Ind., who disappeared in September while on a honeymoon with her 19-year-old Mexican husband, Rudolph Espinos. They left on a motor honeymoon trip to Texas a few days after their wedding and five days later her car was found abandoned in St. Louis. Espinos never has been found. Her children said Mrs. Espinos had $900 when she left home. Police here said her skull had been crushed.

GAMBLER CALLS MAYOR THIEF

EBENSBURG, Pa., March 14.—"I wanted to know if this man can rob me. He took thousands of dollars of my money and did not give me what he promised," testified Jonathan Rager, confessed gambler, in Criminal Court here today in the trial of Mayor Joseph Cauffiel, of Johnstown.

"I am not interested in his impeachment or removal from office," declared Rager, "I only want to know if he can rob me."

"PROTECTION" LACKING

Cauffiel is alleged to have promised Rager immunity from police raids, but failed to provide it.

Rager's affidavit started the investigation that resulted in indictment of Cauffiel.

Rager testified he gave Cauffiel 40 per cent of the net profits of a gambling establishment in the downtown district of Johnstown.

Cauffiel's case is expected to reach the jury by Saturday. He is being tried before Judge John E. Evans, on charges of extortion, perjury, conspiracy, misdemeanor in office.

Rager is charged jointly with Cauffiel with conspiracy and gambling law violations.

TELLS OF PAYMENTS

Rager testified for the prosecution in Cauffiel's trial and said he had given the mayor $10,600 during the executive's campaign in 1927 and at another time had paid $15,000 to the mayor as his share of receipts from Rager's gambling activities.

Edward E. Levergood, alderman in the Fourth ward, Johnstown, and A. O. Schubert, a constable of the Thirteenth ward of the same city, went on trial on charges of extortion. The charges followed an audit by the county controller.

GAMBLING JURY OUT 24 HOURS

A jury, deliberating in Criminal Court more than 24 hours, late today still failed to agree after having returned to the courtroom three times for further instructions.

The jury is arguing over Jim Conley, of 1229 Monterey street, and George Brown, of 11 Lacock street, who are charged with holding up 35 gamblers in the "Buzzard's Roost" at 87 Cherry street, Etna.

The defendants contended that the charges are false, that what they really did was to object strenuously to "crooked work" by the poker dealer.

Corry Girl Vanishes On Errand to Bank

CORRY, March 14.—Police of Corry and residents of nearby territory have been asked to aid in finding Gladys Mumford, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mumford, who has been missing from her home since Wednesday. The mother states that the girl left for the bank on an errand, and did not return. She is described as being 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighs about 98 pounds, and wore a dark blue suit and wine-colored hat the time of her disappearance.

VINDICATION PROBABLE FOR LUTHERAN MINISTER

The Pittsburgh Lutheran Synod Committee investigating charges of disloyalty faced by the Rev. George H. Hegele, former pastor of Peace Lutheran Church of Greenock and St. John's Church of Dravosburg, today indicated throught its chairman, the Rev. W. Seiberling, of Homestead, that the charges have not been substantiated.

The committee, which conducted a hearing into the charges, will make a formal recommendation to the Rev. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, synodical president.

Rev. Hegele

In connection with the reports that his congregations sought his resignations, the Rev. Hegele made the following statement:

"I never was ousted from my parish, nor banished from my synod. I resigned voluntarily on December 1, 1928, to take effect March 1, 1929—called a legal meeting for acceptance—and published same under date of December 15, 1928.

"I resigned Dravosburg-St. John's Church, which I organized, voluntarily on February 24, 1929.

"I never preached any 'political sermons' from either pulpit."

Suspect in $47,000 Theft in 1927 Caught

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 14.—(AP.)—A nation-wide search for William J. Stevenson, accused by police of the theft of $47,000 in bonds in Los Angeles two years ago, ended here last night when Stevenson was arrested at a downtown hotel. He came here two weeks ago and since had established himself as sales manager of the Canada-Biltmore Club, across the border in Ontario, Canada, with offices in this city. A telegram from Los Angeles County stated Stevenson was wanted there on a charge of grand larceny and for jumping bail of $10,000.

$ 5	Union National Bank	1,187

The books designated may be presented during business hours any time within a week, but not later than 5 p. m. Thursday, March 21.

Any bank in Greater Pittsburgh having savings or thrift accounts may have its passbook numbers included in these thrift gift lists by a request from a bank official to the Sun-Telegraph Thrift Department.

Watch tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph for more information of interest to savings bank depositors.

When you withdraw money from the savings bank, do not take all. Leave a "nest egg." Keep the account open.

Mrs Michael Antkiewicz, of 2821 Penn avenue, as a school girl some years ago, opened a savings account in the Union Savings Bank. When she left school, in 1923, she was tempted to close the account, but instead she prudently left a "nest egg" of 64 cents. As a result, she is $50 richer today, for her account, No. 109,887, happened to be chosen for a deposit of that amount in the Sun-Telegraph's campaign to reward thrift.

FISHER SIGNS TWO BILLS

HARRISBURG, March 14.—(AP.)—The Bidelspacher bill giving literary, religious, charitable and beneficial societies or organizations authority to hold real or personal estates in value up to $350,000 was signed by Gov. Fisher yesterday. The present amount which may be held is $30,000.

A companion piece of legislation is now before the Legislature providing for the holding of a greater amount if consent is granted by a court of common pleas.

The Governor also approved the Weidemann bill which provides that no township of the first class shall be divided into more than 15 wards. If a township now has more than this number, all wards would be abolished on January 1, 1930, and the terms of the commissioners terminated. In the meantime the Court of Quarter Sessions is empowered to name commissioners for redistricting the township.

Under the provisions of the law, one commissioner will be elected from each ward in the fall of 1929, unless the redistricting has not been completed. In that event 15 commissioners would be elected for a term of two years, unless the township has been divided.

SOLDIER HELD ON OWN PLEA

Tired of dodging the military authorities and troubled in conscience, Donald J. Swaney, 25, of Franklin, Pa., told Magistrate Leo Rothenberg today in Central Police Court he wanted to be returned to Franklin to answer a charge of passing a worthless $10 check.

Swaney, who is married, said he was in the Army for five months and after a furlough because of illness, became "A. W. O. L" when he failed to return. He walked into the North Side Station yesterday and gave himself up. He was ordered held while the police communicated with Army and Franklin authorities.

Seek Rum Padlocks In New Kensington

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 14.—Padlocking of two clubs, a poolroom and two stores in New Kensington, where liquor is said to have been purchased repeatedly, is sought in petitions for preliminary injunctions filed by the district attorney and the state attorney general here yesterday. Those named are Walter and John Zawodniak, Polish National Alliance Club; Joseph Kralewski, Polish Musical and Literary Society; poolroom operated by Peter Aresto and owned by Joseph and Martha Haradnowitz; confectionery store operated by A. J. Whitfield and owned by Thomas Kajut, and a store operated by John V. Jajut and Joseph Orzulak and owned by Mary Traczyki. Hearings are set for Friday morning.

PASTOR IS ABSOLVED IN KRESGE WEDDING

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(AP.)—After a discussion behind closed doors, the Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal Conference yesterday decided that the Rev. B. C. Dahms unintentionally had violated the discipline of the church when he performed the ceremony last October at the marriage of Sebastian S. Kresge, chain store owner, and Mrs. Clara K. Swain.

The minister made apology for having married the couple, it was announced, and the conference recommended that the charges against him be dismissed. At the same time it "regretted the unintentional violation of the church discipline."

Mr. Dahms is pastor of the Mountain View Church in the Pocono Mountains near Stroudsburg, Pa. Mrs. Swain, he said, was a member of his church at the time he assumed the pastorate two years ago.

The chain store magnate had been divorced twice and Mrs. Swain once, and their marriage was brought to the attention of the conference because it was alleged to have violated Methodist discipline.

Elks Elect Riefer As Exalted Ruler

SPIES IN PRISON CAUSE FURORE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP.)—The difference in views between Warden John Snook, of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary and the Department of Justice over use by the department of "under cover" agents in the prison may result in congressional action.

Senator Borah, (Rep.), Idaho, is expected to confer today with Attorney General Mitchell on the case. The department has said that if Snook's resignation is submitted it will be accepted. He is understood to be ready to submit it if the sole complaint against him is his objection to the use of "under cover" agents.

While not prepared to take sides, Senator Borah is outspokenly opposed to the "spy" system in the federal prisons.

Representative Boylan (Dem.), New York, a member of a House committee which investigated the federal prisons, has declared also against a continuance of the "under cover" system.

Three Jail Breakers Batter Hole in Wall

BECKLEY, W. Va., March 14.—(AP.)—Three men escaped from the Raleigh County jail today by battering a hole through a brick wall. State and county officers were unable to find any trace of the fugitives.

The men were Mingo Farley, indicted for first degree murder; Robert Chapman, held in connection with a holdup, and Frank Fox, held on a prohibition law violation charge.

Alimony Overdue, Court Cites Pastor

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 14.—The Rev. Floyd Ash, former pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church at Uhrichsville, has been cited by Common Pleas Judge E. E. Lindsay to explain arrearance or three months in alimony. The divorce suit started by Mrs. Laura Ash, of Pittsburgh, will be tried here March 20.

Kidnaped Wheeling School Boy Sought

WHEELING, W. Va., March 14.—Police are searching for Francis Evans, 11, pupil of Central High School, who disappeared mysteriously from school last Friday. Jasper Evans, father of the boy, believes he was kidnaped by a party in an automobile. Scholars claim that he was seen to enter a machine.

Walker and Aides Away; New York Mayorless

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—New York was without an official mayor yesterday for the first time in years.

Mayor James J. Walker departed for Albany to confer with state officers concerning the transit situation. In his absence, the president of the Board of Aldermen is empowered to take the position of acting mayor and in his absence the city charter provides that the vice chairman of the Board of Aldermen shall be acting mayor.

Joseph McKee, president of the Board of Aldermen, and Charles McManus, vice-chairman of the board, both are in Florida on vacations, so the city was mayorless.

Jury Asks Dismissal For 85 Policemen

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(AP)—Dismissal of one police captain, a former captain and 33 detectives, because they failed to explain satisfactorily how they acquired large sums of money, was recommended yesterday by the special grand jury investigating bottlegging, gang murders and police corruption. The grand jury's report declared the investigators had found the accumulated wealth of some of those named was obtained while they served on Unit No. 1, a prohibition enforcement squad organized by General Smedley D. Butler when he was director of public safety, or in police districts where vice and crime flourished.

P. R. R. to Retain Youngwood Yards

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 13.—Setting at rest rumors of the closing of the Youngwood yards of the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, officials declare that only 20 men are to be laid off March 15 when the boiler wash department is moved from Youngwood to Shire Oaks on the same division.

Judge Sees Killing And Jails Speeders

NEW YORK, March 14.—(INS.)—Explaining his action in jailing 25 speeders yesterday, Judge George F. Ewald today said he had seen a little girl crushed to death under an auto being driven by a drunken driver and that from now on he was going to "curb these potential murderers."

Aged Man, Nearly Blind, Kills Himself

Twelve years ago William J. Davidson, working in the borough hall at Swissvale, was struck in the face by a bolt.

The injury cost Davidson the sight of one eye. Since then his other eye had been weakening. These last few months he was hardly able to see.

One month ago Davidson transferred ownership of a lot to his son, James B. Davidson.

Last night the father, 74, was alone in his home at 2428 Waverly avenue, Swissvale. He took from a drawer a revolver, police report, shot himself and died immediately.

U. S. POSTPONES DECISION ON GRAFT CHARGE

Decision was reserved by the United States commissioner today on whether or not Sheriff Arno McClellan, Greene County, shall be held to the United States grand jury for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

Tony Sidari, 613 Broad street, Belle Vernon, was the principal witness introduced by the government. He testified that although on "several occasions I made presents of $200 to Sheriff McClellan, he made several raids on my stills and warned me to stay out of Greene County."

On one occasion, Sidari declared, he went to the sheriff's home and gave $200 to Mrs. McClellan. He also told of gifts to Arch (Red) Negleman, at that time a prohibition enforcement officer, and Albert Scales, recently suspended by Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington.

"Negleman told me to go ahead, that he'd protect me," Sidari testified. "On one occasion he gave me a 100-gallon still."

There are 16 defendants, including Scales, the sheriff and his wife, in the conspiracy which prohibition agents declare had ramifications extending into Greene, Washington and Fayette counties.

LIQUOR TRUCKS SEIZED

Prohibition agents seized two trucks loaded with moonshine and arrested the drivers, they reported today.

Joseph Brown, of 744 North Negley avenue, was arrested after agents had trailed a truck loaded with 15 five-gallon cans of liquor into a garage in the rear of the house, they said.

Rosario Ciringione, 314 Pearl street, was taken into custody at Penn avenue and Twentieth street while driving a truck bearing 11 five-gallon cans of moonshine, according to the agents' report. Both men were released in $1,000 bond for a hearing.

Arsenal in Chicago For Walrus Hunt, Owners Say

CHICAGO, March 14.—(AP)—If the open season on Canadian walrus is at hand, two taxi drivers may have established adequate reason for the munitions they had laid by in their North Clark street room. Deputy Police Commissioner Stege and three assistant state's attorneys found the arsenal yesterday in raiding the quarters of Dallas Such, and his brother Carl. The room contained two rifles, two shotguns, five revolvers, several knives and a case of assorted cartridges. The curiosity of the raiders was only partly allayed by the explanation of the Such brothers that they planned to journey up to Canada soon to hunt walrus. Stege said he would hold them for investigation.

SEGRAVE, WHITE QUIT RACING

International News Service.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 14.—(INS.)—The tragic climax of the international speed tests, which resulted in death to Lee Bible, racing driver, and Charles Traub, a cameraman, today plunged officials of Daytona Beach into deepest gloom and brought this year's death-defying races to an abrupt close.

Bible, a mechanic in a Daytona Beach garage, was killed yesterday afternoon, while thundering down the nine-mile ocean speedway in The Triplex, the seven-ton American car he was driving in an attempt to shatter the world's automobile speed record, set Monday at 231.36 miles an hour, by Major H. O. D. Segrave, of England.

HITS WET SPOT

Bible's powerful machine skidded on a wet spot on the beach course, swerved violently, leaped into the air, struck a sand dune and rolled back onto the beach. He was traveling at a speed of 202 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Reports that tire trouble caused the tragedy could not be verified.

"I am through with the racing game forever," said J. M. White, wealthy Philadelphia sportsman and owner of the Triplex, this morning.

"I would not have had this accident happen for all the records in the world," White said.

TAX CUT DRIVE SWEEPING CITY

The protest against the tax on earned incomes, gaining momentum daily, is sweeping Pittsburgh.

Local interest in the country-wide movement for the downward revision of the levy on salaries, commissions and wages is explained by the fact that this revenue district shows the largest per capita income tax. A large proportion of this is collected from earned incomes.

Thomas A. Dunn

The Rotary Club of Pittsburgh yesterday took cognizance of the campaign carried on by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph when Thomas A. Dunn, general manager of the Consolidated Ice Company, gave notice that a resolution indorsing lower taxes on earned incomes would be presented at the Rotary meeting March 20.

CALLS TAX UNJUST

"This is a matter that should receive the consideration of every Rotarian in the country," said Mr. Dunn. "Every business man knows that the present tax on earned incomes is unjust, and every salaried man and wage worker feels that it is unfair because it takes money right out of his pocket. When this resolution comesup before the Rotary Club, there should not be a dissenting vote, and then it should go to National Rotary for indorsement throughout the United States."

Dick Powell, master of ceremonies at the Enright Theater, yesterday caught the fancy of his audience when he stopped in the midst of his performance and commenced writing on a sheet of paper.

"I am not filling in my income tax return," he explained, "but am signing a petition to Congress to reduce the taxes on you and me so that we shall have something left out of our salaries and wages. Everybody on this side of the footlights is signing, and if the people out there in the audience and out yonder in the street show the same interest in their own well-being, the lawmakers in Washington will cut this tax in time for us to celebrate our freedom from the burden on the Fourth of July."

BANKER SIGNS

Among the great mass of voluntary petitions received at the office of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph yesterday was one bearing the signatures of J. Wilse McCartney, of the Savings and Trust Company, of Indiana, Pa., and nine other officers and employes of the bank. Many other banks were represented in individual petitions sent in.

At the same time a resolution is being prepared for action at the coming meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Banking. This resolution will be presented by Samuel B. Calhoon, president of the chapter. The matter also has been taken up for presentation before the national body of bankers.

INSURANCE MEN AID

Insurance men, taking up the petitions individually, have sent in many signatures and action is under way before several organizations of underwriters. The agency of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Company of Aliquippa, Pa., signed up 100 per cent of its officers and agents. Among Pittsburgh insurance men petitions are in circulation and those who have the papers in charge declare they have not met a refusal to sign.

James G. Parsons, of 1821 Duquesne street, McKeesport, has sent in a large petition bearing signatures of millworkers, foremen, clerks and men of a wide diversity of occupations. A petition among Pittsburgh lawyers is being circulated by Attorney J. P. Meyhoff.

RUSSIA UNABLE TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

SOVIET ADMITS FAILURE, RESTORES STATE CONTROL

Letters entering plans in the Hearst $25,000 temperance prize contest have been received at New York from all parts of Europe and the civilized world—even from Finland, the only country outside of the United States where an attempt at absolute prohibition still remains on the statute books.

One of the most interesting discussions of prohibition and of the temperance contest comes from F. Thalman, No. 42, Jubilaumstrasse, Berne, Switzerland, formerly of Russia, who tells a moving tale of attempts to enforce prohibition under the czaristic, Kerensky and Soviet governments.

The editors of the temperance contest will let Mr. Thalman, a business man, tell his story in his own way:

By F. THALMAN.

"Under the title 'How Could America be Made Dry?' there appeared on January 9, 1929, in the 'Bund,' the leading paper of Berne, an article stating that the American automobile manufacturer, Durant, had offered a prize of $25,000 for the best suggestion in reference to the above title, and that 23,300 replies had been received.

"Of these replies 187 recommended capital punishment for violations of the prohibition law, 188 recommended penitentiary, 73 public whipping, 60 rack-torture of the Middle Ages, etc.

"As the answers in general were not satisfactory, the article continues, the newspaper king, W. R. Hearst, had offered also $25,000, but for the best suggestion of means to induce most effectively the public to be temperate.

"To answer this question one should know the land, people and customs, and to my regret I lack this knowledge, as I am a Russian Swiss, and have resided for the greater part of my life in Russia. I will relate to you my experience with prohibition and monopoly in that country.

"I was born in 1882, in Moscow, soon of a dye-plant owner. I went to school in Moscow and as a small boy had the opportunity to mingle with laborers, to study their life and habits, and to appreciate the burden of alcohol consumption.

"After the death of my father the factory, which had existed for 30 years, was liquidated as I did not feel inclined to this work. I became a merchant.

"In the latter capacity, being the commercial manager and partowner of a smelting plant with about 450 laborers, in the district of Kaluga, I was in constant touch with laborers and they came always directly to me with all their worries and needs.

Too Much Drinking

"The plant depended on the sobriety of workers and in reality we worked only four days per week, because Saturday went to payment and receiving of wages, Sunday to drinking, and Monday to suffering from the aftermath.

"This brought us to the idea of providing a play and reading place for the laborers, where shows were presented: we participated in laborers' games of chess and checkers and tried in every way to hold them back from drinking.

"At that time the World War burst on us, which at the beginning was very unpopular, as the people had no hatred against Germany or the Germans. Because the mobilizations were almost always followed by drunken riots, the czar issued a decree of absolute prohibition. How did this prohibition work out?

"Before the prohibition, Russia had a government monopoly and it required a bold decision to give up this monopoly which was the largest source of income of the state, and at this time when the money was most needed. Everyone knows the sayings that for war one needs money, money and once more money.

"The distilleries, which had been working at full capacity, were laid idle; the owners were compensated for their losses and only a few distilleries could continue work on reduced scale. Spirits and wines were sold only on doctors' permits. It is easily understood, that the circles friendly with doctors could easily obtain their alcohol and began to do a thriving business or indulged in drinking.

"This was possible only to the 'bourgeoisie.' The laborer and the peasant, who were so unexpectedly deprived of alcohol, devised other means to obtain the beverage which had become for them so indispensable. They distilled their own spirits from potatoes.

"The saying is true, that the law is made to be broken. At least in Russia people followed this rule and pretty soon every peasant made his own liquor. Even the consequences of drinking denatured alcohol, which evidenced themselves in blindness and trembling of hands, did not frighten the people.

"The government (the czarist government had been in the meantime deposed by Kerensky and the latter by Bolshevism) did not see its way to enforce the prohibition, notwithstanding that the Communists in imposing punishment were exceeding the inquisition and the rule of Ivan the Terrible.

Soviet Fails

"It has been said that they have taken people and undressed them in the severest frost, then poured cold water over them and locked them up in thin wooden sheds where they froze to death.

"But the Soviet government found out that it couldn't manage the situation and as the need for money became more and more acute, the government decided to re-establish the alcohol monopoly in order to fill the coffers of the state. Through the bootleg distillation, the state had lost the greater part of its income and gained nothing.

"I am convinced that now, with the state monopoly and also before prohibition, the consumption is and wasn't any higher than in the period under prohibition. Forbidden fruit is the sweetest. We see the pupils smoking secretly, but when smoking is permitted they have no more interest in it. The same is true regarding alcohol.

"Draconian measures, like capital punishment, public flogging, the rack of the middle ages, etc., should not be used in a cultured country like America. I would rather suggest that the culprits should be deprived of their political honors and rights or be placed under guardianship in case the state shouldn't want to repeal the prohibition law and permit alcohol consumption.

"In the long run, the state will have to yield anyway, as, in the final analysis, not the law, but the people are the state. How can America accomplish it, if even Soviet Russia had to capitulate? and Russia certainly wasn't particular regarding the means of enforcement!"

PA. DEMOCRATIC WOMEN ELECT

LANCASTER, Pa., March 14.—(AP.)—With the election of officers, the Pennsylvania State Federation of Democratic Women concluded its annual meeting here yesterday.

The present president, secretary and treasurer, were re-elected without opposition, but a slight contest over the selection of vice presidents developed with names of eight candidates being placed in nomination. Out of the eight, Mrs. Charles M. Howell, of Lancaster; Mrs. Lucy D. Winston, Mechanicsburg, Cumberland County; Mrs. C. B. Vaux, Philadelphia and Miss Constance Erdman, Allentown, were elected.

Those renamed for another term, were Mrs. Lynn Perry, of Easton, president; Mrs. J. Campbell Roberts, Harrisburg, secretary and Mrs. Harvey Dornblaser, of Pennfield, treasurer.

Among nominees for vice president, were Mrs. M. A. Felix, Mrs. W. P. Allen and Mrs. A. K. Shaw, of Pittsburgh.

15 YEARS TO PAY FOR YOUR NEW HOME

The Peoples Savings and Trust Company of Pittsburgh Now Introduces Its New

15 Year Monthly Payment Mortgage

IT is designed particularly for thrifty families of moderate incomes, who already have saved enough to consider building a modern new home—giving them 15 years in which to pay off the mortgage in monthly installments, like rent.

For each $1,000 of mortgage money borrowed, our new plan requires the payment of only $8.44 monthly, which includes both interest charges and monthly reductions on the principal of the mortgage. This automatically pays both the mortgage and 6% interest charges at the end of 15 years. For example, on a $5,000 mortgage, you pay monthly only $42.20.

Each month the amount of the interest automatically decreases as the payments on the principal increase. You pay interest only for the exact time the money is used.

Following are the rules which govern the operation of the plan:

(a) Title and mortgage to be approved by our attorneys.
(b) Mortgage not to exceed 60 per cent of our appraisal value of ground and building.
(c) No mortgage for more than $20,000.
(d) Mortgages on new homes only.
(e) No commissions or fees, except title examination and small appraiser's fees.

The Peoples Savings and Trust Company offers this plan in the belief that wide-spread home ownership is the solid foundation of community prosperity.

7 Rules for $25,000 Temperance Contest

The purpose of the contest is to obtain a practicable plan, as a substitute for prohibition, which will secure better actual temperance conditions, which will be more easily possible of enforcement by state and federal authorities, which will offer less encouragement to crime and tend less to debauch the public service, and which will not so outrage and violate the fundamental rights and personal liberties of American citizens.

The rules and conditions of the contest are simple and are as follows:

1—Every person is entitled to enter the contest, but no one person may submit more than one plan.

2—The practicable plan proposed as a substitute for prohibition must be set forth in an article containing not more than 1,000 words.

3—This contest will close April 30, 1929, and no plan which has not been mailed and postmarked on or before that date will be considered.

4—The articles submitted in the contest will be judged by a committee of eminent Americans, the personnel of the committee to be announced at a later date.

5—The full prize of $25,000 will be awarded to the contestant submitting the best plan as a practical temperance substitute for prohibition.

6—If other plans not awarded the first prize shall still be considered worthy of some compensation by the committee, a second prize of $5,000 and other prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

7—Articles submitting a plan to be considered in this contest may be sent to the temperance contest committee, care of the editor of any one of the following Hearst newspapers: Albany Times Union, Atlanta Georgian, Baltimore News, Boston Evening American, Chicago Herald and Examiner, Detroit Times, Los Angeles Examiner, New York American, Omaha Bee-News, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Rochester Journal, San Antonio Light, San Francisco Examiner, Syracuse Journal, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Washington Herald, Wisconsin News (Milwaukee).

PLANE MAKERS GUESTS AT ALUMINUM PLANT

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., March 14.—A dozen representatives of airplane manufacturers were guests of the New Kensington Chamber of Commerce and the Aluminum Company of America yesterday.

After a luncheon, they inspected the aluminum plant.

The advantages of aluminum for use in airplanes were pointed out to the visitors.

The guests, who arrived here from the aircraft show in Pittsburgh, included E. S. Conner, of the Ford Motor Company, and August Kuhn, of Gliders, Inc., Detroit, Mich.

16-Year-Old Bride Sues for Divorce

The romance of Mrs. Viola B. Crawford, 16-year-old bride, of Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh, lasted only a week, she testified in her divorce hearing before Judge James H. Gray. She charged her husband, George M. Crawford, 416 James street, Turtle Creek, with having threatened to kill her.

"How did you meet him? Judge Gray asked the girl-wife.

"He came up to me on the street and I let him walk home with me," she said.

They were married after a two months' courtship. Judge Gray withheld his decision.

Ford Tells of Edison Rubber Plant Quest

DETROIT, March 14.—(INS.)—After several weeks' vacation in Florida, where much of his time was spent at the home of Thomas A. Edison at Fort Myers, Henry Ford today was back "in harness." He took time off to discuss the progress made by his friend, Edison, in his search for a plant from which rubber can be made.

The common goldenrod has provided Edison with considerable food for experiment, Ford said, adding that he had offered Edison the use of as much of his acreage at Savannah, Ga., as he may need.

Pinchot to Hunt Mammoth Seabat

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—Capture of the hitherto elusive mammoth seabat of the genus nanta will be one of the objectives of the 15,000-mile cruise of former Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, to the Caribbean and the South Seas.

The former governor said yesterday that the seabat was seen by William Beebe off the Galapagos Islands, but it never had been caught. Some specimens of the genus nanta are flat and circular in shape, measuring 23 feet in diameter and weighing several tons.

Mr. Pinchot is having a three-masted schooner outfitted for an eight-month cruise and plans to leave in about two weeks. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Pinchot, their son, Gifford Bryce and Stephen Stahlnecker. The expedition's scientific work will be under the auspices of the National Museum of Washington.

Eaker Plans to Fly To Panama Saturday

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 14.—(AP.)—Capt. Ira C. Eaker plans to hop off from Brownsville, Tex., Saturday morning on his dawn-to-dusk flight to France Field, Panama Canal Zone, if weather conditions are favorable, he announced yesterday, after receiving word through the Associated Press that his flight is now authorized by the War Department.

The distance between the two points is 2,000 miles and Capt. Eaker is expected to make five landings, two of them in Mexico, to take on fuel.

Sentenced for Bond Theft on Leviathan

VIENNA, March 14.—(AP)—Friedrich Rybar, a merchant of Vienna, yesterday was convicted of having conspired with Franz Rubis, a waiter, to dispose of Tokio traction bonds stolen from the mail on the steamship Leviathan last June. He was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment.

Wilhelmin Miltner, who assisted Rybar in disposing of some of the stolen bonds, was acquitted after offering to return $110,000 worth of the bonds which were the property of the National City bank of New York.

1,000,000 in 3 Churches to Unite

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(AP)—Official announcement of the plan to unite three churches, with a total membership of more than 1,000,000, was made here yesterday by the Rev. Dr. George W. Richards, president of the Reformed Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa.

The plan provides for the union of the Reformed Church in the United States, the Church of the United Brethren and the Evangelical Synod of North America.

"An organic union of the three denominations, not a federation nor an alliance, is proposed by the plan," said Dr. Richards. "The union is to be effected by the organization of a supreme judicatory to be known as the General Council of the United Church in America. It is to be constituted of an equal number of ordained ministers and lay members who are to be chosen by the classes, the annual conference, and the district conferences of the three churches."

MOTHER OF SIX SHOT DEAD BY HUSBAND

YOUNGSTOWN, March 14.—Six South Side children are motherless today, following the shooting of Mrs. George Levy, 35, by her husband, 39, who is held in county jail.

The husband admits the shooting and says he is not sorry, accusing his wife of unfaithfulness and failure to properly care for the children. For more than a year, Levy and his wife have quarreled and the climax came when Mrs. Levy decided to leave and live with a friend, Victoria Wallace.

Levy followed his wife and when she refused to return home, calmly pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot her four times in the chest and face. Members of the Wallace family heard a fifth shot as Levy left the house and thought he had killed himself, but learned the gun had been accidentally discharged.

Police arrested Levy as he returned to his own home, and he offered no resistance. He is a railroad worker.

Judge Drew Praises Grand Jury's Speed

The grand jury discharged yesterday handled 464 cases in the eight days it was in session. It returned true bills in 385 of the cases and discharged 69 other cases. President Judge James B. Drew commended the jury for its rapid work and pointed out that, under the present system, handling of court cases has been speeded up.

Judge Confirms Sale Of Company's Assets

Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker has confirmed the sale of the assets of the Pittsburgh Electric and Manufacturing Company, Hamilton avenue, to R. W. Brown, one of the receivers of the concern, for $45,000. The sale will become absolute unless exceptions are filed before March 23. Brown submitted the high bid at an auction March 9.

Embezzlement Laid To Insurance Agent

Accused of having embezzled funds collected for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Frank J. Nogasky, an insurance agent of Natrona, is held in the county jail in default of bail. Representatives of the company charge that more than $750 collected by Nogasky was not turned in to the company.

New Spring Vestees

—of linen and pique, introduce the latest innovations, giving a refreshing touch to a dark suit or a severe, collarless dress.

(A) This new vestee boasts one of the new Cavalier collars being worn now on new dresses. In linen, $3.95.

(B) This model, with the jabot of bound and buttoned petals, has a three-petaled cuff to match. In linen, with scallops bound in red and blue, $3.95.

(C) Almost sternly tailored, this collarless vestee of linen redeems its plainness by having a scalloped V-neckline and scalloped edge. $2.95.

(D) Crisp and colorful is this vestee of printed pique—so suitable for wear with tweed dresses as well as with tailored suits. $3.50.

9x12 Foot Size

$48.50

Here's a rug that combines beauty with service. Sturdily made with a three-shot weave, it will give long wear. Worsted is used, which means the outline of the design is clearer and brighter and will remain so longer. In general effect these rugs have a richness such as far more expensive rugs have.

In patterns and colors for bedrooms, living and dining rooms.

New Pots and Pans That Are Stainless

Think of it—shining pots and pans that do not stain, and are as easy to wash therefore as your china and glass! They're made of a nickel-steel alloy that resists all food acids; and which is particularly durable.

This metal has been thoroughly tested in many large hotels over a year's time proving conclusively that it does not stain—wears splendidly—and is easy to clean.

Offered in practically every kind of kitchen utensil.

POLICE BALKED AS IMMUNE ENVOY DRIVES RUM TRUCK

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP.)—The first truck load of embassy liquor to be brought to the Capital since the Washington police said they would arrest private truck owners using their vehicles for this purpose arrived yesterday unmolested. The truck was accompanied by a member of the diplomatic corps who personally drove the truck into the city.

At least two private truck owners have been warned by Washington police that unless some diplomat with the usual immunity credentials accompanied them their trucks would be halted. In one case an attache of an embassy was following a truck in his private automobile, but this was not considered sufficient to give the truck immunity from seizure for carrying liquors.

These warnings were given by the police some time before the passage of the Jones law imposing more severe penalties for dry law violators. Several embassies which had previously adopted the method of intrusting their shipments to private truck owners have now adopted the custom of the majority of the diplomatic missions by hiring the truck and having it driven or accompanied by an attache enjoying diplomatic immunity.

So far the American government has shown no inclination to interfere with embassy liquor consignments, and the foreign missions in Washington always have been meticulously cautious in complying with any ruling which may overlap their diplomatic privileges under centuries-old usage and reciprocal courtesy.

HOMES ROBBED, LOOT $2,500

Loot valued at $2,500 was obtained by thieves in two house robberies yesterday.

Scaling a lattice to the second floor of the home of Mrs. J. G. Houston, of 116 Bayard place, the robbers stole a diamond ring valued at $1,200 and $15 in cash, police reported.

Two fur coats valued at $1,300, hung out to be aired on the back porch of the home of W. C. Evert, of 6801 Penn avenue, disappeared yesterday.

Cuticura Healed Large, Hard, Red Pimples on Face and Back.

"I had hard, large, red pimples on my forehead. I squeezed them and they soon spread all over my face and back. The pimples festered and scaled over causing me to scratch them. I lost sleep at night on account of the irritation. My face was disfigured so that I was ashamed.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Victoria Miller, Box 214, Marianna, Pa., Oct. 9, 1928.

$300,000,000 VALUE OF DOPE SMUGGLED IN WASHINGTON, March 14.—Dope valued at not less than $300,000,000 in the underworld market is smuggled into the United States each year.

This staggering total is not a fanciful figure, but is based on the conservative calculations of Col. L. G. Nutt, chief of the Federal Narcotics Bureau.

Furthermore, Col. Nutt conceded that the total might go considerably higher, inasmuch as his estimate was based on the smuggling of but one drug, morphine, and on an estimated total of only 100,000 addicts in America. Other authorities have declared the confirmed addicts ranged upwards from 1,000,000.

From Col. Nutt's own figures, it requires no legerdemain to ascertain the astounding profits accruing to dope traffickers from smuggling operations.

100,000 ADDICTS

"Our surveys indicate that there are approximately 100,000 addicts in the United States," said Col. Nutt. "The addict uses an average of eight grains of morphine a day. He must have this dosage every day in the year.

"Therefore, it would require 292,000,000 grains of morphine to supply these addicts. As the underworld price for morphine is between $1 and $1.50 a grain, the total value of the morphine in the bootleg market is at least $292,000,000."

The plethora of crimes committed by addicts is attributed mainly to their need for funds to buy the drugs. If purchased in small lots, as most of the drugs are, the addict would have to spend at least $2,920 a year for dope. Over a period of time the outlay would be high, because it is one of the evils of dope that the addict must constantly increase his daily dosage.

CRIME IS RESULT

Few of the underworld addicts have incomes of $3,000 a year, and thus it is that they resort to all manner of crime, robbery, assault, even murder, to obtain funds necessary to obtain the drugs.

"We estimate that 21 tons of morphine is smuggled into the United States annually," Col. Nutt continued. "This is approximately two tons a month, or almost 1,000 pounds a week. It comes in chiefly through New York and other large Eastern seaports.

"The total of smuggled morphine is about twice the amount which the government permits to be imported as raw opium to be manufactured into morphine for the legitimate medical and scientific use of the 120,000,000 people of the country."

It's Growing!

The shoulder-length bob is taking a real place among fashions of the hour for the younger set. In many high schools and colleges, more than half the girls are letting their hair grow to the new length. This style as worn by New York City girls is shown in the above photograph of Miss Edna Rabbe, 1925 Avenue G, Brooklyn.

Miss Rabbe says: "I am certainly delighted that I let my hair grow to the new length now that I have found a way to keep it easily manageable and attractive. My hair is ever so much fluffier and more vigorous than it has been for a long time. And it is free from all traces of dandruff, now. I attribute its improvement to the method I am using to care for it. It's so popular among the girls in my set. All we do is put a little Danderine on our brushes whenever we use them. This makes my hair so easy to dress any way I want it and holds it in place as I arrange it. Danderine soothes my scalp and keeps it and my hair so clean, I don't need to shampoo more than twice a month, now. And all my friends admire the way it makes my hair so bright and sparkling."

Danderine does more to bring out the natural color, the gleam and lustre of your hair, than shampoos or brilliantine. It removes that oily film from it, gives it new life and lustre. It cleanses and invigorates the scalp; helps overcome dandruff. Danderine is delightfully fragranced; isn't oily, doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.

Lift the Ugly Veil of Blemishes from your skin

RADIANT complexion beauty lies just beneath the surface. But millions of men and women suffer from pasty, dull, sallow complexions—marred with pimples, blotches, etc. What a difference a few days' proper care will make!

A tiny calcium wafer will work wonders for such people. It removes the cause: a septic condition of the blood resulting from intestinal stasis. Doctors and nurses know this condition. They call such cases Septics.

Septics frequently do not realize their condition. It comes on so gradually. No one will tell them of the body odor and fetid breath. Your mirror will tell the story: Skin blemishes are Nature's danger signals.

Try This Week-end Test

A ten-cent package of Calcium Wafers, from any druggist—and follow directions for three days. What a difference! Eyes bright! Complexion clear—and with radiant natural color! Skin healthy, soft, and silken! Let one dime open this easy way to skin beauty for you.

CARNEGIE TECH RECITAL HEADS LOCAL RADIO PROGRAMS

FRIML'S MUSIC, IRISH DANCES ON AIR

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

HEADING the list of local attractions will be the Carnegie Tech Music Department recital over KDKA at 7:01 o'clock, featuring a string quartet and soloists.

For weeks and weeks, men have been talking about feminine beauty during the Serenade, KDKA at 8 p. m., but tonight George Brehm, famous artist, will discuss handsome men.

The outstanding successes of Rudolph Friml will heard through WCAE at 8:30 o'clock while Irish jigs and reels will usher in the St. Patrick's Day season at 9 p. m.

Helen Oelheim, contralto, will be featured on WJAS programs. She will sing "The Love Nest" from "Mary" and "Auf Wiedersehen" from Romberg's "Blue Paradise," at 9:30 o'clock.

"Dream Boat" from the musical comedy hit, "Floretta," is the highlight of the Halsey-Stuart concert at 10 p. m. through WCAE.

PROGRAM FOR FARMERS

Arthur Hyde, new secretary of agriculture, will make direct contact with more than a million and a quarter farmers tonight at 10:30 o'clock when he delivers an address through WJZ, WBAL, WRC, KWK, WREN, KSTP, WEBC, WTMJ, WKY, KOA, WHAS, WMC, WSB, WBT, KVOO, WFAA, WLS, KPRC, WJAX.

Other speakers will be Senator Charles L. McNary, head of the Agricultural Relief Committee of the Senate, and Congressman Willis C. Hawley, ranking member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House. Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will be chairman.

Days in the old West, when every man was a law unto himself and six-shooters and hemp rope took the place of law courts, will be revived in "The Holdup," the WLW picturette, at 9 p. m.

In the LIGHT of ... MODERN LIVING EXPERIENCE
To avoid the wearying drudgery of householding; to direct service rather than perform it; to gain time so as to do the things one WANTS to do, not HAS to do—that is to live in the advanced and modern way!
Residence in Schenley Apartments impresses the fact that high-type apartment service is of major importance in the daily lives of the entire family. Worries and annoyances, formerly endured as unavoidable, are unknown.
The supremacy of this service may readily be recognized in its several features:
A service corps of 125 trained attendants.
The added service of the Hotel Schenley.
The service of fine shops on the premises.
And the Schenley Delicatessen, Coffee Shoppe and Restaurant.

A Matchless Grand Piano at a Price That Speaks Aloud!
Sure to Arouse a Sensation in Pittsburgh
.... For the first time in all our history of musical merchandising we inaugurate new departure in our method of promoting the sale of standard pianos... We believe there are many and abundant reasons why strictly standard and high-class instruments should be given preference over the variety of inferior and unstable pianos that form the principal features of promiscuously advertised special sales held in Pittsburgh.
.... With this objective in mind, though chiefly for the purpose of affording our patrons and those musically inclined an opportunity to make a safe and sound selection, the C. C. Mellor Company places on sale beginning tomorrow 100 Chauncey Grand Pianos—a particularly choice instrument of recognized merit—at only $475 each, including bench—a price heretofore unheard of in the annals of piano selling, which no lover of music can afford to pass by.
Chauncey Grand

At $475
Is the Biggest Value on the Market
... The Chauncey Grand needs no extensive introduction here because it is widely and favorably known throughout the Pittsburgh district, where it has found a place in many hundreds of homes during the past two decades. In workmanship and quality of tone it enjoys a most enviable position in the field of popularly priced Grands.
... The 100 Chauncey Grands listed for this important sale are true in every respect to their originally built-in standard of quality and workmanship. They, each and all, are substantially as "Firm as the Rock of Gibraltar" in all that pertains to service and endurance—the qualities that give assurance of permanent satisfaction. And considering that at no time before, either here or elsewhere, has the Chauncey Grand been sold below its standard price of $675.00, it goes without saying that at its advertised price of only $475.00 (bench included) during this sale, it is without question the best purchase that anyone can make ... why not save $200 by making your selection now?
... And the Chauncey Grand ... above any other in its class surely must be as good as we have all along claimed it to be ... For it is first of all an instrument built upon the symbol of honor ... expressly designed and manufactured to commemorate the name of a formerly distinguished citizen of Pittsburgh, it must follow that it is superbly endowed to perform the service for which it was primarily conceived.
... With a Chauncey Piano (size 5 foot 2 inches) in either mahogany or walnut case finish you will have an instrument that will satisfy your musical tastes and will render you faithful service for the years to follow. Come in to see and hear the Chauncey Grand while this sale is in progress. You will be interested in its performance. You save $200 by making your selection now. Truly the best buy in the city. Agreeable budget terms cheerfully arranged. Deliveries and shipments regulated according to order.

"GRANADA"...

A New Period Model In the Celebrated

Marshall & Wendell .... Pianos ....

For this new period model, Marshall & Wendell sought inspiration from old Spain—from Granada, home of that architectural masterpiece, the Alhambra. Graceful lines and twisted columns combine with the warmth of antique mahogany to recapture the romance and the color of a romantic period. Harmonizing with the richest surroundings, lending colorful charm to the simplest, the "Granada" is worthy of the Marshall & Wendell, the second oldest piano in America, the instrument that has enriched American home life since 1836.

Come and see the "Granada" . . . hear its golden voice. Learn for how little you can make it yours.

VOTE ON HOUSE APPORTIONING ASSURED

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP.)—Congressional leaders are agreed that the bill for reapportionment of the House shall be taken up at the forthcoming extra session but there is some dispute as to whether the House or Senate shall consider it first.

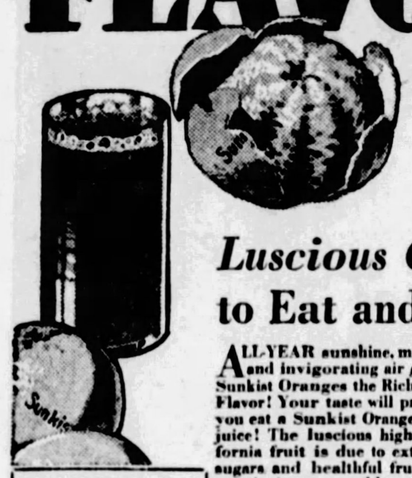
House leaders are expecting the Senate to act on the bill which was sent to it last session by the House before it is again considered in their chamber. There is some disposition among Senate leaders to await first action by the House on a bill regulating the House membership.

But this would upset the program for the session. House leaders are determined not to organize any more committees than necessary to enact the legislation of farm relief and tariff revision specified by President Hoover for the extra session.

House men want the Senate to take up reapportionment and send it to the House which could then act under a suspension of the rules without reference of the measure to committee.

Senator Vandenberg (Rep), Michigan, one of the sponsors of reapportionment bill, withdrew it from the Senate calendar in the closing days of the last session rather than force a legislative jam blocking all bills, but he had the promise of leaders that it would come up in the extra session.

Sunkist California Oranges are FIRST in FLAVOR



Luscious Oranges to Eat and Drink!

ALL-YEAR sunshine, mountain snow-waters and invigorating air grow-into California Sunkist Oranges the Richest Juice and Finest Flavor! Your taste will prove that the instant you eat a Sunkist Orange . . . or . . . drink its juice! The luscious high flavor of the California fruit is due to extra-richness of fruit-sugars and healthful fruit-acids (alkaline in reaction), as proved by scientific analysis.

Realize what this extra-flavor means to salads and desserts! And besides, California Sunkist Oranges are easiest to peel, slice and segment. Cut them as thin as you wish . . . without breaking the meat! Cut the segments into small morsels without loss of juice or mussiness! Sunkist meat is firm, but wonderfully tender and juicy.

California Sunkist Oranges are outstandingly superior in every comparison. Even the juice . . . with its full-body and deep-color . . . indicates extra-richness!

Let the name "Sunkist" always be your orange buying guide. It is imprinted on the skin and on the wrapper of Sunkist Oranges and assures uniform quality.

Plentiful Small Sizes

Nature has grown a large crop of medium and small-sized California Sunkist Oranges this season . . . as juicy, sweet, and delicious as any of the larger ones you ever ate. These smaller Oranges are unequaled for juice, containing all the qualities which have made California Sunkist Oranges world-famous.

Sunkist Serenaders

"Sunkist Serenaders," famous as Pacific Coast Radio Entertainers, are on the air over the following associated stations of the National Broadcasting Chain every Wednesday evening at the hour specified below. BALTIMORE & OHIO

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A STYLISH GOWN FOR THE WOMAN OF MATURE FIGURE WITH SLENDER HIPS.

Printed silk in gray and black is here pictured. The collar and vestee facings are of gray crepe. The diagonal closing is especially becoming to stout figures. In this model, a flare section is joined to the left front below the surplice closing. A rolled collar outlines the vestee, which squares the pointed neck opening. The back of the dress comprises a long waist portion to which a circular skirt portion is joined. The sleeve is close fitting.

The pattern for this attractive design is cut in eight sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 46-inch size will require 5¼ yards of 39-inch material. For collar and vestee of contrasting material ½ yard is required, cut crosswise. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fulness extended is 2⅞ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NUMBER ON U. S. FARMS LOWEST IN 20 YEARS

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP.)—The farm population of the United States was reported yesterday by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the agricultural department to be the smallest in 20 years. Persons working on farms on January 1, 1929, were estimated at 27,511,000, as compared with a peak of 32,000,000 in 1909.

The estimate showed a decrease in farm population during the last year, despite what it said was an improvement in agricultural conditions and a slight slackening in in dustrial employment.

The decrease last year would have been much greater were it not offset by an excess of births over deaths. The figures revealed that 1,960,000 persons left farms during the year and only 1,362,000 moved from cities to farms.

The movement away from the soil was shown to have slowed up somewhat during the year as compared with preceding years, but the movement from cities to farms was also smaller.

The net loss of farm population last year was only 188,000 persons, compared with 193,000 in 1927 and with 649,000 in 1926. This was attributed to the rate of 23 births per 1,000 persons with an accompanying rate of eight deaths per 1,000 on the farms.

Two Women Struck By Trucks, Injured

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 14.—Two women were injured late yesterday by trucks. Miss Helen Gibbs, 21, employe of Weirton Steel Company offices, was run down by a machine driven by Charles Barnes, news dealer at Weirton, W. Va. She is in a critical condition at the Ohio Valley Hospital here. Mrs. Clyde Lunduff, 33, wife of a Steubenville banker, was run over by a truck driven by William Paden, grocer, at an intersection.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE A NICE-BIG-SLICE OF HOT-BUTTERED TOAST

You'd like it, of course. Anybody would. Well, it's ready when you are. Piping hot, and browned to a king's taste. No bother, no getting up from the table. Just plug in your electric toaster at the nearest electric connection, place the bread on the rack and away she goes!

For breakfast? That's when it's best. With bacon, or ham or eggs . . . can anything quite take its place?

For luncheon? Toasted sandwiches have almost elbowed plain bread sandwiches out of existence. It's because they're so much better!

For tea? Cinnamon toast . . . made to order electrically. And you'd better cut plenty of bread!

For late supper? Chicken a la king, welsh rarebit, creamed chipped beef . . . each with its base of well-toasted toast.

FOUR IN STRIKE DRAW FINES

Andrew Sally, 21; Alex McColl, 24; Harry Fell, 23, and John Theiler, 24, all giving "city" as their homes, were ordered to pay $5 or spend five days in jail by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Central Police Court today on charges of disorderly conduct. They had been employed as bakers in a downtown store and, deciding to organize a strike of employes out of sympathy for another baker discharged four weeks ago, attempted to influence employes entering the store this morning on Diamond street to join them, the magistrate was told.

Last Street Car In Franklin Goes By on Truck

FRANKLIN, March 14.—The last street car has passed through the streets here. It was mounted on a truck. The car had been sold to a manufacturer, and was being removed to Sugar Creek, four miles from here, to be made into an office. The car, incidentally, was the one which passed over the Big Rock Bridge, carrying several passengers, only five minutes before the bridge fell into the Allegheny River when the big ice gorge started to move out in March three years ago.

Franklin has been without street car service since October, 1927. Buses are used.

How to make canned vegetables even more appetizing

The taste of nearly all good foods is improved with sugar

SCIENCE now knows that the great majority of the canned fruits and vegetables on the market today are rich in vitamins.

This is great news to all who wish to be well fed and healthy. In order that your family may relish these healthful foods, be sure that they are served in the most appetizing way possible. For example, add one level teaspoonful of sugar to one can of corn when heating it for serving. One rounded tablespoonful, at least, of sugar should be added to one can of tomatoes to develop the taste and make them palatable and delicious. The flavor of canned peas is improved by adding one-half to one teaspoonful of sugar to each can, and for string beans add one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful per can. The general rule is that all canned vegetables should be sweetened to taste so that they will be more enjoyable.

As a nationally recognized medical authority says, . . . "canned tomatoes after three years were as rich in vitamins as raw tomatoes . . . canned strawberries were also found to equal raw strawberries in vitamin content." He names numerous other canned fruits and vegetables and all were found rich in vitamins.

Welcome the canned foods to your table. To do so is to welcome health to your home. Eat plenty of varied, nourishing foods sweetened for taste and zest. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Weather Conditions.

The barometric pressure is low this morning over a belt extending from the Great Lakes southwestward over the Mississippi Valley states to Texas. It is predicting rain at most places east of the Mississippi River, with mild temperatures. The rainfall during the last 24 hours was light, except in Alabama, Georgia, Eastern Tennessee and Western North Carolina, where heavy to excessive amounts were recorded. While there is a drop in temperature over the Plains states following the rainstorm, the temperatures are only about normal, and no cold weather is expected over this section.

River Conditions.

There was an average of a two-foot rise in the Allegheny River, and about 1.0-foot in the Youghiogheny, while in the Monongahela there was less than one-half foot. The rainfall was light, the rise in the Allegheny being due, mostly, to melting snow. Stage at Pittsburgh is 14.9 feet; Dam No. 2, 7.0; Dam No. 4, 12.3; Dam No. 9, 11.7, and Dam No. 12, 9.0. The dams are down. Rain is expected over the basins today and tonight, which will cause a further rise. Between 18 and 19 foot stage is expected at Pittsburgh Friday morning, with a further rise during the day.

Drink Hot Tea for Bad Cold!

Don't let a cold develop into flu! At the first chill or feverish feeling, go right to your druggist and get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea. Put a tablespoonful of this hamburg tea into a strainer, pour a cup of boiling water over it, and drink it at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and relieve grippe, as it heats the body and opens the bowels. This breaks up congestion and frees the body of poisons. Hamburg Breast Tea is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

FLAG CONTEST CLOSES AFTER ENTRIES TODAY

Today is the last day for applications to be mailed to the contest editor of the Sun-Telegraph for permission to enter the flag contest of the United States Flag Association being sponsored by this newspaper.

Tomorrow is the last day on which applications will be accepted in the Sun-Telegraph office. Schools clubs and organizations planning to conduct local contest units should mail their application today at the latest.

AMAZING SUCCESS

The flag contest, which has met with amazing success throughout the country and especially in Region Eight, being sponsored by the Sun-Telegraph, consists of answering 75 questions on the American flag and in writing a short essay on "Old Glory's Greatest Glory."

Each local contest unit must be composed of at least 25 boys or girls, between the ages of 14 and 18.

WORLD TRIP PRIZE

Applications to conduct contest units should be addressed to the Flag Editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. Instructions and materials will be shipped at once.

The winners of the National flag contest will receive as their award, a trip around the world, with all expenses paid and spending money and complete wardrobe furnished.

Liquor Given Baby, Wife Wins Divorce

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—(AP.)—Charging that her husband, Noah Huskey, plied their 3-year-old son with liquor until he was drunk, and taught the infant to smoke cigars and cigarets, Mrs. Verna Huskey obtained a divorce here, yesterday.

Motorcycle Rider Injured in Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 14.—Struck and thrown from his motorcycle by a hit-run driver, Nicholas Debias, 18, of Export, is in a serious condition in the hospital here with a fractured skull.

Today's Flagism

On March 14, 1765, Eli Whitney, with typical American genius, invented the cotton gin, a machine which revolutionized the cotton manufacturing industry of the entire world. The cotton gin was one of the earliest of a long series of important inventions by Americans. No where else has creative genius been given the untrammeled opportunity which it now enjoys under the protecting folds of the Stars and Stripes.

Waynesburg's First Robbery in Months

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 14.—The first robbery to occur in Waynesburg for several months was reported yesterday, when the Central Cafe, in West High street, was entered and the cash register robbed of $25.55. Cigarets and other merchandise also were stolen. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear door.

Odd Sights

ODD SIGHTS has caught on with Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph readers just as the recent Remember When contest caught on. What did you see out of the ordinary today? What sort of a reporter would you make? Jot down unusual scenes and occurrences, send them into the Odd Sights editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, and if your "odd sight" is published the mail will bring to you $1. Every day observant men and women, boys and girls, will get $1 for each contribution published. The following have been awarded $1 each for these Odd Sights:

A sample of head-ache powder was pushed under the door of a speakeasy in Wylie avenue.—Rose Goodman, 1231 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

A man in a street car using a red rubber nipple, such as goes on a baby's milk bottle, as a cigar holder.—Fanny P. Houston, 7225 Meade street, Pittsburgh.

A man pumping up a tire with a hand pump in front of a garage showing a big sign: Free Air.—L. M. Clark, 103 Ross-Fifth avenue, Tarentum, Pa.

Club Entertainer Sues in Auto Crash

Dick Ware, club entertainer, and Phillip Nydes ask $35,000 damages from Louis Minsky in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court. They claim Minsky's machine struck an automobile in which they were riding on December 9 at Penn avenue and Sixth street. Both Ware and Nydes were injured.

"KONJOLA RESTORED MY HEALTH," SAYS PITTSBURGH LADY

States That One Bottle of Famous Medicine Gave Splendid Relief From Nervous Indigestion.

What a world of hope and cheer there is for all who suffer and who would be well again, in the countless indorsements from men and women who have found their first and only relief in this new medicine, Konjola. The files of this modern medicine fairly overflow with the glad statements of those freed from the clutches of stomach trouble, weakened kidneys, sluggish liver, constipation or rheumatism, neuritis or nervousness. Konjola is not a medicine of promises, claims or theories—but is a medicine that brings results and accomplishments — it strengthens and invigorates the ailing organs—preparing the system for the ever-welcome tenant, new, glorious and lasting health. What Konjola has done, is doing and will do for you, is being explained daily, by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company, formerly McCulloch, Penn avenue and Sixth street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily. It was his happy experience to hear the grateful statement of Miss Betty Craemer, 111 Burr street, Mt. Oliver Station, Pittsburgh, who had a most remarkable restoration to health through the use of Konjola. Miss Craemer recently said to the Konjola Man:

MISS BETTY CRAEMER

"Konjola restored my health after all other medicines and treatments failed. If I had not had actual experience with Konjola I would not have believed that a single medicine could work such wonders. To begin with I had a nervous disorder of my stomach that caused gas and all of its evils. Whenever I ate anything heavy, bits of the food rose into my throat, leaving a very sour taste. From this condition my disposition became irritable and unruly. I had little hope that anything would help me because I tried several medicines and failed to find one that benefited me.

"I had been reading and hearing so much about the amazing accomplishments of Konjola that I went to the Konjola Man to find out about this medicine. He merely told me what it had done in cases similar to mine and pointed out wherein Konjola gave wonderful relief in even more chronic cases. With renewed hope I started the treatment. It seemed to me that from the very first dose a radical change took place. The gas bloating disappeared and the fermentation ceased. I realized that Konjola contained real merit and wouldn't think of missing a dose. I took two bottles in all and can safely say now, that I am free of all terrors of nervous indigestion. My disposition is better and all signs of nervousness are ended. I have heard that Konjola is called the medicine with more than a million friends. Well, all that I can say is that it deserves fifty millions."

Upon such cases does Konjola rest its foundation of success. Not only does Konjola bring glorious relief from the most stubborn cases but in most every instance the benefits are lasting and sure. It is said that no sufferer can afford not to give Konjola a chance.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Company, formerly McCulloch, Penn avenue and Sixth street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine. Free samples given.

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Prospective Buds Decide To Delay Debuts for Another Year

PERHAPS that list of debutantes next winter won't be so long as we had thought, after all. Forty-five, you remember, was the tentative number of buds, and unless I am wrong there will be very nearly that many, in spite of a few names withdrawn from the list. But those withdrawals do make us stop and think that the coming season may not be quite so scintillating as the "advance notices" had let us to hope.

From way off here in mid-Lent, though, even two debutantes would make a season gay, by contrast. And we do know for sure that there will be considerably more than that. Some of those, though, whom we had thought to be a definite part of next winter's gayety are going to be in school, instead, and won't make their bows until at least the following season. Among these latter are Eleanor and Margaret Mann, daughters of the Rt. Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Mann, of Aylesboro avenue. There is no need in my telling you, of course, that Dr. Mann is bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The two Mann girls were among the very first to be placed on the debutante list, but now I understand that their coming party will be held, probably, the following winter, 1930-1931. And it may even be deferred until the season after that. Eleanor, you know, is a sophomore at Wellesley this year and the younger girl is attending Walnut Hills, and won't be graduated until June, 1930.

While we're talking about debutantes, I've been told that a girl who used to live here and is a member of one of our best known families is going to make her bow next winter. I am referring to Katharine Denny, daughter of the Archibold M. Dennys, of Boston, who, up until a few years ago, lived on the North Side. And she is a granddaughter, of course, of Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, of Ridge avenue. Katharine isn't coming here to make her debut, but will be introduced in Boston, which, incidentally, is her mother's old home.

Just now, I understand, Katharine is a pupil at the Walker School and I don't know anything definite about her debut plans. It is more than likely that she will be in Pittsburgh for a short time next winter, probably around the holidays, and no doubt there will be a number of parties for her.

Mrs. Harmar Denny, by the way, is in Europe, and isn't expected home before the latter part of April or early in May.

JUST while many folks are beginning to think about coming home a few are planning trips. Mr. and Mrs. James Neale, of Pembroke place, for instance, are going to sail early in April on the Roma for Naples, and from there they will travel extensively on the continent. They expect to return home about the first of July. You remember, of course, that the Neales' daughter, Sally Todd, was married this winter to Tyson Nimick.

Among the wanderers planning an early return to Pittsburgh is Mrs. Walter Chess, who has been spending some time in Honolulu. Just now Mrs. Chess is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. Com. and Mrs. Charles Turner Joy, at their home in Long Beach, Cal., and will come on East a little later in the spring.

The John Ormsby Burgwins, of Blackburn road, Sewickley Heights, will be home in April, I understand. They have been spending the winter in Augusta, you know.

I HEAR that among the distinguished guests invited to attend the Aero Club ball tomorrow night in the William Penn Hotel are two of unusual interest—no less than Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his fiancee, Anne Morrow. The committee, it is understood, though, doesn't have a great deal of confidence in the ability of these famous personages to come up from Mexico for the ball.

There is to be continuous music for dancing, provided by two orchestras. And the decorations, arranged under the direction of Lieut. Meredith Watson, will consist of American flags and the colors of the Aero Club, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the One Hundred and Seventh Field Artillery.

MISS HARRIET and Miss Evelyn Morgan have returned home from Johnstown, where they were guests at a dinner given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dempsey, Jr. At that time, March 30 was announced as the date for the wedding of Miss Ruth Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dempsey, Sr., of Westmont, and R. M. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Morgan, of St. Marie street, East End. Mrs. Dempsey, Jr., will be matron of honor, and Miss Harriet Morgan, sister of the bridegroom, will be bridesmaid. Paul Morgan, of Regent square, is to be his cousin's best man.

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTIAN J. WALTER, of Prospect avenue, Avalon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Katherine Walter, to John Canetta, of New York. Miss Walter, daughter of the well-known painter, also is an artist. Mr. Canetta is a son of Mrs. Lena Bowen Canetta and the late Lieut. Col. Canetta, of the Italian Army, former military attache to the Court of Vienna. He is a grandson of the late Sir Edward Bowen, Lord Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Quebec.

Club Congress Asks Protection of Birds

AT its meeting yesterday, the educational department of the Congress of Clubs adopted a resolution which will be sent to the state game commission asking for protection and conservation of migratory bird life. Dr. Norman McClintock, of the biology department, University of Pittsburgh, was the principal speaker, his talk being on bird life, which he illustrated with some intensely interesting films of his own taking. Mrs. John M. Phillips, Mrs. Mary J. Cowley and Councilman Robert J. Garland also spoke and the invocation was by the Rev. James R. Cox, of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church. The music was furnished by Mrs. Robert M. Phillips, who was accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Hewitt Fisher. Mrs. D. Edwin Miller, chairman of the department, asked that warning against flying kites near wires, releasing kites entangled in wires and using wires for kite strings, be circulated amongst children. The decorations for the luncheon which effectively carried out the St. Patrick's Day idea were in white roses, ferns and candles.

The legislative department, as is its custom, joined the educational department at luncheon. Its own business session in the morning was given over to two debates, one on daylight saving between Mr. Garland and Mrs. R. M. Blair, and the other on the proposed changes in the "blue laws" in which Mrs. George P. Bassett and the Rev. James McQuilken were the speakers.

MISS ELVIRA BLEADINGHISER, acting president of the Quota Club, is announcing an informal dinner to be followed by an "international" bridge and "500" tournament in the Fort Pitt Hotel next Monday evening. Mrs. Sarah Tomlinson, general chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Steen Bateman and Mrs. Edna I. St. Clair, and others active in the arrangements for the evening are Miss Ruby Wright, Miss Bertha Hanley, Miss Marie Hartwig, Miss Anne Adams, Mrs. Laura Karn and a large reception committee. The decorations and music will carry out the international idea.

THE luncheon on Saturday at which Russell Neale, author of "Hobby House," will be the speaker, a book and drama luncheon on Saturday, the twenty-third, and a musicale tea on the twenty-fourth are the affairs scheduled for the month by the Woman's City Club. Patrick J. Byrne will speak on "Plays and Actors of the Early Days in Pittsburgh" at next week's Saturday luncheon, and the program for the musicale will be by Mrs. J. J. McAdoo, contralto; Charles Pallos, violinist, with Miss Gizella Pallos, accompanist.

A MEETING of the class in parental education will be held prior to the general meeting of the College Club on Friday afternoon and Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham will review David Seabury's "The Magna Charta of Youth."

MRS. O. B. HUGHES, president of the Allegheny County Parent-Teacher Association, has called a council meeting for Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. Presidents of the city and county organizations, with their chairmen of publicity, have been invited to attend the affair, which will be featured by a publicity conference.

MRS. W. A. M'ROBERTS, of the Children's Service Bureau, addressed the Woman's Club of Bryn Mawr Farms at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. P. E. Wakefield was hostess and was assisted by Mrs. L. E. Frost, Mrs. Emma Heitchue and Mrs. E. D. Odenbaugh.

A MEETING of the senior committee and the nominating committee for the new junior section of the Homewood Women's Club will be held Friday night in the clubrooms, Homewood Carnegie Library. Mrs. G. W. Postgate heads the senior committee, and the juniors on the nominating committee include Marion Conroy, Mary McCausland, Alma Heastand, Dorothy Conn and Ruth Eckles.

A BENEFIT dinner at the Congress of Clubs is to take the place of the usual afternoon meeting of the Outlook Alliance next Thursday. Cards will follow dinner. Mrs. S. J. Corbett is chairman of the ways and means committee in charge of the dinner.

Why Some Women Are So Popular

Beauty's first requisite—skin perfection. Thus, the fairest and wisest use MELLO-GLO Face Powder that spreads more smoothly and produces a youthful bloom. Its new French process makes MELLO-GLO stay on longer and bans the shiny nose. Pure! Prevents pastiness, flakiness, irritation and large pores. Use MELLO-GLO.

GRABOWSKY'S Established in 1875

"Good to the last drop"

BLENDED

to suit an expert's critical talent for flavor

OVER the coffee cups at the Maxwell House in the old days in Nashville, what romance, what talk of adventure, of art, business and affairs, went on!

For the flower of the South gathered at the high festivities at the Maxwell House and here her most illustrious guests were feted with all the warmth of traditional Southern hospitality.

"Marvelous Southern cooking—marvelous coffee," said the guests. They wanted the coffee to serve when they went back home. It seemed to them that they had never tasted coffee with so completely satisfying a flavor.

There was a reason for that: Maxwell House Coffee was "different." It was the triumph of an expert who dreamed a dream of better coffee flavor and made that dream come true.

He knew about coffees. The "winy" coffees of Arabia, the mild coffees of Java, the syrupy coffees of Brazil—he had roasted them all, but no one of them alone quite satisfied him. So he began to combine them. He had a talent for flavor and he worked for years testing, combining, re-combining flavors and shades of flavors.

At last he had it—a blend of such rich and subtle—such sparkling—harmony that it delighted even his critical palate.

Maxwell House guests spread abroad the fame of Maxwell House Coffee. Today it is known and preferred from coast to coast of the United States. "The Old Colonel" has lived to see the flavor he perfected in his youth become America's most popular coffee, pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.

Wherever you are, your family may enjoy this particularly good, satisfying coffee, for your own grocer has it, sealed in the blue-wrapped tin which protects all its matchless fragrance and flavor.

A new kind of flaky salt gives this tender-crisp little square a tang no other cracker has!

In baking Krispy Crackers, Sunshine Bakers have been so careful... even of the little things!

For example, flake salt is used instead of cube salt, because...would you believe it?...the flake salt brings out the delicate wheat flavor without being too salty.

Sunshine Krispy Crackers are made to be unusually flaky...they always are tender. Many people prefer them to bread at meals.

Blue Birds Come, Black Birds Go, Spring's Here

FORD CITY, March 14.—Joseph Hobaugh, of Garrett's Run, reports that his "Blackbirds are blue birds now." During the past few days black birds that have been flying about his farm have been replaced by flocks of blue birds. Hobaugh states he never has seen so many blue birds in a single year and he takes their arrival to mean that spring is here.

WHEN you feel that cold coming on—head it off with Bayer Aspirin. Almost everybody knows how these tablets break-up colds—but why not prevent them? Take a tablet or two at the very first sign of a cold and spare yourself a lot of inconvenience and suffering. Do the same when a headache threatens, or when you feel the least twinge of neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatism or similar pain. Bayer Aspirin is sure relief, as many have discovered. It is quite harmless, as physicians have long declared. It does not affect the heart, so you may take Bayer Aspirin freely. Use as a gargle for sore throat, to remove the infection. You can get the genuine at any drugstore. Bayer Aspirin. Bayer on every package and on each tablet identifies the genuine.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

On Synthetic Love

A MAN can always gauge his advancing age by his loss of enthusiasm for the annual spring romance.

Nowadays, telling a woman that you love her is merely a graceful way of making stimulating conversation, and as safe as talking about the weather.

* * *

A great lover is one who first finds out what brand of love appeals to the woman of the moment, and then flavors his "stock-love-making" with sentiment, passion, audacity or imagination, according to her taste.

HELEN ROWLAND

Real love and the flu alike, are difficult to distinguish from all their little imitations. But you can always tell when you have had a genuine case of either by the fact that everything else seems like nothing but anti-climax.

* * *

Alas! Why is it that the kind of man who has the most power to inspire love in women, so soon loses the power to feel it? Nature will have her little revenge.

* * *

Indian summer is that dangerous moment in the golden forties, when the heart of a vain woman is so mellow that it falls at the first breath of flattery from a personable man.

When a man marries a famous woman he is practically signing a contract to ride in the rumble seat all the rest of his life.

If bootleg love, like bootleg liquor, could be chemically analyzed, most of it would be found to be 99 per cent pure love of adventure, or love of amusement.

* * *

A woman's love often begins in pity, but that's where a man's love usually ends.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Entertaining the Entertainers

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When a person is hired to entertain at a national convention of an auxiliary on the day that the banquet is given, should the entertainer be invited to the banquet? Last year a friend did entertain at such a banquet and was not invited to the banquet, and they tell me this was a breach of etiquette. I personally think it is out of place to invite the entertainers, as a banquet is planned with plates for so many of the guests and not entertainers from outside the auxiliary. What is correct? MRS. K.

I AGREE with you. Since the entertainer was engaged in a professional capacity, he or she would not be expected to be included in the social plans of the banquet.

Extending a Greeting

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Is it always necessary to salute upon entering a business place even though one has not been there or met the people before, before delivering one's business messages? Sometimes one's salute is not returned. THANK YOU.

TO say "Good morning" or "Good afternoon" when one enters a place of business adds to one's manners prestige. It is better to make this salutation, even if it is not returned.

Who Pays?

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

At a large church wedding does the bridegroom or the bride's father pay for the music. Also who pays for the cigars given after dinner? R. B.

THE music of a wedding is included in the general wedding expenses, which are the financial responsibility of the bride's father, since he is the host of the occasion. The cigars, too, are in this general item, but usually the groom suggests this as his responsibility.

It's No Duty

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

A discussion was had among several people on the question as to whether or not is the duty of a gentleman who invites a lady out to a formal party to get her a corsage of fresh flowers. Will you please give me your opinion on this question. READER.

IT is not in any way the "duty" of the escort to send a corsage of flowers, but gallant and thoughtful gentlemen often make this pleasant gesture to the lady whom they are entertaining at some party.

TAKING STOCK

Drawn by Dorothy Flack

WHAT have you to offer Love? Have you ever taken stock of yourself with a view to seeing what you can answer when Love calls?

Perhaps your appeal to Love will be your exquisite rendering of some old love song, which will touch a responsive chord in the heart of him whom Love has chosen for you.

Or, it may be that your money and jewels are the bait which lures, no not love, but a flattering attention that you mistake for Love. So beware!

And lucky the girl who can offer Love the knowledge of "how to make pie like Mother used to bake!" She's as good as gone right this very minute.

But when you come right down to it, whatever the accomplishment on which you must pride yourself, it's not really that that gains Love for you—rather it's You Yourself! The lovely, sweet self that Love sees and instantly determines on capturing. So keep your heart safely so that when Love does call you and your accomplishments are ready. No matter what they or it may be, perfect yourself in everything that wins Love. For in this way alone will you find your happiness.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, March 15

A DAY of delays, disappointments and anxieties is presaged from the lunar as well as mutual aspects. It would be wise to postpone affairs of importance until a more propitious reign of important planets. Also it is admonished that care be taken against fraud and treachery, especially in the matter of letters, writings or contracts, as these are under a menacing rule of Neptune. However, there may be some benefits from friends in places of authority.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of slow growth, with affairs lagging or disappointing. Care should be taken in connection with writings or contracts, which should leave no loophole for fraud or treachery.

A child born on this day may have to work hard for success, pushing against obstacles and difficult positions. It may have some eccentricities of character to combat.

More Attractive After She Gained Needed Weight

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and help build rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back old-time energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your money will be returned.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at May's, or any drug store in America.

Peculiar Head Movements in Infants

INFANTS and young children sometimes develop peculiar movements of the head. They are painful to observe and most distressing to the parents.

Those abnormal performances take several different forms. In one of them there is a constant tilting of the head, first to one side and then to the other. Or it may be a nodding, a back and forward action.

DR. COPELAND

These peculiar movements are quite regular and rhythmic in character. There may be as many as 30 or 40 to the minute.

Doubtless you have seen cases of "nystagmus." By this is meant a constant movement of the eyes. They are never at rest.

Sometimes such movements of the head as I have described are associated with nystagmus. But they are unlike the eye disturbance in that they appear only when the head is unsupported. The eye movements are constantly present.

Children who suffer from lack of sunlight and proper food are its victims. Everything that causes rickets is a factor.

Any infant past three or four months in age may have it. Fortunately, it is overcome before the second birthday. Improved health and right feeding causes it to disappear.

"Head-rolling" is another of these nervous ailment. As a result of it all the hair may be rubbed off the back of the head.

This form of affliction differs from the first one I described. It is a voluntary action. The other is from a nervous disturbance and cannot be controlled by the child.

Head-rolling is due to the effort of the child to stop itching of the skin of the scalp or to relieve pain in the ear. When the exciting trouble is removed the head movements stop.

A third affliction similar in nature is called "head-banging." The mother is alarmed by the force with which the baby bangs its head against the sides of the crib. Pain in the head of a severe nature, or pain in the ears may be responsible. In all such cases the ears must be examined.

The last of these peculiar troubles is described as "head-dropping." There seems to be a lack of strength in the neck. Unless it is supported, the head falls backward or forward.

Children who have this disorder are unlikely to be entirely normal mentally. At least the symptom raises the suspicion that all is not right. Such youngsters are ligely to be backward in their physical and mental development.

In every such case, either of head-dropping, or any of the other conditions I have mentioned, the family doctor should be consulted. He will examine the child with great care and determine what should be done to make the child comfortable and normal.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

A Mysterious Telegram Arrives for Mr. "H. Underwood"

LILLIAN leaned forward in her chair as the telegraph messenger made his inquiry concerning the address of "Mr. H. Underwood."

"I am Mrs. Underwood," she said. "I will take the telegram. Mr. Underwood is not here just now."

The messenger looked dubious. "When will he be back?" he asked, and I saw Lillian stiffen.

"Not for two or three hours," she said icily, "but that has nothing to do with your delivery of the telegram. I always receive Mr. Underwood's telegrams and answer them if they require a reply."

"This doesn't need an answer," the boy persisted. "It's an answer to one he sent, and he told us not to deliver it until a certain hour. They got it mixed up in the office whether he said one or four, so when it came in just now, the boss said I'd better bring it along to you."

So Harry Underwood had rushed to the village at noon to send a telegram. My eyes went to Lillian's, and I saw the same uncertain, startled questioning in them which I knew were reflected in my own. Then there flashed into them a purposeful gleam which held something of sternness and something oddly like impishness.

"You may give me the telegram," she said, holding out her hand for it.

He put it in her hand and departed hastily. Lillian turned it over without opening it.

"I wonder which way they went," she mused. "Madge, do you know? Could you catch them with our car?"

"Against that new beauty?" I asked with a rueful smile. "Not a chance in the world unless they stop somewhere, which I doubt they will. And I don't know even which direction they're taking except that they went down the road. But there are four roads less than a mile away, any one of which might be the one Mother Graham might choose. She is the arbiter of this particular outing, you know."

"Yes, I know," Lillian said absently. "So that's that. Come on upstairs to my room, will you please. I can decide better there what to do with this."

I followed her to her room with a mind distinctly apprehensive. I appreciated her mental quandary. The telegram might be one which required an immediate answer which she could give, for I knew that she was fully cognizant of her husband's affairs. But borne in upon me was the deep conviction that it was a message which Harry Underwood had taken especial pains that she should not see and that only the misunderstanding of the man at the telegraph office had brought it to the farmhouse during his absence.

"Sit down, Madge," Lillian said when we had reached her room, "while I mull this over a bit."

She paced rapidly up and down the room for a few seconds, the telegram tightly clutched in her hands. Then she threw up her head, her hands relaxed their tensity and she took the chair opposite mine.

"Either this is an ordinary telegram," she said in an argumentative tone, "in which case I ought to open it, as is always my custom, or it is something which Harry did not intend me to see, something which bars me from opening it. What is your opinion, Madge. "To open or not to open—that is the question."

THE WONDER ROUGE OF THE DAY...

Look Younger Tonight

New Beauty Secret quickly changes dull, off-color complexions to bright, true-color—any face looks lovely—years younger at once

Nothing spoils good looks more than a dull, sallow, off-color skin. Such complexions always make a woman look old. A clear, true-color skin always makes a woman look younger than her years. Science has found a quick, easy way to change these old-looking, off-color skins to true-color clearness. And, to get this radiantly clear, lovely skin takes only five minutes! That's why this new method is called the beauty miracle of modern science.

Bright, clear skin always looks young

Five Minutes Works Wonders!

Dull, lifeless, off-color skin becomes bright, healthy, true-color — radiantly clear — five years younger in five minutes! Enlarged pores are refined to the smoothest, finest texture; oily skin is corrected; blackheads are dissolved; persistent skin eruptions are banished and the tell-tale signs of age vanish as if by magic; poor skins become beautiful as if complexion faults were wiped away with a sponge. You will really marvel at the lovely face you see in your mirror tonight.

It's no fairy wand that gives a new skin so quickly. It's simply due to the amazing, rejuvenating properties of creamed milk of magnesia, which rehabilitates the skin in the same easy way that plain milk of magnesia purifies the stomach. This is because skin impurities are acid. Doctors treat acid inside the body with milk of magnesia. And, now, dermatologists are getting amazing results in banishing complexion faults with creamed magnesia. All you do is anoint your skin with it, massage and rinse with water. It's as simple as washing your face!

Accidental Discovery

Until recently, creamed magnesia was the secret formula of a very successful New York skin specialist. He prescribed it as a sure, quick remedy to heal unsightly skin eruptions. But women soon discovered it also refines enlarged pores, changes sallow, off-color skin to true-color clearness and makes the face look years younger. They also found it cleanses perfectly. It removes make-up and extracts impurities deep-set in the pores better than any soap or cleansing creams. Scientific tests proved these women had made a wonderful discovery. So, thanks to this accidental discovery, science now offers you a priceless skin beautifier, better for your complexion than anything ever before discovered. It takes the place of soap, cleansing cream, massage cream, astringent, skin tonic and face bleach. It gives the skin a radiant clearness and fades out freckles better than a bushel of lemons. Yet, it is so mild that doctors tell mothers to use it instead of soap to bathe infants. It certainly is a blessing to fine, sensitive skins that soap so easily irritates and coarsens. Being greaseless, it cannot fatten the face or grow hair.

No More Ugly Nose Pores

Doctors Recommend It

Thousands of doctors now insist that their wives, patients and nurses use nothing but creamed magnesia on their faces. They say it keeps fine skin fine and makes poor skin lovely. And, it's pure enough to drink.

Don't Hesitate

Do not hesitate to use this marvelous skin treatment at once. Thousands of delighted women have written they could not at first believe anything so simple could be so wonderful. But, they were convinced when they saw so many friends suddenly get lovely complexions. Because it gives such amazing results so quickly, even the largest druggists everywhere are finding it hard to keep enough in stock to supply the tremendous demand.

To get genuine creamed magnesia, ask for Denton's Facial Magnesia. Remember, five minutes works wonders. So, get your magnesia today and look lovely tonight. It costs almost nothing to try.

GUARANTEE

If Denton's Facial Magnesia does not make your skin look finer, lighter, clearer and younger, even after the very first application, your dealer is told to refund your money at once without question.

Corns
Lift Off—No Pain!

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off! You'll laugh—it is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit!

Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic!

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

FREEZONE

Scientific Frankness—and Woman's Oldest Hygienic Problem

Doctors everywhere now advise this new kind of sanitary protection for better health and greater comfort.

WOMEN who have had the advantage of medical advice already realize the importance of the new Kotex. They find a new sense of freedom, a refreshing composure and ease because of this improved sanitary protection. And, at the new low price, they find this method actually cheaper than home-made cheesecloth and cotton substitutes.

The amazing absorbency of Kotex filler (Cellucotton absorbent wadding) provides assurance as well as physical comfort. It is actually 5 times more absorbent than cotton. Ease of disposability means much, not only in emergency situations, but at all times. Kotex is disposed of like tissue...as directions in each box explain. And there are certain new perfections which distinguish this as the superior sanitary napkin.

Kotex deodorizes safely, instantly

A process has been perfected whereby each pad deodorizes completely and safely. This formula is considered so important that it has been patented by the Kotex Company. It is, of course, to be found in no other sanitary pad.

No evidence of sanitary protection

Because corners of the pad are rounded and tapered, all conspicuous bulkiness has been eliminated. Snug, secure fit is assured.

Cellucotton absorbent wadding comes in layers, which can be adjusted to one's individual need. That is a unique advantage which women always find comforting. Then, too, there is an easy softness about both gauze and filler today. Manufacturing refinements keep adding to your comfort.

Use Super-size Kotex
Formerly 90c—Now 65c

Super-size Kotex differs from Regular Kotex only in giving the extra protection of additional layers of Cellucotton absorbent wadding. The advantages in using it in connection with the Regular are thus obvious. Disposable the same way. Doctors and nurses consider it indispensable where extra protection is needed. At the new low price, you can easily afford to buy one box of Super-size to every three of Kotex Regular. Its extra layers of filler mean much in added comfort and security.

Buy a box of Kotex today. It is 45c for a box of 12 at any drug, dry goods or department store; also obtainable through vending cabinets in restrooms by West Disinfecting Co.

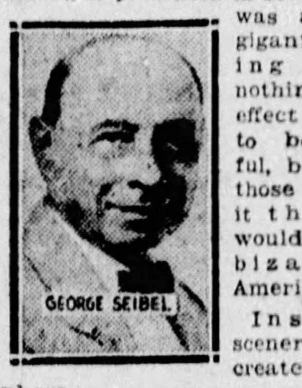
"MACBETH" OF GORDON CRAIG TO BE ON EXHIBITION IN ART GALLERY

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GORDON CRAIG'S sketches for "Macbeth" are on view in Kaufmann's art gallery today, and will remain on view until the evening of March 19. As the Gordon Craig "Macbeth" itself is to be on view within two weeks, many people will visit the exhibition to prepare themselves for the performance—to see what the son of Ellen Terry has done with Shakespeare, or to Shakespeare.

Craig gets his effects largely by the use of screens. When his "Hamlet" was produced in Moscow, there was a maze of gigantic towering screens, nothing else. The effect was said to be wonderful, but most of those who saw it thought it would be too bizarre for American taste.



GEORGE SEIBEL.

Instead of scenery, Craig creates atmosphere.

The Russians, some of the German producers, and some American stage managers like Livingston Platt, have been very busy in this importation of atmosphere to take the place of painted canvas. Impressionism is the name that has been applied most often. Screens, arches, draperies and lights have been used to replace drops, wings and flies.

Of course, to play Shakespeare without scenery is nothing new—that was the way Shakespeare played it. And within our generation Ben Greet tried it—and was so successful in playing the Bard without scenery that finally he tried it without actors.

You Can't Kill The Real Drama

Shakespeare has survived all experiments and mutilations and freakish fashions. The recent engagements of George Arliss and Fritz Leiber in Pittsburgh proved there is very little needed in the way of scenery to make Shakespeare live. You can't kill the real drama.

The Arliss production, designed by Woodman Thompson, had the appearance of great solidity and created the impression of elaborate machinery to make the astonishingly swift changes. I watched the operation of the changes from the wings and found it was as simple as opening and shutting a book. The principal thing for the producer of Shakespeare to bear in mind is that the scenery must not get into the way of Shakespeare. That was the main fault of the Belasco-Warfield "Merchant of Venice."

Fritz Leiber's presentation of five plays was just about as simple and almost as effective. He relied chiefly upon drapes or curtains, with set pieces in the background to give the perspective of the poetry, the fourth dimension into which the imagination of the audience must be transported.

It is interesting to know that Leiber's productions are all built by himself. He has a home at Atlantic Highlands which he constructed with his own hands. And the furniture in that home was made by his own hands. If there were a strike of stage carpenters, Fritz Leiber and Shakespeare could carry on just the same.

From Shanghai To Scotland

Without wishing to infringe on the prophetic privilege of the Witches, it may be safely predicted that the success of the coming "Macbeth" will depend upon Florence Reed, who comes from "The Shanghai Gesture" to play the murderous lady of the superstitious thane, and upon Lyn Harding, who will be her ambitious spouse.

When Lionel Barrymore tried his "Macbeth" upon New York, New Yorkers would have none of it. He relied upon atmosphere rather than scenery. Brother John had done "Richard III" and "Hamlet" with the London Tower and the Grand Central Station for background. And the people had liked John.

You never can tell. Gordon Craig is an eccentric innovator with some startling theories and a revolutionary itch. He would like to do to the stage what Einstein has done to the Universe. But the stage is much more obstreperous than the Solar System. We shall watch with interest the catch-as-catch-can between Gordon and Will Shakespeare in Scotland.

THESE PLAYERS :-: IN AMUSEMENTS :-: OF NEXT WEEK

Genevieve Naegele returns to the Alvin Monday in the operetta, "Blossom Time."

Dorothy Peterson will remain with "Dracula" for a second week in the Nixon.

Edna Wallace Hopper, 63-year-old flapper, will head new Davis vaudeville.

Dashing Douglas Fairbanks will bring D'Artagnan back to the screen—in the Penn—in his new picture, "The Iron Mask," a sequel to his "Three Musketeers."

George Sidney is in "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City," new Stanley booking.

STAGE, FILM BILLS FOR NEW WEEK

Seats are on sale in the Alvin box office for the one-week engagement, opening next Monday night, of "Blossom Time," returning to that playhouse for its second engagement this season, and its thirteenth visit to Pittsburgh in half as many years. The large cast is headed by John Charles Gilbert, Genevieve Naegele, Herbert Lyle and Robert Lee Allen. Matinees will be Thursday and Saturday.

"Dracula," mystery thriller now in the Nixon, will remain a second week, beginning next Monday. Seats are available now for the extension of the engagement, which is announced to end Saturday evening, March 23. There will be Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

A special matinee for women only will be given in the Davis at 11 o'clock Friday morning, March 22, when Edna Wallace Hopper will demonstrate her morning exercises, bath and physical exercises. Her secrets of youth and beauty are thus made available to every woman patron of the Davis.

Douglas Fairbanks will appear on the screen of the Penn next week as D'Artagnan in "The Iron Mask," a sequel to "The Three Musketeers." Teddy Joyce and the Penn stage band are to be featured in the new stage show, "Carnival Cocktail."

BEN BERNIE BOOKED

Ben Bernie will bring his Roosevelt Hotel Dance Orchestra to the stage of the Stanley next week. On the screen will be "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City," with George Sidney, Vera Gordon, Kate Price and Mack Swain heading the cast.

Dita Parlo, heralded as a European beauty, has the only feminine role in "Homecoming," a drama produced with sound, which is to be next week's feature screen offering in Loew's Aldine. She is supported by Lars Hansen, popular Swedish star.

David Lee will be heard singing "Sonny Boy" in the Warner Vitaphone photoplay of that name, which is to be the feature in the Grand, following "Weary River."

Anne Evans, Pittsburgh soubret, is a member of the cast of "Speed Girls of 1929," opening in the Academy with a Sunday midnight performance. Fred "Falls" Binder and Nellie Nice lead the cast.

MENTAL MARVEL LISTED

Tameo Kajiyama, Japanese calligraphist and mental marvel, will head the vaudeville in the Harris the first half of next week. The talkie screen feature will be "The Ghost Walks," the cast including Earle Foxe and Joe E. Brown.

The stage show opening in the Enright, East Liberty, Saturday, will be "Chasin' Rainbows," with Dick Powell as master of ceremonies. The photoplay will be "Kid Gloves," with Conrad Nagel and Lois Wilson.

In the talking picture, "The Barker," which opens at the Regent," East Liberty, Saturday, Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill are co-starred with Betty Compson in the cast.

Vaudeville in the Sheridan Square next week will include Tameo Kajiyama, the Japanese mental marvel, the last half. The two screen features will be talking pictures, "The Ghost Talks" and "The Grip of the Yukon."

John Charles Thomas Sings Here Friday

John Charles Thomas, baritone, will give the closing Art Society concert in Carnegie Music Hall Friday night. Mr. Thomas sang leading baritone roles for two years with the Opera Monnaie, Brussels. Friday night he takes the place of Elizabeth Rethberg, who was taken suddenly ill and was forced to cancel remaining spring engagements. His program will include songs by Brahms, Bungert, Duparc, Holmes, Massenet, Rogers, Galloway, Howells, Manning and Siemonn.

INDICT JUSTICE, CONSTABLE

Justice of the Peace Arthur F. Reed and Constable H. G. Hiser must go on trial in Criminal Court on charges of conspiracy, fraudulent conversion and extortion in connection with the alleged settlement of a case in which Geraldine M. Shuey, 19, of Greensburg, brought suit against George W. Snyder, of Jeannette, Pa., charging that he was the father of her child.

Justice Reed and Constable Hiser were indicted yesterday by the grand jury on three counts of conspiracy, one of fraudulent conversion and five of extortion. Reed was indicted also for malfeasance in office.

Chief of County Detectives George W. Murren, is the prosecutor. The information alleges that Reed accepted $300 in cash from Snyder November 14, in settlement of the action brought by the girl and kept the money.

"At last! Something that ends drudgery."

"WASH WINDOWS NOW WITHOUT WORK" SAYS SCIENCE

New super-cleanser is rubless and scrubless way to end dirt

Wash windows without work? Certainly, Madam! And thousands of women are doing it.

It's simply astonishing the way this new-type cleansing fluid washes away the dirt and grime.

You just pour a little "Old Witch" into your cleaning water. Wash windows . . . but don't bother to rub them a bit.

Off comes the dirt. All cloudiness disappears. And windows sparkle with a lustre and brightness they never had before.

You'll say goodbye to all hard work the minute "Old Witch" goes into your cleaning water.

It softens water. Saponifies grease. Instantly removes every clinging particle of dirt and grime.

You see it's the new ammonia discovery. A super-cleanser, 3 times as efficient as ordinary household ammonia.

And best of all, "Old Witch" keeps hands dainty and soft.

But don't make the mistake of only using it for cleaning windows. "Old Witch" is wonderful for cleaning mirrors, stoves, woodwork. A big help on washday. And simply marvelous in your dishpan.

A giant-sized bottle costs only 35¢. Remember "Old Witch" is what you ask for . . . better grocers have it now.

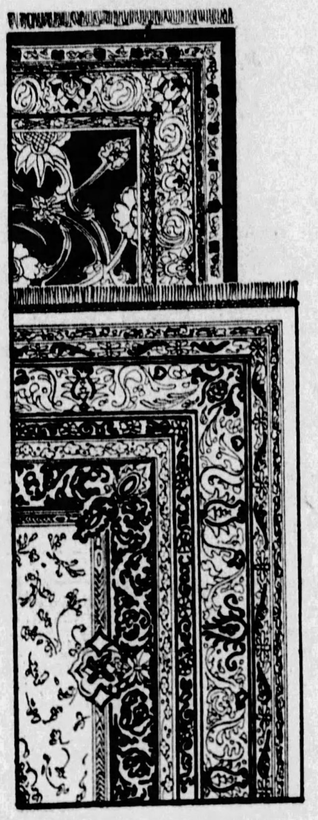
Do Your Rugs "Stay Put?" Or Do the Designs "Rise Up and Smite You"?



One of the primary qualities of a good rug, from a fashion standpoint, is that it will "stay on the floor"—pattern and color must be so cleverly managed that the rug never for an instant obtrudes upon one. The pattern may be bold, the colors daring, yet good design can, to an extent, neutralize them. Look for and demand good design—which, incidentally is not synonymous with costliness. For instance:

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT NEWS

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1929

METRO CHARTER TO GET ONLY MINOR CHANGES

HEARING SET FOR MAR. 19 AT CAPITAL

Changes in the Metropolitan Pittsburgh Charter bill, involving elimination of what are regarded as conflicts in phraseology and, in a few cases, whole sections, will be suggested to the Municipal Affairs Committee of the State Senate next Tuesday.

This comes as a result of the visit to Harrisburg yesterday of Assistant City Solicitor Harold M. Irons, Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langfitt and Assistant County Solicitor Mortimer B. Lesher. The charter will not be redrafted, it was stated.

The three attorneys returned here last night after a conference with John Fertig, assistant director of the Legislative Conference Bureau, regarded as an expert in the drafting of legislation. They reported that it had been decided that certain provisions contained unconstitutional elements that must be removed; that some passages were needlessly cumbersome and that there were certain bureaus set up whose powers must be more specifically defined.

They did not suggest a complete new draft of the charter, nor any major changes, they reported. All their suggestions were aimed at obtaining legal clarity, so that litigation which might result from ambiguous provisions would be avoided. They did not ask a change in purport of any section of the proposed bill, all three concurred in saying.

Actress Enumerates Qualities of Typical American Girl

LEATRICE JOY

The Typical American Girl, sought in Pittsburgh by the Sun-Telegraph, may be one who is free and untrammeled, one who is working for a career of music, Leatrice Joy, film actress thinks.

SHE APPRECIATES ART

The girl sought may be seeking a career in art, but she at least has a keen appreciation of art no matter what her station or position in life. Above is Miss Joy.

SHE IS WELL-EDUCATED

The Typical American Girl, says Miss Joy (above), is well-educated. One whom she recently would have nominated talked with her escort about psychology, Freudian theories.

The breath of spring that came the other day lightened the hearts of many, including Andy Deem's. Andy Deem operates a trolley on the Oakmont-Verona line. Andy Deem breathed deeply of the forenoon air as the sun glistened brightly. In yonder field hopped a robin and across the field a dog barked joyously. Spring could not be far away. A small hillside showing a patch of green attracted Andy Deem's attention. The grass looked fresh and green, heightened by the pleasant sun. In the midst of the patch there nestled a group of springtime flowers. The first flowers with temerity enough to show their pretty heads. The temptation was too strong to resist in such a lovely morning, so Mr. Deem would have one of those flowers, possibly to sport in his uniform lapel. A few steps brought Mr. Deem to the flowers. Spring might have come as the sun and the grass and the dog and the robin all attested in the pretty pastoral, but as luck would have it the flowers that seemed to be blooming in the spring, tra-la, happened to be a part of a woman's discarded hat.

SAMUEL H. GARDNER, the district attorney, went into a downtown store and purchased a dignified cut-away coat. There was some affair of state that called for a coat with tails. After one or two trials the salesman at last found just the right thing. Mr. Gardner was so easy to please the alert salesman wanted to make certain Mr. Gardner would come back again. He didn't recognize the district attorney, so he took a long shot and asked purringly: "What pulpit do you occupy, Doctor?"

And Mr. Gardner giddily mumbled a name the salesman could never understand and walked out of the store with a ministerial air.

Sign This Petition and Help to Cut Taxes

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

To the Congress of the United States:

We, the undersigned, respectfully urge that the Congress of the United States give immediate consideration to the proposition that there be a downward revision of all income taxes on all earned incomes such as salaries or fees, or commissions for personal services. We urge this because of the many instances where wage or fee or commission earners sometimes have just a few years of good incomes and prior to and after that period have substantially less incomes. Their period of better earnings which might give the average wage earner a chance to accumulate some capital is heavily taxed and they seldom have a new opportunity for the accumulation of savings which might tend to make more useful citizens of them.

Labor in general, lawyers, doctors, architects, clerical workers, salesmen, dentists, engineers, journalists, accountants, actors, motion picture actors, singers, musicians, and all the other professional people are in the same plight in the matter of earned income, as distinguished from earnings on capital, and, since they represent a great percentage of the citizenry of the country, we beg the gravest consideration of this proposition. Each signer below hereby enrolls as a member of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph League for the Downward Revision of Taxes on earned incomes and will work with that newspaper toward the end stated.

Permission is hereby granted the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to list the signer in the proper Labor, Clerical or Professional Division of the said League for presentation of our signatures to the United States Congress for the stated purpose.

The signer is not obliged to make any kind of contribution or to do anything except to give his moral support to this movement.

TYPICAL GIRL CONTEST KEEN

"The Typical American Girl?"

"I think I have seen her," said Leatrice Joy, star of the silver screen.

"I was lunching alone in the dining room of my hotel the other day," Miss Joy said. "A young girl came in with a young man.

THE TYPICAL GIRL

"I don't know whether the young man opposite her was her fiance or merely an acquaintance, but if the latter and he had asked her to marry him, she would have looked at him, I think, with steady considering eyes, loving him perhaps as ardently as any young girl of the Victorian era, the knight of her rosy dreams, but weighing him and his proffered love, meanwhile, in the balance with several counter-attractions—a freedom more complete and untrammeled than that offered even by modern marriage, a career perhaps, music, art, travel, leisure, life itself.

"And there, I believe, you have the modern girl, the typical American girl."

Keenest sort of competition is in prospect between civic and social organizations before Pittsburgh's "typical girl" is selected.

COMPETITION KEEN

Steps are being taken in every section of the city by organizations to select their prides for this honor in the hope that their favorites will not only win the title of "Typical Pittsburgh Girl," but also that of "Typical American Girl," the latter carrying with it a reward of $5,000 and national fame.

This quest for a "Typical American Girl" is being conducted by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph in conjunction with the Smart Set Magazine. In addition to articles each day in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph pertaining to the search, Smart Set Magazine has complete details in its current issue.

When a "Typical Pittsburgh Girl" is found, she will be sent to New York with a chaperon, all expenses paid, and compete with 19 other "typical girls" from as many different cities for the title of "Typical American Girl." Candidates cannot nominate themselves. They must be nominated by other individuals or organizations, and all nominations must contain a full history of the girl, her name and photograph.

All letters should be addressed to the Quest Editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Carnegie to Observe Founding of Legion

Burgess J. Kelso Nickel, Carnegie, has issued a proclamation urging all citizens and business houses to display flags tomorrow and Saturday in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the founding in Paris of the American Legion. The proclamation described the work of the legion in obtaining provision by the national government for disabled veterans, orphans and war widows, and points to its peace activities.

Run Down by Truck, Millvale Boy Dies

Struck by a truck at Lincoln and Sherman avenues, Millvale, late yesterday, William Weinheimer, 6, of 309 Lincoln avenue, Millvale, suffered injuries which caused his death a short time later in St. Francis Hospital. Hospital authorities informed morgue attaches that the truck was driven by Fred Barta, whose address they did not learn.

GIRL, CRIPPLED, ASPIRES TO CAREER AS POETESS

Although crippled since childhood as the result of infantile paralysis, Olive E. Meckley, of Franklin, Pa., will not permit her physical handicap to interfere with a literary career. Her ambition is to become a poet.

The girl's poetic ability became apparent while she was at the D. T. Watson Home for Crippled Children, Sunny Hill, Leetsdale, Pa. Here, while other children were at play, Olive devoted her time and effort to writing poetry. Not so long ago, a friend of the institution who had taken a keen interest in the girl, had a collection of her poems published. He has also provided funds to pay for her college education.

Two of her best poems in the published collection are dedicated to the two youngest children at the D. T. Watson Home. The first, "Naomi," reads:

Naomi, fairest of them all,
Grown-ups, babies, tall or small.
Spanish eyes so big and bright,
Darker than a Spanish night.
Hair grown close around her head
As sepals guarding rose bud red;
A tiny nose and underneath
Wee mouth empearled with whitest teeth;
Rose petal lips, and a face alive tinted,
Are so often bright with smiles imprinted—
Naomi, fairest of them all!—
Grown-ups, babies, tall or small.

The poem dedicated to Valentina, familiary known as "Tiny," reads:

Little Tiny, lying there,
Whom they think so sweet, so fair;
Baby eyes of lovely hue,
No Italian sky could be more blue;
Hair in ringlets, golden brown,
Sweeter than any kingly crown;
Eyelashes long and dark upcurled,
Shading her eyes from a worshipping world;
A skin most fair to gaze upon,
As soft and white as down of swan—
Little Tiny, lying there,
Whom they think, so sweet, so fair.

According to Miss Phoebe Stewart, superintendent of the home and Miss Anna G. Lewis, instructor, the Meckley girl is making good progress in her studies at Westminster College.

FRAUD CHARGED TO BUILDER

C. Laverne Glass, building contractor with offices in the Empire Building, was arrested by constables from the office of Alderman Thomas Flanigan, on a charge of false pretense. He was released on $500 bail pending a hearing tomorrow. Mrs. Louise Fisher, of Arlington avenue, accused Glass of having accepted a down payment to build a house for her and of having failed to erect the dwelling.

REFUSE AWARD IS MADE

City Health Director Charles B. Maits has awarded contracts for the disposal of city refuse during 1929 to the American Reduction Company and the Allegheny Garbage Company. An appropriation of $1,600,000 has been provided for that activity in this year's budget.

The American Reduction Company, covering the entire city excepting the North Side, was given a contract at $6.58 a ton for garbage and $7.82 for rubbish. The Allegheny Garbage Company covering the North Side, will receive $6.95 for garbage and $7.82 for rubbish. The higher price for garbage is due to the smaller amount of by-product available from North Side refuse.

NO 1929 REFUND

The two companies have been doing the work for the last seven years at $7.03 a ton for garbage and $8.27 for rubbish. On that basis they had agreed to refund to the city all payments in excess of the cost of operation plus a profit of $1.50 a ton. The 1929 contracts omit any provision for refund.

INSISTS ON SERVICE

Dr. Maits declared that the health department would insist that the contractors give proper service and also asked that citizens keep garbage and rubbish in separate containers easily accessible to collectors in order to get the maximum of service.

"Einstein Forest" To Be Planted In Palestine

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—Albert Einstein, explorer in scientific woods impenetrable to all ordinary and most extraordinary men, is to have a real forest grown in his honor.

The Jewish National Fund announced yesterday that it plans to acquire a tract of land in Palestine on which a great forest to be known as the Einstein Forest will be sponsored by American Jews, was sent Einstein to reach him on his 50th birthday anniversary today.

WRECKS TRUCK TO MISS GIRL

To avoid striking Miss Alice Schurchman, 16, 612 Loyal way, John Davis, 403 Jucunda street, hit the curbstone at Beltzhoover avenue and Climax street, breaking a front wheel off of his truck, yesterday, but too late to avoid hitting her.

Miss Schurchman was treated by a nearby physician for laceration on left leg, bruised right hand, cut on upper lip and brush burns on right shoulder. She was later taken to her home. Davis was not arrested, as it was an unavoidable accident, accoroding to the Mt. Washington police.

Hurt in Taxi Crash, Sue for $25,000

Mrs. Betty Harris and her husband, John R. Harris, of Dormont, have filed suit for $25,000 damages in Common Pleas Court against the Yellow Cab Company for injuries Mrs. Harris received January 5 when a taxi collided with the machine in which Mr. and Mrs. Harris were riding at Oliver avenue and William Penn way. Her head, neck and spire were injured.

DE MOLAY WILL PRESENT PLAY

Chartiers Chapter, Order of De Molay, will present "The Cat and the Canary" in Langley High School tonight and tomorrow under direction of Fulton Tufts, master counselor of the chapter, who formerly was with the Cap and Gown Club of the University of Pittsburgh.

After tonight's performance the chapter will give a dance in Sherrod Temple, across Chartiers street from the high school.

AUTO CRUSHED BY TROLLEY

A coupe driven by J. R. McDevitt, R. F. D. 3, Belevue, was demolished at Lincoln and Hawley avenues, Bellevue, yesterday when it was caught between an Emsworth street car and a truck. McDevitt escaped injury. According to police McDevitt tried to pass a trolley and his car was crushed between the trolley car and the truck.

Judge Denies Writ To 2 Held in Raid

A writ of habeas corpus asked by Helen Miller and Anthony Cerminara, of 907 Wylie avenue, who accused police of holding them illegally, was denied today by Judge James H. Gray in Common Pleas Court. Police Inspector James N. Hoey testified they would have a hearing tomorrow. They were arrested Saturday night, when Hoey's Center avenue police made a raid at 907 Wylie avenue and charged them with keeping a disorderly house.

Dissatisfied, Wife Left Him, Suit Says

Charges that his wife left him after declaring she was dissatisfied with him as a husband, and that later she drank were made by Matthew C. Patterson, 319 Jane street, Carnegie, in the course of his divorce trial before Judge James H. Gray against Mrs. Esma Noah Patterson, 722 Bell avenue, Carnegie.

NAOMI

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, March 14.

Hurrah for Dawes as Ambassador to England. I can see Charley at one of those afternoon tea orgies saying, "If this is tea, somebody made it out of Chicago River water. Bring me a couple of saucers full of coffee."

Picture him with that old sway-back pipe, and his feet on the desk a-telling King George, "Hell and Maria, George, it certainly seems good to get mixed up with some real bloods after what I been a-roosting with for four years in that Senate."

They will have to call out the king's own Royal 'Orse Guards and Dublin Fusileers to throw him down and get those knee breeches on him.

Yours, WILL.

P. S. He is going first to San Domingo to check up their finances. That ought to keep him busy for almost a quarter of an hour.

Penn. Boy in Health Tests

Millions of boys and girls all over the world, thousands of them right here in Pennsylvania, are being restored to health and strength by the purely vegetable tonic and laxative known as California Fig Syrup and endorsed by physicians for over 50 years.

Children need no urging to take it. They love its rich, fruity flavor. Nothing can compete with it as a gentle, but certain laxative, and it goes farther than this. It gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels so these organs continue to act normally of their own accord. It stimulates the appetite, helps digestion.

A Pennsylvania mother, Mrs. Rose M. Crosson, 225 So. Frazier St., Philadelphia, says: "George is absolutely the picture of health, now, with his ruddy cheeks, bright eyes and plump, strong, little body and he stands at the top in every health test.

"Much of the credit for his perfect condition is due to California Fig Syrup. We have used it since babyhood to keep his bowels active during colds or any children's ailments and he has always had an easy time with them. He always responds to its gentle urging and is quickly back to normal."

Ask your druggist for California Fig Syrup and look for the word "California" on the carton so you'll always get the genuine.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Real Estate

A large stone residence at the corner of Inverness avenue, Plainfield and Murdoch streets, Murdoch Farms, has been sold by Nathan G. Bagran, according to reports heard in real estate circles. The lot is approximately 72x150 feet and the house is a center hall type with 10 rooms. The property had been held at $100,000.

A stone residence in Ordale boulevard, Seminole Hills, has been sold by Martin Leonard, a builder, to James A. Simpson for $25,000. The lot is 100x205 feet. The home is one of those featured in the Sun-Telegraph color gravure section.

A property along the Backbone road near the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights, has been conveyed from the Union Trust Company to George R. Hann for $20,000.

The Gammon Waffle Shops leased the Rosenblum property, a two-story brick building at 206-08 North Highland avenue, East Liberty, for a term of years and will open a new restaurant. This is a short distance from the site of the proposed new store of Sears, Roebuck and Company.

In Sharpsburg, Frank Szulkowski has sold to the Catholic diocese of Pittsburgh, 67x110 feet improved in Penn avenue near Sixth street for $15,300.

A brick house at 55 Shady drive, Mt. Lebanon, lot 38x122 feet, has been sold by Florence L. Dohn to Lieta B. Gammon.

Building permit applications included:

Fourth Ward—Gulf Refining Company, brick laboratory, 377 Craft avenue, $175,000.

Sixteenth Ward—J. C. Buckner, brick dwelling and garage, 1651 Schafer street, $6,750.

DRY AGENT CASE THROWN OUT

The case of Joseph I. Dever, former prohibition agent charged with conspiracy to indict Samuel Hollander and Sidney A. Weiss, of 914 Braddock avenue and Edwin A. Dunn, 640 Corety avenue, Braddock, was thrown out of court by Judge Thomas J. Ford on the ground that the case should have been brought in Federal Court.

Before any evidence was introduced, defense Attorney Samuel S. Rosenberg presented a motion for acquittal and Judge Ford granted the motion.

Dr. Ewers Speaks At Lenten Service

The Rev. Dr. John Ray Ewers, pastor of the East End Christian Church, will speak at the special community Lenten service at St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church, Forbes street and Craft avenue, tonight. Other leading clergymen of various denominations are taking part in the series of special services.

"I Used To Hide My Teeth —they Were So Dark and Yellow!"

"My teeth were so dark and yellow I used to hate to smile.

"Often when conversing with a person I caught myself raising my hand or handkerchief to my mouth to hide my teeth. Finally, the last dentist I went to told me to try Kolynos on a dry brush. It wasn't a week, I can truthfully say, before my teeth became perceptibly whiter. And I know that they were a good deal cleaner, for I could feel how smooth and glossy they were as I passed my tongue over them. Today I can wear pearls around my neck and know that my teeth do not suffer by contrast."

Removes the "Yellow"

A girl may be ever so pretty, but if she has yellow teeth, she is "out". Yet "yellow teeth" are only teeth coated with a plaque or mucin that forms in the mouth. It's this coating that turns yellow and dingy, not the teeth!

A half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush—the Kolynos Technique—fills the mouth with a foam that is antiseptic, germicidal and plaque-disintegrating. Using Kolynos on a dry brush you use it full strength! Also, the brush bristles retain enough of their stiffness to properly scrub the teeth and penetrate the crevices between.

The "live" and antiseptic Kolynos foam spreads itself all over the surfaces of the teeth. It "works on" the yellow plaque like millions of tiny fingers. It breaks it up, and washes it off the teeth. The teeth are cleaned down to the naked enamel. They gleam clean and WHITE!

Roast Whale at 6 Cents a Pound

ROAST WHALE has been introduced to Liverpool and seems likely to become a popular dish. The whale is imported from New Zealand. It retails at from 6 to 12 cents a pound. When roasted it tastes not unlike salt beef.

Cooling Color

TESTS made by engineers with instruments that measured heat flowing through a sunlit roof showed that a white roof for a house is as cooling as the white clothes you wear in hot weather.

Desert Rat Attempts to Kill Brett as Old Hatred Is Aroused

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Dick Stuyvesant and Felicia Brett, both in Reno for divorce, meet and fall in love with each other. With Dick at the hotel is a bachelor friend, John Berkeley, usually called J. B. Felicia, with her 6-year-old son, is visiting the Hodges, old friends from the East, now permanent residents of Reno. Her husband, Alexander Brett, comes to Reno and on her refusal to return to him, threatens to take little Alex away from her. He hires detectives to watch Felicia and has two gunmen kidnap the boy. The boy is rescued by an odd character known as the Desert Rat and restored to Dick and J. B., who are out looking for him with a member of the state police. From the report of his private detective, Brett learns that the Rat was once a prosperous broker, Stephen Pierce. Brett recognizes the name and laughs exultantly. With the failure of the kidnaping attempt and no more visits from Brett, Felicia believes that her husband has abandoned his opposition. Dick notices a change in her, an interest in Reno festivities, that makes him anxious. He has to go away on a business trip, but wishes that he did not have to leave her. Restless in Dick's absence, Felicia accepts an invitation from young Peg Hodge to drive with her and two college boys. Her escort, Billy Blair, is openly admiring. When he offers her his flask, she hesitates, then takes it and drinks. Under the influence of the liquor and a spirit of devil-may-care, she permits Billy to kiss her. Then follows a bathing party at night and a separation into pairs. Billy makes love to Felicia and she returns his mad kisses. The next night the pleasure-mad crowd goes to an inn on the California-Nevada line. Billy takes Felicia into a private room and tells her he is crazy about her. Her scream when he attempts to embrace her is heard by Dick, who has stopped at the inn on his way back from his business trip. Dick takes her home. In a frank and reconciling talk a few days later, they agree to keep themselves clear from the dangerous side of Reno life. Brett, awaiting developments in a hotel at Lake Tahoe, overhears a young wife expressing bitterly her opinion of her aged husband. He wonders if Felicia feels like that. Testing out his own powers of attraction, he begins an affair with an ex-follies girl and is discovered with her in a car by Dick, Felicia and the Desert Rat.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXII.

SLOWLY Brett climbed out of his own car and crossed the road. Six pairs of eyes, with expressions varying from amusement in those of J. B., to complete disinterest in those of young Alex, were upon him. Adrienne Henley-Martin looked scornful, but the eyes of the Desert Rat held blazing hatred.

Felicia surveyed her husband coldly.

"Mother's just come west, and we were driving out to Tahoe to see you," she said. "I'd heard you were there and just thought I'd ask if you'd decided to be decent about my suit." She looked at him contemptuously. "I brought my child with me because I've found it advisable to keep guard over him!" Memory of the agonies she had gone through made her tremble. "Oh, you beast!" she cried.

"Felicia—"

"Oh, what can you possibly have to say that I want to hear?" she interrupted him fiercely. "I was crazy to come here at all! Mother thought if we all talked—but look at you! You're not even honest in your meanness!"

Her eyes flickered over Zelda O'Day, who was smoking a cigaret in complete unconcern.

"I see you have your lover with you!" Brett flung back at her.

Dick started to his feet, but J. B. pulled him back.

"Pipe down, Dick—you can't wallop an old man."

Adrienne Henley-Martin flashed a grateful look at J. B., but Brett was fuming. There it was again—old man!

"I thought your quarrel wouldn't last long," he sneered. "Lovers' disagreements—" Felicia's eyes widened and he laughed unpleasantly. "You see I know everything about you and your Mr. Stuyvesant!" he told her. "Everything!"

Her eyes did not falter. "You know nothing that can do me any harm. Alex," she told him, steadily.

"But maybe I know something that can gum his game a little," a languid voice remarked, and Felicia and Brett turned to look into the smiling eyes of Zelda O'Day. Brett wasn't so interesting, after all. "Mayn't I join this family party? I was getting lonely over there, all by myself!"

Brett looked at her in rage. "You keep out of this, you—"

"Miss O'Day yawned. "How changeable he is!" she commented, sociably, to Felicia. "A few minutes ago he was telling me—"

Brett covered the girl's mouth with his hand.

"I think I'll take the youngster up the road to chase butterflies or something," J. B. whispered to Mrs. Henley-Martin. "Want to come along?"

Felicia's mother was twisting her fingers nervously. "You're a very nice person, Mr. John Berkeley," she said, and taking the boy in her arms, she got out of the car and the three sauntered up the road.

The Desert Rat had been leaning forward, his eyes on Brett's face, his body tense, and Dick watched him closely.

"Don't you let this old bully scare you!" Miss O'Day advised Felicia. "I think I'll walk home—it won't be the first time!" She smiled, waved impudently at Brett, and started up the road.

"Alexander Brett—always the cad!" It was the Desert Rat, straining toward the retired diplomat, quivering like a leashed animal.

Brett looked at him insolently. "Hello, Stephen Pierce!" he said. "Good many years since I've seen you!"

"It's 30 years." The Rat's voice was low, ominous. "Thirty years since you used to come to my house, as a friend."

Felicia turned, startled, and looked at the old man. The voice, deadly now, went on:

"Thirty years since you made love to my wife—got her to run away to Europe!"

Brett laughed shortly. "You've changed, Stephen!"

"Changed!" The Rat's thin face glowed with passion. He trembled. "Yes, I've changed! My life bound up in her—wrecked when you took her away. I didn't care. Business—friends—but I didn't care. I came on here. Nearly 30 years in the desert." Then he flared, "Yes, I've changed, Brett. Maybe you'll find that out!" He rose suddenly, but Dick pulled him back to his seat.

"And how you snatched at the chance to get back at me!" Brett sneered. "You think you're very clever, I presume, with your knowledge of paths through abandoned mines!"

Felicia gasped. So Brett had learned that, too! Dick's hand closed warmly over her trembling fingers.

In the black distance, a coyote howled; another took up the cry. It was dramatic, unreal—this black Nevada night, the desert, the mountains, the eerie echoes of their words. Hatred, passion, human emotions stripped naked.

Brett turned on Felicia.

"You think you can beat me—you!" he taunted her. "You think that because I'm old, you can get rid of me and marry this young bounder!" He jerked his head at Dick.

Felicia's eyes darkened. "There's no thinking about it! I'm doing it. I could divorce you, anyway, after tonight—what I've seen—we've all seen. There is no possibility of doubt!"

Brett laughed. He pointed a finger of scorn at the Desert Rat. "Look at him, Felicia! Look at that wreck of what was once man!"

Heeding Dick's cool counsel, Stephen Pierce sat quietly now, listening.

"Because—years before I knew you, my dear—his wife happened to take a fancy—a passing fancy, at that—to me, he thought he could hurt me! He tried to make trouble, tried to ruin my career! Now you dare defy me. I warn you, I'll wreck your life as I did his if you don't obey me. Take warning from what I did to him. Look at him now—look at him, Felicia!"

Felicia looked at the Rat and smiled, her eyes warm with tenderness. "I've loved him ever since he saved Alex from you and I saw how much my boy loved him," she told her husband. "And now—since I've heard what you did—I love him all the more. He's two things that you will never be, Alex—a man and a gentleman!"

Brett glared. "You'll pay for that, Felicia! You'll come back to me on your knees, begging me to take you in!"

Felicia turned to Dick. "Go and find Mother," she said. "There's no sense in staying here any longer. We'll go back to Reno." Dick obeyed her.

Quivering with rage, Brett stared at the two people whom he had hated most in the world, the two people he had most deeply wronged. And he gave way to an unreasoning desire to hurt the man whose rescue of his son had taken from him his strongest weapon in his fight against his wife.

"She was a pretty little thing—that wife of yours," he said. "Lovely figure. What was her name, anyway?"

Stephen Pierce made a strangled sound. Felicia, in the front seat of the car, turned in time to see the knife flash in the reflected light of the car lamps as Pierce leaped for Brett's throat.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl :-: Story by Lloyd Mayer :-: By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I was ALL-of-a-DOOdah at the SNACK th' other night because BASil gave me the most treMENdous WHIRL, my dear! HONestly, it was TOO perfectly diVINE because he kept TWIRLing me VAGUEly round on his WAISTcoat, sort of, and gazing at me aDORingly and all—you know the type, my dear! GOSH, it was ABs'lutely SWISS because I mean he SUDdenly began getting TERribly INty and confiDENSH like on the BEACH th' other day when that foul oaf ARab had to come BOUNDing up to SPOIL ev'rything, my dear, but ANYways BASil said that on the YACHT he'd deLIB'rately tried to give me the iDEA he was perfectly inDIF'rent to me and all, because he said there was METHOD in his MADness, sort of, on account of some vague PURpose he had in mind at that point, my dear! Can you COPE with it? I mean have you ever HEARD of anything so CRYPtic, sort of? Well, ANYways, I'm conVINCED he was just about to BREAK down and confESS he'd REALly loved me with a consuming PASH from the FIRST, my dear, only at that point WHAT do you s'POSE? Well, my dear, that goofer BULL proceeds to cut IN and RUIN my EVEning—can you BEAR it? But, ANYways, my dear, I've got a DATE with Basil to go WALKing on the BEACH tomorrow and I'm so THRILLED at this point I could blot BEETles, no less, because I simply know he's going to adMIT he's fallen for me like a ton of BRICKS, my dear—I mean I ACtually DO!"

The Nestegg -:- By WALT FRANCIS -:- Daily Short Story

"TO OUR friends and clients:

We deem it our duty to call attention to the fact that one of our country's infant industries—aviation—which at present is in the forefront of the public interest, is still almost entirely neglected marketwise. We would not be surprised to see a big movement in this stock. . . . We are ready to handle your orders subject to our liberal margin requirements. . . .

"Got this, Miss Renner?"

Marion Renner gazed at the rotund form and the furtive, shifting eyes of the middle-aged Wall street broker. How often in the three years that she had served him as secretary had she not written such letters. . . .

"Are you really convinced, Mr. Shoemaker, that this stock is going to make good?" she asked.

The broker transfixed her with jaundiced eyes. "Look here," he said tartly, "a girl of 22 and with your straight black hair and big brown eyes ought to be intelligent. Up to now you used to mind your P's and Q's, and you have been long enough in this office to know that we always do the right thing by our clients. Of course, I am no prophet. . . ."

The day's toil over, Marion hurried home to Flatbush. Past pretentious colonial mansions her silk-stockinged legs turned to a side street with little cottages—one of these was the family homestead, left to her and her widowed mother. There Marion's weekly pay envelope gave to both of them a comfortable, if modest, livelihood.

Rounding the corner, she saw her fiance, Ralph Donnell, approach the house from the opposite direction. With his tall, slender figure and his slow, swinging gait (he walked like the overgrown boy of 25 that he really was) she recognized him from afar.

When they entered the house together, he seemed to her different today, though. His gray eyes appeared full of excitement. His dark hair was tousled. They greeted her mother in the kitchen and went into the parlor. She sat down on the old Morris chair by the window. He drew a footstool up to her, put his hand on her arm and whispered:

"I want you to do something for me."

Marion had never seen him like that. "You frighten me," she said. "What has happened?"

He withdrew from his inner coat pocket a bulging envelope and dropped the contents—10 $100 banknotes—on her lap. Her eyes opened wide.

"What does this mean?" she asked, bewildered.

"A short cut to happiness," he answered. "It's a legacy from an aunt, which has just been paid out to me. I beg you to take the money and buy 100 shares of Aviation common at the opening of the market tomorrow on margin."

"Why, Ralph, you—a gambler—?"

"No, Marion, I am not. But you told me often enough that we can't marry until I have enough money in reserve. In my $40-per bookkeeping job with that auto concern uptown I'll never get there. And I don't want to wait any longer. It's time we got settled. Bob Parker gave me the tip on the market. It's red hot and a sure thing. I'll make ten thousand . . ."

"I understand," mused Marion. "Your friend Bob. . ."

She looked into his eyes, trying to read his soul. "Dear Ralph," she sighed, with a bitter smile, "will you ever cut your wisdom teeth? Are your friends really such marvels of success that you should try to imitate them? Your little nest egg will melt like butter in the sun. Besides, I never said that so much money is necessary. With both our salaries combined and the $1,000 as a reserve for emergencies, I think we can well afford . . ."

"There goes my old-fashioned little girl. You don't think for a moment that I would let you go to work and slave in an office when we are married. No installment life for me, with my wife managing and skimping. I'll never be—Mr. Marion."

"Don't be absurd, Ralph," laughed Marion. "Who is the old-fashioned girl, anyhow? Take Bob's Ellen, the dainty Dresden doll. Of course, she is very modern, stretched the better part of the day on her couch in their one-room apartment uptown, reading trashy stories, or sitting at the rented piano and singing the latest Tin Pan Alley hits, while the head of the family hangs around in hotel lobbies and brokers' offices, picks up a little money here and there in gentlemanly fashion by playing the market or sitting in at poker, and occasionally steering well-to-do acquaintances to a salesroom on automobile row. The modern girl is old-fashioned enough, though, to tread the primrose path with her husband, never asking where he reaps what he has not sown."

"By Jove, you are right—as always," Ralph blurted out. "But"—his eyes assumed the appealing look of the child begging for just one more piece of candy—"let me have my way this time. I give you my word, it will be the last."

"All right," whispered Marion when her mother called them to dinner, "I'll take the money."

The next day the stock market was boiling. Marion had a hectic time at the office. The board room was crowded with excited people taking flyers in Aviation Common. The stock opened at 125 and shot right up to 150. It touched 155. There it lingered for a while as if in doubt which way to turn. Then it wavered and, before the outsiders could get out, the stock tumbled and tumbled. It closed at 100—a loss of 25 points. The news-ticker explained later that the company's new patent—a fool-proof gyroscope device—had turned out a failure.

Panic-stricken, the customers whose scanty margins had been wiped out, besieged Mr. Shoemaker's office. But he had left for the day. The only occupant of the room was Marion, busily writing the customary margin letters.

When the storm has subsided, the door was opened timidly. Ralph entered, his face ashen-white.

"I've learned my lesson, Marion. The money is lost. Never again. Can you forgive me?"

"There is nothing to forgive, Ralph. We all make mistakes. Tell me rather, what you propose to do now. Shall it be my way: climb the ladder to success and happiness together?"

"Yes, Marion. I'll go to work and I'll try to save . . ."

"Well—give me your hand—here is a nice little starter."

With a wink out of the corner of a tear-glistening eye, she pressed into his hand the envelope with the ten hundred dollar banknotes which he had given her as margin.

"It's your little nestegg. You see, I didn't buy that stock. I thought, Matrimony Preferred might be a better investment than Aviation Common."

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

DREYFUSS CALLED SQUAREST TRADER

THOUGH it was clear to experienced baseball followers from the start that the report was without foundation, knowing, as they do, that the chief executive of the circuit has absolutely no say in such matters, the rumor has persisted that the Brooklyn club would ask League President John A. Heydler to annul the Wright-Petty-Riconda trade. An official statement by President Heydler himself ought to put an end to the foolish talk. During a visit to the Dodgers' camp at Clearwater, Fla., the league chief said in reply to questions asked by Brooklyn newspapermen that "should the former Pirate shortstop be permanently disabled the Brooklyn club would have no chance in the world to obtain redress from the Pittsburgh club." In other words, you take your own chances in a baseball trade. If you're stuck that's YOUR hard luck.

John A. Heydler.

Furthermore, President Heydler proceeds to set everybody right on another part of the ridiculous story, the charge that the Pittsburgh club knew of the injury to Wright when it made the trade. "Of all National League club owners, Mr. Dreyfuss would be the last to trade to another club as sound material a player who was not in first-class condition," says the league chief. "If there is anything wrong with a player, and Mr. Dreyfuss has knowledge of it, he so informs the officials of the club that he is doing business with. He is on the level, and expects the other fellows to be on the level with him."

ANOTHER part of the Wright yarn that has been exploded, a portion that Pittsburghers knew to be untrue at the time it was printed, inasmuch as Wright was not in this city during the month named, was that the player's injury was suffered during a handball game here in November. Wright himself now admits that he was hurt in Kansas City.

Baseball had a parallel case eight years ago. Following the season of 1921 the Cincinnati club traded Pitcher Rube Marquard and Shortstop Larry Kopf to the Braves for Pitcher Jack Scott. In the spring the Red management said it had discovered that Scott's pitching arm was dead and set up a bleat that it had been buncoed by Boston, but Cincinnati's demand that the trade be annuled was laughed out of court. Later the Red bosses were placed in an even more ridiculous light when, after they had discarded Scott as worthless, John McGraw picked him and showed that he was still a winning pitcher. Right now Scott is training with the Giants for the 1929 season.

WRIGHT isn't the only star player in the big show to worry his manager and teammates this spring by bobbing up with a shoulder injury that affects his throwing. Gabby Hartnett, crack catcher of the Cubs, is having trouble of a similar nature, and his condition is said to be causing some concern in the Bruins' camp.

Gabby Hartnett.

Hartnett was sent to a Los Angeles specialist, who diagnosed the ailment as the formation of water on the catcher's shoulder, saying that Hartnett would not be able to work in natural form again until the liquid had been removed.

AN OPERATION will not be necessary, as was at first feared, however. The specialist is of the opinion that a process of hot applications will take away the water in about 10 days. He put on a paste application and allowed Gabby to rejoin the Cubs in training on Catalina Island, with instructions not to attempt any throwing, ordering him to return to Los Angeles later for a week of treatment. It would be a hard blow to the pennant chances of the Cubs if Hartnett were to be put out of commission for any great length of time. They have another smart catcher in Mike Gonzales, but Hartnett's slugging ability is a huge factor in addition to the fact that he is the team's sparkplug when behind the bat. Gabby hit .302 last year, and two-fifths of his safeties were extra-base wallops. He made 26 doubles, nine triples and 14 home runs. Gonzales batted only .272.

ANDY COHEN isn't going to let Andy Reese walk away with that second-base job in the Giant lineup after all. Reese held a slight edge at the start, as Cohen for some reason was much slower around the sack than at any time last year, but now the Jewish boy has jumped into the lead.

Given a new chance when a charley horse put Reese on the disabled list, Cohen has taken full advantage of the opportunity. In his first two games he did some tall hustling at the keystone, made some rare stops, figured in a couple of double plays and bagged two hits in each contest, including a home run and a double. The outcome of the duel may remain in doubt until the season opens.

THOUGH C. C. Pyle is showing that he is a glutton for punishment by taking a chance on another transcontinental footrace this year, Red Grange, his former partner, is willing to let him have all the glory, and even all the possible profits, that he may get out of any further undertakings of that kind.

"I am done with bunion derbies," Grange told George Currie. Pyle lost a lot of money on the last race, but he learned a great deal and maybe he'll pick up a profit this year. However, he's welcome to it. No more derbies for mine, not even when motor car wheels are under me, as they were during the last one."

Red Grange.

BUT though he had broken off all business relations with Pyle, Grange means to carry on in one branch of sports. That is professional football. "I am going to play pro football again next season," he said. "That branch of the gridiron sport doesn't get the break it deserves. Practically every man on a pro team could coach a college squad. A game is played through as though a mathematician had laid it out on paper. When I was playing college football, you could coax one of the boys in the line out of position and go through, but you can't do that to these pro babies. The game isn't as rough, either, but I don't mean by that statement that the men are not playing hard at all times. Why Pottstown had a miner in its lineup last year who was a terror. When he hit you, you stayed hit. You got up from the ground with every bone in your body groaning."

CHICK HAFEY, Cardinal left fielder, who will wear spectacles in all games this season on account of sinus trouble, is not the first regular player to use "cheaters" on big league fields. As is well known, the majors have seen four bespectacled pitchers in Will White, Lee Meadows, Carmen Hill and Norman Plitt, but apart from the hurling department there have been George Toporcer and Daff Gammons.

Both Toporcer and Gammons were infielders. Toporcer filled utility roles for the Cardinals for several years, and is now captain of Bill McKechnie's International League club in Rochester. Gammons, a star halfback in football at Brown, and later in this district for the D. C. & A. C. and Homestead I. A. C. professionals, was given a tryout by the Boston Nationals, but couldn't make the baseball grade, unlike his old halfback mate, Dave Fultz, who hung on with the Yankees and others for several years.

ACCORDING to camp reports, the wearing of spectacles appears to have solved for Hafey a problem that an operation more than

DAVIES CHIEF SPEAKER AT BANQUET

By JESS CARVER

One of the leading social affairs of tonight will be the Duquesne University basketball banquet at the Fort Pitt Hotel, tendered the members of the varsity court team by the athletic association in recognition of their endeavors in fighting for the old Red and Blue during the just closed court campaign.

The feature of the evening, or rather, the first added attraction to the steaks will be the election of a captain to succeed Jacques (Jock) Rosenberg, the beefy guard who will graduated from Duquesne in the spring. The second attraction will be Chick Davies' annual speech. This will be worth hearing, provided he hasn't lost his notes. He left 'em in his other pants last year and had to send away out to Homestead for 'em, nearly spoiling the evening.

Mr. Brud Stephens, the well known married man of the squad, is likely to succeed Jock as captain. If he does, Homestead will have something more to cheer about.

The Dukes have had far more successful seasons than the one just past, but strange as it may seem, even a lean year does not affect the appetite of the boys and the bill Graduate Manager Holohan will have to pay tonight will be no indication of the number of games won and lost.

Former Boss Tells Waners Pirates Are "Through"

PASO ROBLES, March 14.—Charley Graham, one of the owners of the San Francisco Seals, who employed Paul Waner for several seasons, has made an effort to get the little slugger and his brother, Lloyd, into the Pirate fold, it was learned here today.

Graham, it is reported, has advised Brother Paul that the Pirate officials will not go any further in their bids to the two outfielders.

Barney Dreyfuss and Graham came to Paso Robles yesterday to see the Pirates and Seals in action. The Pirate owner appeared to be as adamant as ever concerning the holdout pair.

NATIONAL NET DRAW MADE

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—Eight Americans and Jean Borotra, of France, have been seeded in the draw for the National Indoor Tennis champion, Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, N. Y., veteran Davis Cup player, has been placed at the head of the list, followed by William Aydelotte, last year's winner and Julius Seligson, Lehigh star who was runner up to him.

J. Gilbert Hall, of Orange, N. J., Canadian title holder, is in fourth place. The other places on the American list are filled by Herbert L. Bowman, Lawrence Kurzrok, Gregory S. Mangin and Merritt Cutler. Borotra stands alone on the foreign list.

UMPIRE MAGEE OF NATIONAL LEAGUE DIES

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(AP.)—The death of Sherwood Magee, an umpire in the National League, and for many years a big league player, marks the passing of one of baseball's most colorful figures.

He was stricken with pneumonia at his home a week ago. Death occurred last night. He was 44 and is survived by Mrs. Magee and three children. The funeral will be held Saturday.

Baseball fans of 20 years ago, will recall Sherry Magee, then an outfielder with the Phillies, as one of the greatest natural batsmen in the game. He led the National League in batting in 1910, with an average of .331. That season he went to bat 519 times, playing in every game on the schedule.

GREAT FIELDER

Magee was a past master in judging fly balls, a fine base runner and full of so-called "inside baseball," for which the big leagues were noted in that period. The season of 1910 was his biggest batting year, but in 1911, he finished second in batting and in 1914, was third. He led the circuit that year in driving runs across the plate with a total of 101 and also topped the league in extra base hits.

Magee came to the Phillies in 1904 and was captain of the club in 1913. He became dissatisfied the next year when Pat Moran was named manager to succeed Charley Dooin, feeling that he was entitled to the post.

DUAL WINDUP CARDED FOR TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Two 10-round battles between hard-fighting welterweights top off an interesting boxing bill in the Palisades roller rink arena, McKeesport, tonight. One of them will bring together Young Rudy, of Charleroi, and Phil Scello, of McKeesport, and the other will be between TNT Gibbons, of Donora, and formerly of New England and Cleveland, and Leo Kyburski, the free-swinging Swissvale former amateur star.

Young Rudy

The Rudy-Scello bout is a return engagement, Scello having bested Rudy in the same ring more than two years ago.

George Kerston, of McKeesport, boxes Howard Williams, of Swissvale, and Eddie Brennan, of Pittsburgh, meets Tommy Hileman, of Donora, in the six-round preliminaries. Williams and Brennan are Negroes.

GOODRIDGE FILLS CARD

Matchmaker I. E. Goodridge, of the Washington (Pa.) Gardens, has completed his card for next Monday night. Terry Lingo, of Columbus, Louisville, Cincinnati and points west, will meet Ray Newton, of Mansfield, O., in the main bout of eight rounds, a return battle, Newton having stopped Lingo in five rounds at Mansfield some months ago. In the three six-round preliminaries, Johnny Smackey, of Canonsburg, will oppose Young Danney, of Midland; Eddie Anderson, of Scottdale, will clash with Gene Doyle, of Mansfield, and Harry Spencer, of Washington, will meet Jimmy Marlow, of Aliquippa, while Andy Radd, of Donora, and Nick Carusso, of Midland, will open the show with a four-rounder.

CLINSTOCK DUE SATURDAY

Jim Clinstock, the Indian giant, who meets Jack Washburn, of Chicago, in the main bout of Ray Fabiani's opening wrestling show at the Moose Temple next Monday night, will arrive in Pittsburgh Saturday, it was announced today by Leon Balkin, local representative of Fabiani. Clinstock stands 6 feet 6 inches in his socks and weighs 225 pounds, while his opponent scales 220 and is 6 feet 2 inches tall. The Indian has met many of the stars of the mat game, including Joe Stecher and Strangler Lewis, former champions; Joe Malcewicz, Jim Browning, Ray Steele, Dick Daviscourt, Jim Hills and Richard Shikat. His pet hold is the body scissors, made famous by Stecher. Clinstock and Washburn will wrestle to a finish, two out of three falls. Gino Garibaldi, the Italian, and George Zacharias, the Greek, are down for the 45-minute limit semi-final, and Stanislaus Zbyszko, former champion, and Mike Katchoff, the Russian, will appear in the 30-minute limit preliminary.

BET ON PROFIO KAYO

In these days of a paucity of knockouts in main bouts, it is a rarity for the fans to be betting on such an outcome, but the local bugs are doing that little thing on the Dominick Profio-Tiger Joe Randall

Blankenship Sold Back To Dallas

PASO ROBLES, March 14.—Homer Blankenship, tall right-hander who was purchased by the Pirates last year from the Dallas club of the Texas League, yesterday was sold back to Dallas, the transaction being an outright one.

Blankenship worked a couple of games for the Buccos last fall. He could not do much this spring, the young man coming to camp with a sore arm. He is a brother of Ted Blankenship, of the White Sox.

The passing of Homer marks the second pitcher to be dropped since the club reported here.

LEGION PINMEN REACH FINAL

South Hills Post No. 156 and Wilmerding Post No. 230 reached the final round of the annual Allegheny County American Legion bowling tournament, the first three rounds of play being staged last night on the Enright alleys, East Liberty. The two squads will roll for the championship on the same alleys next Tuesday night, starting at 8 o'clock. The results of the first three rounds follow:

TRAYNOR GETS HOMER

Pie Traynor saved the Buccos from bleaker disaster by hitting to deep center for a home run.

Pie had the range on the fence in the seventh inning, but aside from this outburst the Pittsburgh hitters were as docile as doves.

And the natives left the park in wonder. They came, expecting the big leaguers to trim the coast stars prettily instead of witnessing the Buccos in the role of Stribling push-overs.

Burleigh Grimes and Carmen Hill, especially the Duke of Burleigh, were the principal casualties. Hill was nicked for three runs before he could say "Jack Robinson" in the opening round. Carmen held the invader in check in the next two frames and Jess Petty was an impressive left hander in the three succeeding innings, but when Grimes ascended the mound, the Seals began to swing big war clubs in extreme profusion. The spitball star was spanked for six tallies in two consecutive rounds.

It might be all in fun, yet the Pirates are not feeling so good over it.

BAD WEATHER PREVENTS WORKOUT

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 14.—Manager Bush, of the Pirates, did not need to glance at the hotel thermometer this morning to let him know the day was cold. Donnie stepped outside and shivered; he came back in and called off the morning practice. The mercury was only a few points above freezing, and that is cold weather in Paso Robles, in March.

Bush will be tickled if he is able to get in a workout this afternoon before his regulars break camp. The grass at the ball park is w and as late as 10 o'clock the c was much in evidence.

Those well-conditioned Seals ca into Paso Robles yesterday aft gave the Buccos what Paddy gave the drum—a darned good beating. When Nick Williams' heavy artillery got through with a couple of star members of our pitching staff they looked—they looked like the married men's pitchers at the Elks' picnic. The final count gave the Pacific Coast League champions a 10-to-1 decision.

The long batting drills indulged in by the Pirates in their Paso Robles stay were in no wise reflected as the Wanerless team went into action against Duster Mails and Hollis Thurston, two smart flingers who have had considerable experience in the big show.

SEALS BATTER BUCS

The enemy batters, on the other hand, gave a fine imitation of Ruth and Gehrig in a world series. Langford, Suhr, Jolley and Wingo, four big fellows who swing from the Ruth side and who bat in that sequence in the Seals' order, made our boys resemble a panicky diamond outfield, although it is no more than fair to state that the Seals are much farther advanced in their training. Their season opens in two weeks.

The contest produced four homers that would make those Philly-Polo Grounds roundtrippers look like bunts. The vast acreage wherein the Pirates train permit beautiful homers within the boundaries of the fence, and three of these were struck. Red Wingo, Ivy's brother, walloped his four-sacker over the right-field wall. Suhr and Langford, the latter a Cleveland Indian of last year, connected for the circuit by hitting to the centerfield plots.

PLADNER KNOCKS OUT GENARO

FRENCH BOXER WINS FLYWEIGHT TITLE

Emile (Spider) Pladner, young French ring star, recently knocked out Frankie Genaro, of New York, former world flyweight champion, in the first round of their bout in Paris. Picture shows the finish of the battle. Genaro claimed he was fouled, but the referee ruled the finishing blow a fair one under the heart. As a result of his quick victory, Pladner is being hailed as the uncrowned flyweight titleholder. He recently defeated Izzy Schwartz, another claimant, and also Ernie Jarvis and Johnny Hill, former European champions.

GARDEN SIGNS PAULINO

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP.)—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, has placed his near future in the hands of the Madison Square Garden Corporation. He has signed a contract giving the Garden exclusive right to his services for one year.

PRESIDENTS SCHEDULE 16 FLOOR TILTS

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 14.—Sixteen games comprise the 1930 basketball schedule just completed and announced by Washington and Jefferson College, but two changes are made in the card. Lafayette and Lehigh replacing Penn State and Juniata. The Eastern Pennsylvania schools will be met on an Eastern invasion that will provide games also with Bucknell and Temple University.

A preliminary Christmas holiday trip is to be arranged, likely to the New York area, but dates have not yet been filled. The schedule follows:

January 8—Allegheny, at Washington.
January 11—Bethany, at Washington.
January 15—Carnegie Tech, at Washington.
January 18—Bethany, at Bethany, W. Va.
February 5—Bucknell, at Lewisburg.
February 6—Lafayette, at Easton.
February 7—Lehigh, at Bethlehem.
February 8—Temple, at Philadelphia.
February 12—Carnegie Tech, at Pittsburgh.
February 15—Westminster, at Washington.
February 18—Pitt, at Washington.
February 21—Allegheny, at Meadville.
February 22—Westminster, at New Wilmington.
February 26—West Virginia, at Morgantown.
March 5—West Virginia, at Washington.
March 12—Pitt, at Pittsburgh.

Glenn and Brill To Captain 1930 W. Va. Teams

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 14.—(AP.)—Selection of Marshall (Little Sleepy) Glenn to captain West Virginia University's court team next season and Gordon Brill to pilot the 1930 mat team was announced last night at the annual winter sports banquet.

Glenn is the most versatile player in West Virginia University history and one of the best all-around athletes ever to enroll at the Mountaineer school. For two years Brill has been a regular in the 135-pound division. Glenn's home is at Elkins and Brill lives at Baltimore.

86 Horses Named For Steeplechase

LONDON, March 14. — (AP.) — Final acceptances for the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, March 22, were published this morning and show 86 horses left in the running.

Some of these may yet be taken out, but the final number of starters probably will constitute a record, with 10 of them American owned.

YALE ICEMEN WIN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 14—(INS.)—Although Yale today had broken Harvard's reign in hockey by winning the third and deciding game of the series between the two ancient rivals here last night, the Crimson players were acclaimed even in defeat. They forced the game into six extra periods before succumbing, 3 to 2. It was the longest Yale-Harvard hockey game in recent years.

ROBBIE URGES DODGERS TO SIGN VANCE

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 14.—(INS.)—Manager Wilbert Robinson has again urged the officials of the Brooklyn club to meet Dazzy Vance's demand for a $25,000 salary, which is $2,500 more than he has been offered. The rotund pilot admits the team cannot get along without the services of the strikeout king.

Uncle Robby thinks that Nick Cullop is the best hitter in camp at present. The rookie outfielder hit a triple as the regulars beat the seconds yesterday, 4 to 3.

YANKS MEET BRAVES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14.—(INS.)—Babe Ruth and the Yankees assault the Braves again this afternoon at Water Front Park. The Tribe must find a little punch somewhere to collect any of these games.

TIGER REGULARS WIN

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 14. —(INS.)—The Tiger regulars were one up on the Cubs in the third of their five-game practice series today after winning their second practice tilt, 8 to 4, yesterday.

BEACH TO BAT SIXTH

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 14.—(INS.)—John McGraw announces that Fred Leach, the outfielder obtained from the Phillies, will bat in sixth place in the lineup of the Giants this season, behind Bill Terry. He believes the pair will form the hardest-hitting two-man combination in the league.

CUBS BREAK CAMP

AVALON, Cal., March 14.—(INS.)—The Cubs were to say farewell to their Catalina training camp today when they set sail for the mainland to begin their exhibition tour preparatory to opening the championship season. The first series will be against their "Little Brothers"—The Los Angeles.

FLOOD PREVENTS GAME

DALLAS, Tex., March 14.—(INS.)—A scheduled White Sox exhibition game today at McKinney, the home of George Cox, was postponed until next Thursday because the town is largely under water.

NATS' OFFER IS FINAL

TAMPA, Fla., March 14.—(INS.)—Unless Sad Sam Jones, the Nationals' leading pitcher last year, agrees to accept $11,000 for his work this year he will not be a member of the Nats, according to Clark Griffith, owner. Griffith says his club lost money last year and can't afford any more. Jones doesn't believe it.

COMISH BANS LOCAL BOXERS

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(AP)—The State Athletic Commission has announced the suspension of the following boxers:

Garfield Johnson, of Pittsburgh, until he and his manager appear before the commission for a hearing.

Tubby Noble, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 60 days for unsatisfactory services at Meadville, March 4.

Johnny Windsor, of Pittsburgh, 30 days for failing to honor contract in McKeesport, March 7.

Tiger Jack Payne, New York, indefinitely, until he honors contract with Armory A. C., Wilkes-Barre.

Billy Wallace, of Cleveland, indefinitely, for giving the commission a worthless forfeit check. Must pay protest fee on check.

Jack Singer, manager, of Buffalo, N. Y., was suspended for 60 days for conduct detrimental to boxing, and Charles Malley, manager, of Syracuse, N. Y., until he completes a license as a manager.

James Hennihan, referee, of Wilkes-Barre, was suspended indefinitely for "conduct unbecoming a licensed official" at a Pottsville bout February 25.

JOCK GRAHAM TO HEAD W.P.G.A.

John (Jock) Graham, of South Hills, was proposed as president; J. B. Rose, of Allegheny, as vice president, and Fred W. Wapner, Stanton Heights; E. E. McCoy, Longue Vue; W. F. Frank, Westmoreland, and Ledlie W. Young, Allegheny, as members of the executive committee, yesterday, when officials of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association received the nominating committee's slate of officers for the coming year.

Selection by the nominating committee is tantamount to an election, and ratification of the choices at the annual meeting of the association next month will be nothing more than a formality.

Graham, who supervised the building of the South Hills course, and who regards South Hills as his home club despite the fact that he also is a member of the Stanton Heights and Oakmont clubs, is vice president of the association at the present time, and Rose, who is to be elevated to the vice presidency, is a member of the executive committee.

Wepner, Frank and McCoy are elected to the executive committee for three-year terms, and Young is to serve as a member of the group for one year.

DUAL WINDUP TONIGHT

battle, scheduled for the Moose Temple tomorrow night. Profio's punch has become so much respected that the wise ones are wagering even money he will stop his Negro opponent, despite the fact Nat Randall gave him a close, hard fight in their four-round meeting a few months ago and Profio himself has been badly shaken up in a few of his recent battles. One bet was made yesterday at 1 to 5 that Randall, who himself is a fair hitter, will knock out Profio. It figures to be a punching duel with a decisive finish either way, and the fans are going for it to the extent of an advance sale that promises another sellout for Promoter Francis Flynn.

RESIN DUST

Dan Billick boxes Lou Barre at Jersey City tonight—Manager John Hernon of Motor Square Garden has received Andy Martin's signed contract for his bout with Midget Mike O'Dowd in the Garden, April 1—Manager George Pearle put over a good one when he landed Jackie Rodgers, local Negro bantamweight flash, a spot on the Jimmy McLarnin-Ray Miller card in Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night of next week. What a setting for a New York debut! Jackie's opponent will be Sammy Tisch, of New York.

Reports from Chicago have it that Tom Heeney pleaded with the referee not to stop his bout with Otto Von Porat Monday night when a right hand smash tore a deep gash in his lip and caused him to spill much gore. That's two shellackings in a row for Heeney, one of them from Jim Maloney, and the tipoff on what a sucker Gene Tunney picked for his farewell bout, which rightly proved a financial flop.

Joey LaGrey and Art de Champlain, both formerly of Johnstown, box in Brooklyn tonight. Joey is in the windup with Mule Brown, former Swissvale Negro, and Art meets Bobby Anderson in the semifinal—Jack Burke, veteran heavyweight of Lawrenceville, will box Bill Newton in one of the bouts of the smoker card for the benefit of Lou Holson in Forrester's Hall, Lawrenceville, Sunday afternoon. Johnny Vivio is paired with Tug Phillips, Buck McTiernan with Tom Harris, Andy Stahura with Ray Rodgers and Hugh Haggerty with K. O. Riley. Boo Ryan also will have a place on the bill.

Local amateur boxers will compete in New York and Gary, Ind., next week. On Wednesday night, Mose Butch, Andy Andrucci, George Bretsch and Mike Chambers will box in Madison Square Garden, New York, and the same night a team will leave for Gary to compete in the annual Middle States tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Allegheny Mountain Association, A. A. U., senior wrestling champions will be decided at the Erie Boys' Club next Saturday night.

UMPIRE MAGEE IS DEAD

Giants and the Baltimore Federals sought his services, but at Magee's own request, he was traded to the World Champion Boston Braves for Dugey, Whitted and a cash consideration. He played two years with the Braves and after that was with Cincinnati for two years.

He dropped out of the majors in 1919, playing later with Columbus, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Baltimore.

During the season of 1927, Magee umpired in the New York Pennsylvania League, where his work attracted the attention of President Heydler, of the National and a year ago he was appointed an umpire in that league. He had forwarded his signed contract to Heydler for the present season.

Pete Muldoon, Ice Ring Leader, Dies

SEATTLE, March 14.—(AP.) — Sport fans of the Pacific Northwest today mourned the death of Pete Muldoon, president and manager of the Seattle Hockey Club of the Pacific Coast League.

Muldoon, 47 years old, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday, while motoring to Tacoma with Hugh M. Caldwell, former mayor, and Nate Truxman, co-owners with Muldoon of the Seattle club, to inspect a site for a proposed ice arena.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—(AP.)—Martin J. Hyland, 46, a dominant factor in greyhound racing in the United States, died yesterday after an operation for appendicitis and gall stones. Hyland was vice president of the International Greyhound Racing Association. He and his associates operated racing tracks at Miami, Fla., Chicago, Milwaukee, Butte, Mont., East St. Louis, Ill., and elsewhere.

ERIE ACADEMY COPS

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 14.—(AP.)—Erie Academy High School last night won the Section III basketball title in the N. P. I. A. A., defeating Meadville High on the Allegheny College floor, 28 to 17.

Arkansas Racing, Betting Bill Is Passed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 14.—(AP.)—The House bill by Speaker Abington to legalize horse racing and pari-mutuel betting in Arkansas, has been passed by the Senate, 17 to 16. The measure is now ready for Gov. Parnell. Opponents sought by a filibuster to delay action, but it was broken after a little more than three hours.

A charge was made by Senator Quarles of Phillips County on the floor of the Senate that he had been offered $1,000 to vote for the bill.

meal ticket, win or lose and only meant to be punched.

NOTICE! MR. VERY

Mr. Dexter W. Very, the very well known football official and one of the boys, who enjoys this rasslin' racket, is requested to call Boxing Commissioner Havey J. Boyle, today. Please, Mr. Very, be very kind and do this.

Orvil Martin, of Purdue, Eric Krenz, of Stanford and Jack Elder, of Notre Dame, have led off in the annual attack on college and world track and field records. All three equaled or established new marks last Saturday night, giving promise of doing even better in trials to come.

Krenz established a nice new mark for the discus tossers to shoot for, when he hurled the platter 163 feet, 8¾ inches. The old record was 158 feet, 1⅝ and held by Bud Houser. Martin broke the Big Ten indoor mile mark in the Western Conference annual indoor meet, stepping the 5,280 yards in 4:22 9-10.

Elder equaled the record for 60 yards, for the fifteenth time in his college career, when he sped over the distance in 6 2-10 seconds.

JUNIOR COEN BEATEN

NICE, France, March 14.—(INS.)—In a fiercely-fought contest that lasted two hours and 50 minutes, Robert Gallepe, a Davis Cup player, defeated Wilbur (Junior) Coen, Kansas City schoolboy tennis star, today, 6-4, 6-4, 8-10, 6-4. The match was in the third round of the Riviera tournament now under way here.

JOHN TAYLOR HONORED

John T. Taylor, local sports leader, is to serve as official starter at the national A. A. U. men's swimming championships, to be held April 3 to 6, inclusive, at the New York Athletic Club and the Central Y. Taylor also will act as judge in the fancy diving events.

DUSTER MAILS POPULAR ON COAST

By CHARLES J. DOYLE
Staff Correspondent

PASO ROBLES, March 14.—Duster Mails did not fail to entertain the big crowd that filled the wooden grandstand and bleachers in honor of the Pirates and Seals. The fame of the colorful southpaw apparently spreads around through California. He was given a cheer by the fans when he went to the plate.

"Look out for me coming back to the big show at 33," shouted Babe Pinelli as he frolicked around the field. The former Red infielder is an important member of the Seals, and his exuberance knows no bounds.

WANERS MAY WEEP

When the Waners hear of the result of the first clash with the Seals, they probably will weep on the shoulder of Druggist Green, their sponsor into baseball.

There is no club in the National League that sends up four such sluggers in a row as Langford, Suhr, Jolley and Wingo—and each of them swings lefthanded. Jolley is the Babe Ruth of the Coast League. The big fellow carries more than 200 pounds to the plate and he is well over six feet.

Burleigh Grimes has been ailing and had little resemblance to the Grimes of last summer as he was battered by the slugging Seals. Burleigh had very little steam in his offerings.

Red Wingo's homer was like a golf ball. The brother of Ivy put a golf swing into a pitch around his knees, his loft sailing gracefully over the right field wall.

MAKE ONE-HAND ASSISTS

Dick Bartell and Jimmy Gaveney thrilled the onlookers by their second base play. The Bradevil Dick and the former Red shortstop made one-hand assists on hard drives.

Walter Mails is a smart pitcher, despite the stress he places on comedy. Mails does not have as much speed as in the days of 1920 when he helped Cleveland to a pennant and world series, but he still has plenty on the ball and he works well on the hitters.

MEYERSDALE ON TOP

SOMERSET, Pa., March 14.—(AP.)—Meyersdale High School downed Berlin High, 42 to 37, in the semi-final contest of District 5, P. I. A. A., basketball tournament here last night. The final contest will be played here tomorrow night, with Meyersdale meeting Windber.

Local Trapshooters Hold Meeting Today

The Western Pensylcania Trapshooters' League will hold its annual meeting at the Chartiers Heights Country Club, Thornburg, today. A 50-target trophy shoot will be held in the afternoon.

Tonight the members of the league will attend their annual banquet.

England Slumps In Cricket Match

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 14.—(AP.)—England completed its second innings in the fifth cricket test match today and at the close of play Australia, with all its wickets intact, required 279 runs to win. The scores to date are.

England 519 and 257, aggregate 776. Australia 491, and seven for no wickets, aggregate 498.

EVERY CAR ON THE ROAD IS A USED CAR

2nd Annual YEARS GREATEST USED CAR Sale

Most Used Cars today are "trade-ins" on the latest models. The owners simply tire of their car and want a different make or color or model. These "trade-ins" are not worn out. The person who buys one is the one who gets the bargain. A good used car, a bargain at any time, is even more of a bargain if bought during this special sale. If you want a car, (and who doesn't?) turn to the Classified Section and pick yourself a good one.

WANERS GET OFFER

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—(INS.)—Paul and Lloyd Waner, erstwhile Pirate stars and more recently famous holdouts, have been offered a contract to appear in exhibition games throughout the 1929 season by Gene Doyle, local sportsman. Doyle's plan entails a United States tour and later one in the Orient.

BELLEVUE FIVE, HOMESTEAD IN FINAL

By JESS CARVER

Homestead, a pre-tournament favorite, and Bellevue, one of the dark horses in the race, will battle it out Saturday night in the Stadium Pavilion for the 1929 W. P. I. A. L. basketball championship. Homestead got into the final by putting on a heroic second half rally against Fifth Avenue in the lower bracket semi-final game last night, toppling the Uptowners, 18 to 16. Fifth led, 14 to 5, at the half.

Fifth Avenue romped away to what looked to be a perfectly safe lead in the first two periods of last night's encounter. There was a monster crowd on hand, about 4,500 customers, none of whom were mutes, and the Langley High band was present, playing for old Fifth. Sort of a complimentary gesture; the city schools stickin' together.

HOMESTEAD RAGGED

Homestead staggered about like a ship without a rudder, or rather, like a ship that refused to obey its rudder. Irving Brenner, Fifth's forward, was the big gun of Fifth's splendid attack, and riddled the good ship Homestead from stem to stern. He bagged three baskets and a foul in the first period, and added two fouls in the second.

Admirable defensive play, which broke up the Homestead passes and kept the Campbellmen shooting from too far away; excellent work under the basket and some bewildering passing put Fifth out in front, 14-5, at the half. You wouldn't have given a plugged dime for Homestead's chances then.

But you must stay in there for both halves in this basketball racket. Even a nine-point lead won't stand up before a determined and desperate team, especially when you have a couple Irishmen with which to deal. Bill Campbell threw a son of old Erin named Delaney into the fray in the second period, and it was Delaney who kept his team in the ball game until Birch and Johnston came through with their long tosses in the third period to tie the count.

FIFTH ATTACK FAILS

Fifth only counted two points in the entire second half, one in each period on foul goals by Skeegan and Reiter.

Homestead garnered 13 three field goals and seven out of seven fouls. Birch and Johnston, who'd been banging away without avail for three periods, suddenly found the range in the final quarter and each dumped in a long one, Johnston's knotting the count at 15-all.

With only four minutes to go, it looked as though we might slide into extra period, but Marty Reiter fouled Delaney, who made the point and then Runner, Fifth's big Negro center, cut down Oates as the latter went into the basket and Oates sank two. A second or so later, Reiter was fouled and drew two shots, making one. That ended the scoring, for Homestead successfully froze the ball for all of two minutes and 37 seconds.

STEELERS GET TIP-OFF

Homestead's big advantage throughout the game was the fact that it had the ball on the tip-off. Otherwise, Fifth outpassed and out-generaled the victors, much as that statement may hurt. True, Homestead played much better ball in the second half, even breaking up some of the snappy thrusts of Skeegan and Reiter, and did check up and hurry the Uptowners on their shots from the floor. That undoubtedly saved the day for Homestead, that and the fact that Delaney was in there.

It was a tough one for Fifth to drop, especially after the way the team fought its way through the preliminary rounds and battled it out for the City League title at the same time. Fifth lost nothing through the defeat. One field goal in the third period for Fifth might have changed the outcome of the game. The lineup:

Homestead—18.		Fifth Ave.—16.

Mt. Pleasant Girl Registers 36 Field Goals

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 14.—Miss Paskutis, of Mt. Pleasant Township High School, at Hickory, Washington County, established what is believed to be a feminine basketball scoring record when she made 36 field goals in a game between her team and East Washington High School.

The Hickory lasses won by 84 to 9, the teams score also being a record for this district.

VANDERGRIFT FIVE WINS IN TOURNEY

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., March 14.—Arnold High School defeated Springdale High and Dayton Vocational succumbed to Vandergrift in the first games of today's consolation round in the annual Allegheny-Kiski Valley basketball tournament. The lineups:

The tournament opened last night with five games of the preliminary round. More than 2,000 fans crowded Ken Hi gym. The event was formally opened by Burgess Daniel Burns.

The headline contest saw New Kensington put on extra steam in the final quarter to defeat Vandergrift's big quintet, 29 to 16, when McCandless and Blean netted four baskets in the final moments of the fray.

SHARPSBURG TRIMMED

Freeport, Section 1 champ, was given a hard scrap by Sharpsburg High's diminutive passers in the first three stanzas of the final game of the evening, the score being 24 to 4.

Etna High defeated Arnold, 30 to 24, in an interesting tilt. Ruff, clever pivot, tallied nine goals for the winner.

Har-Brac Union coasted to an easy victory over Dayton Vocational, the score 26 to 10.

RESUME PLAY TODAY

Five games are carded this afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, as follows: Kittanning vs. Rimersburg, Parnassus vs. Reynoldsville, Glen Campbell vs. Oakmont, Blairsville vs. Leechburg and Falls Creek vs. East Brady.

Erie East and Verona were also to have met during this session, but the Lakeside entry was forced to cancel the trip at the last moment.

Tonight's session consists of six games starting at 7 o'clock, as follows: New Bethlehem vs. Brockway, Saltsburg vs. Sykesville, Clarion vs. Tarentum, Aspinwall vs. Franklin, Ken Hi vs. Etna, and the winner of the Glen Campbell-Oakmont game vs. the winner of the Leechburg-Blairsville tilt.

D. & E. Quint Wins Over Wesleyan Five

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., March 14.—Davis and Elkins eked out a 29 to 28 victory over Wesleyan here last night. The lineup:

WESLEYAN—28.		DAV. & ELKINS—29.

PRINCETON HIGH QUITS W. VA. TOURNEY

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., March 14.—(AP.)—Princeton High School, which had been disqualified to play in the sixteenth annual state high school basketball tournament which opened here today, was declared eligible to compete by the State Board of Appeals at a meeting today, but Coach C. D. Rhodes, of Princeton, withdrew in order not to disrupt the drawings.

HINTON TO PLAY

Hinton High School, named to sub for Princeton when the latter was declared ineligible, will play in Princeton's place.

Princeton, winner of the Concord sectional tourney, was barred originally because its team participated in the Southern Atlantic High School Tournament at Lexington, Va., last week. In banning Princeton, the board had ruled that teams entered in the state meet are not allowed to complete in out-of-the-state games without sanction. It was said Princeton did not have permission to go into Virginia.

C. M. Stalnaker, secretary of the board, said after today's action that, because of recent developments it was deemed advisable to reinstate Princeton and that the southerners were exonerated of all charges made in connection with their participation in the old dominion tournament.

In the opening game, West Monongah defeated Mullens, 22 to 19.

MT. HOPE VICTOR

Mt. Hope was the winner in the second tilt, humbling Petersburg, 41 to 22. The Faulkner men had an easy time of the game, during the second half. The lineup:

Mt. Hope—41		Petersburg—23.
Carter	F	Davis
Toney	F	R. Rodgers
Totz	C	W. Rodgers
Parker	G	Root
Ward (C)	G	Robey

Goals—Toney 7, Totz 3, Lively 1, Parker 2, Ward 1, Davis 4, R. Rodgers 6. Mt. Hope 5 out of 15. Petersburg 3 out of 12. Substitutions—Lively for Totz, Baker for Rodgers. Referees—Grover and Harrington.

WASHINGTON IRVING WINS

Washington Irving, winner of the Clarksburg sectional, took a hard fought game from Martinsburg in the third game, 26 to 25.

The lineup.

Washington Irving—26.		Martinsburg—25.
Furbee	F	Vorhees
Hull	F	Rutherford
Herold	C	Karns
Reynolds (C.)	G	Heflin
Kester	G	Beavers

Goals—Furbee 5, Hull 2, Herold 2, Kester 1, Rutherford 3, Kerns 2, Heflin 3. Fouls—Martinsburg, 9 out of 20. Washington Irving, 6 out of 15. Substitutions—Varner for Herold, Sappington for Varner. Referee—Grover and Harrington.

PINEVILLE SUBDUED

Wellsburg completely subdued the Pineville Minutemen in the last game of the morning round, 41 to 19. The orange lads from the upper Panhandle were out in front from the start, using a close shooting attack which could not be stopped by the Southerners. The Wellsburg team held a 18 to 8 lead at the half time. The lineup.

Pineville—19.		Wellsburg—41.
Green (C.)	F	Turley
Weaver	F	Crabtree
Wyatt	C	Lazear
Sizemore	G	Liggett
Morgan	G	Ditty

Goals—Turley 3, Crabtree 1, Davis 3, Lazear 8, Liggett 3, Heath 1, Green 2, Weaver 2, Wyatt 2. Fouls—Wellsburg, 5 out of 7; Pineville, 8 out of 18. Substitutions—Davis for Crabtree, Pfeffer for Davis, Heath for Liggett, Razzle for Morgan. Referees—Grover and Harrington.

a year ago did not wholly cure. He is said to be clouting the ball in his old-time form in the practice games, hitting with a hard straightaway punch.

Manager Southworth has been observing Hafey's stance at the plate closely, and says he has yet to see him duck away from a pitch to protect his eyes. "He is hitting so well that I forgot all about his eyes," said Billy. "He is just a natural walloper."

Eddie McGoorty.

THE fact that Otto Von Porat, in winning the decision over Tom Heeney in 10 rounds at Chicago Tuesday night, showed greater boxing ability than ever before, is being generally credited to the coaching and tutoring the Norwegian heavyweight received for this bout from Eddie McGoorty. The latter is almost 40 years old now and has been out of the ring for a long time, but he is still looked upon as one of the smartest men in the game. A correspondent, having read of McGoorty's hatic reappearance as Von Porat's chief second, writes to ask if he is correct in the belief that McGoorty once fought in Pittsburgh. McGoorty fought here not only once, but three times, appearing in a six-round no-decision bout on each occasion—with Battling Levinsky, known then as Barney Williams, on February 12, 1912; with Frank Klaus on May 24, 1913, and with Buck Crouse on March 17, 1915.

BOOTERS MAY START TITLE TILT AT 3:30

By TOM BIRKS

Due to the many requests of out-of-town fans, Manager Balsarini has asked permission of the local commissioner to start the national amateur cup tie between Heidelberg and the Akron Goodyears at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, instead of at 2:30, as the rules call for.

Many fans can reach Heidelberg around 3:30, and seeing that the battle looms as the most important of the season, it is only natural that the rank and file of local soccerdom wish to see the famous teams in action.

The Blue and White is coming by bus, reaching Heidelberg around noon.

Sixteen men are making the trip, according to the Rubber town officials. The selection of its team will not be made until just before game time. The same procedure was worked out at Dunlevy, and it worked fine.

Balsarini expects to start the same team that has done duty for Heidelberg in the previous round games. A sloppy field will mean that Fred Donnelli will be leading the attack. If cold weather dries up the field, it is possible that Andy Savage will replace Donnelli. But Donnelli will partner Alex Kusia, while McCosky will play inside left. Jones will be back from Cleveland, playing at center half, and the defense will remain intact.

Pity the Man "On a Diet"

Just To Look at a Good Appetizing New England Boiled Dinner Raises a Riot In His Poor Dilapidated Stomach.

When certain kinds of food upset your stomach and cause indigestion, sourness, gas and general misery, why punish yourself by going "on a diet?"

Why not start to rebuild your broken-down stomach—Why not make your weak stomach so strong and vigorous that it will be able to digest and assimilate even the heartiest foods?

You've probably tried a lot of "relievers" that help for an hour or so and then leave your stomach in as bad a condition as ever.

Why not try the sensible plan of taking a remedy that not only brings almost instant relief, but has the power to tone up your disabled stomach and put it in such a clean and splendid condition that it will soon be able to digest anything you eat, without a particle of distress?

Such a medicine is Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant, palatable elixir that Dow's Drug Stores and up-to-date druggists anywhere in America are perfectly willing to sell on a basis of money back if it doesn't give the fullest measure of satisfaction.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stocks Rush Up Wall Street Quotations

STOCKS DASH UP IN BROAD MARKET

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP.)—The stock market today broke out of the narrow trading area within which it has been fluctuating for the past fortnight with a tremendous outburst of strength. Buying orders were distributed over a broad list of issues, a few high priced specialties soaring 6 to nearly 25 points, while a long list of active industrials and specialties sold 1 to 5 points higher. Nearly a score issues moved into new high ground for the year. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume.

Retention of the 5 per cent rediscount rate by the Boston Federal Reserve Bank and the 5½ per cent rate by the Bank of England, which was widely interpreted as forecasting no change in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rate after the close, provided the chief bullish stimuli. Favorable trade and earnings reports also helped to create a more cheerful feeling.

MONEY PLENTIFUL

Call money was in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 7 per cent, with indications that it might work lower before the day was over. Time money held firm. Secretary Mellon's statement that it was a good time for prudent investors to buy bonds was interpreted as an indication that he expected money rates to work lower before the end of the year.

Radio issues were again the sensations of the market. The old stock soared nearly 25 points to a record high at 492 as against a low of 368 last week, and the new stock moved up more than 4 points to a new high at 98¼. Pacific Telephone also jumped 24¾ points to a new high at 200.

Rossia Insurance jumped 12½ points and Goodyear Tire, Burroughs Adding Machine, Commercial Solvents, International Telephone, General Electric, Montgomery Ward, Underwood Elliott Fisher, Wright Aeronautical, Dupont, Bethlehem Steel, United States Steel common, National Distillers, A. M. Byers, International Combustion and Chrysler sold 4 to 7 points higher.

LEAD IN DEMAND

Lead shares were in brisk demand on reports of a decrease of more than 5,000 tons in total stocks during January. Oils were accumulated on the theory that important developments affecting the curtailment of crude were pending. The rise in the motors was associated with reports of expanding spring business.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, March 14.—Increasing number of unfavorable crop reports, especially from parts of Kansas and Nebraska, led to higher prices here for wheat most of the time today. However, enlarged selling on bulges caused a late reaction. An average loss in wheat acreage was estimated as to Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, but on the other hand, wheat quotations at Liverpool closed lower, owing to liberal tenders on contracts there. Word came also that India was offering to resell some of the wheat bought recently for that country.

Wheat closed nervous, ⅛ to ⅛@1c lower; corn, ⅛@⅝ to ⅝@⅞c ...; oats, unchanged to ⅛@⅜c ... and provisions at 2 to 10c decline.

High winds, freezing temperatures and absence of moisture, all unfavorable for wheat growth, were reported today from wheat territory southwest, and had a tendency to uphold wheat values. Besides, dispatches were received saying many thousands acres of wheat in Nebraska had been ruined by floods during the last few days. Word was also at hand that shipments of wheat from Argentina showed a decided falling off. The shipments totaling but 6,604,000 bushels for the last week, 4,226,000 bushels decrease compared with the week previous.

Much notice was likewise taken by wheat speculators today of a statement by a Chicago trade leader that regardless of crop conditions or of heavy supplies, the open interest in wheat here has increased to the enormous total of 145,000,000 bushels, and that a large part of the holdings which go to make up this total will doubtless be kept intact until the passage of farm relief legislation, if not longer. He adds that when a farm relief bill has been enacted, a stabilization corporation will likely have in the neighborhood of one half a billion dollars with which to operate in the wheat market, and that the result of such operation can scarcely be other than bullish.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 14.—There were no sales in raw sugar early today. While refiners showed continued interest at 3.71c for spots, duty paid, holders were asking fractionally higher.

Raw futures opened unchanged to 1 point higher on covering and a little trade buying, influenced by steadiness in London and a better tone in local spots. Houses with Cuban connections sold, but offerings were not aggressive and prices showed further gains in the late forenoon on buying by outside interests. The list at midday was 1 to 2 points net higher.

Quotations furnished by Eisenwein & Sutter.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP.)—Early advances on firm Liverpool cables, large domestic consumption figures and unfavorable weather reports were checked by a renewal of realizing or liquidation in the cotton market here today. These offerings were again absorbed by covering or trade buying which became more active as prices approached the 21 cent level for May deliveries, however, and the mid-afternoon market was quiet but steadier at net advances of about 3 to 18 points. New crop months were relatively firm on the weather news.

The advance to 21.33c for May and 20.51c for October met a good deal of realizing while there also was some New Orleans and Liverpool selling, causing reactions of several points right after the call. But there was continued good demand and the market was steady at the end of the first half hour. Prices were about 10 to 12 points net higher.

The report of the census bureau showed domestic consumption of 598,098 bales for February compared with 668,389 for January and 572,875 bales for February, 1928.

Private cables reported general buying in Liverpool influenced by rains in the South.

Reactions from the opening advance carried old crop months back to about yesterday's closing quotations later in the morning. The new crop held relatively steady on the unfavorable weather reports and fears of overflows in the Mississippi Valley.

New October contracts sold up to 20.22c late in the morning on a spurt of covering, or about 20 points net higher. Old crop months also rallied slightly, but net increased selling and May later declined to 21.05c.

At midday the market was rather nervous and irregular. Prices ruled 7 to 8 points net lower on the old crop and about 1 to 4 points net higher om the new.

West More Interested in Live Stock Than in Shares

By B. C. FORBES

IN THE MIDDLE WEST, March 13.—Out here, when the people talk to you about stock, they don't mean the Wall street variety. They mean livestock. How cattle and pigs and hogs are doing is of much more moment to these people than how Radio and Steel and General Motors are doing. Quotations for beef are much more important than quotations for call loans. Figures covering the receipts of farm animals and of wheat at the leading centers are far more interesting to them than figures covering the volume of trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Whether the United States will or will not join the World Court is less discussed than whether the late seeding and the extremely cold winter will injure the winter wheat crop prospects. The amount of blood spilled by Mexican revolutionaries is not of half as much concern to the folks here as the amount of moisture in the ground.

Tari 's versus free trade are of no academic 'nterest. What the tillers of the soil want to know, all that they want to know, is whether Congress will not get busy and raise those schedules which are being freely scaled by foreigners producing agricultural products, thus taking money out of the pockets and bread out of the mouths of the honest citizens who form the backbone of this nation. The farmers, be assured, have no inferiority complex, no over-modest concept of their own importance in the scheme of things.

One needs to get away from New York, away from the purring of the stock ticker, in order to get a truer grip on the realities, in order to get his perspective corrected.

HERE'S a stock statement which should interest you: Not so many years ago there was practically one head of cattle in this country for every human being, whereas today there is less than one head of cattle for every two Americans.

While Wall Street stocks have been increasing by the billion, the kind of stock that furnishes our food has been steadily decreasing. Look at the ratio of cattle to human population in this country over a period of years:

1900, .89; 1910, .67; 1920, .63; 1925, .55; 1927, .49; 1919, .47.

The total number of cattle in the United States on January 1, 1927, was 57,521,000, against 55,751,000 at the beginning of this year. These figures explain why beef now costs more.

IT may astonish you to learn that, notwithstanding all our progress and prosperity, we now consume less meat than we did at the opening of this century. Here are the figures, in pounds:

	Beef	Veal	Lamb	Pork	Lard	Total
1900	67.8	3.5	6.8	64.7	13.2	156.0
1927	58.0	7.4	5.4	68.5	13.8	153.1

WE have more than doubled our consumption of veal because farmers have found it desirable to market far more calves instead of raising them and getting only an unsatisfactory price for their pains. And besides veal, like calf's liver, has become more popular with those who can afford to pay for it. Lard consumption has increased because we use more pastry.

YOU think of Montana as a great cattle state, don't you and Oklahoma, too; and the Dakotas, and Ohio and Michigan and Wyoming and New Mexico?

Well, let me tell you something. Not one of these states can boast of as many cattle as New York state has.

Only nine states have more cattle—the four-footed species—than New York. They are, in order here given, Texas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Missouri, Illinois and California.

Not only so, but only two states, Wisconsin and Minnesota have as many dairy cows as New York. Milk cows need a lot of water, even though their product doesn't. Maybe New York makes such a notable showing because of its notorious reputation for being adept at watering stock.

TOMORROW I hope to tell about the revolution going on in the transportation of stock. Railway shareholders should read it.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP.)—Conflicting price moves featured the trading in the Curb market today in the face of 7 per cent call money and favorable news developments, including several good earnings reports.

A good share of the trading was centered in the nearly half a dozen new issues admitted to trading. Kolster-Brandes, New London subsidiary of Kolster Radio, opened at 12½, but later slipped off a point. Cities Service new, traded in on a when-issued basis, sold at 30½; Curtiss Reid Aircraft preferred at 33 and American States Public Service at 27¼.

Electric Bond and Share Securities Corporation common was stricken from the list, the company having been merged with Electric Bond and Share. The old Electric Bond and Share stock also was dropped from the list, and the new was traded in around 92, up 2 points. Electric Investors rose 4 points and American Light and Traction yielded 2.

Phelps Dodge (old) yielded a point, but the new advanced 2 points. Anaconda rights were steady at yesterday's closing level as stockholders have approved the split up of the old stock. Higher earnings failed to bring buying support in the early trading to Noranda Mines.

Oils were strong on Lower-Mid-Continent production and President Hoover's pronouncement for production curtailment. Humble, Imperial and Continental rose from 1 to 2 points.

Ford of Canada, extended its gain 9 points to 825, Marion Steam Shovel rose 5 points and Niles Bement Pond (new) soared 7 points. Aviation Corporation of the Americas was one of the few weak spots, declining 4 points.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

ROADS ORDERED TO SELL STOCK IN W. & L. E.

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday removed one of the greatest obstacles to the proposed Taplin trunk line when it ordered the Baltimore & Ohio, the New York, Chicago & St. Louis and the New York Central railroads to dispose of their Wheeling & Lake Erie stock within 30 days.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie, under the plans of F. E. Taplin, would form the western portion of his trunk line which would be built around the Pittsburgh & West Virginia and its Connellsville extension, now under construction. The Western Maryland would form the eastern portion of the line, which would open a new lane of travel between the lakes and the Atlantic seaboard.

BIG DEAL UPSET

The commission's ruling will probably upset an important railroad deal announced only last week. The three roads mentioned in the commission's order said that; subject to the commission's approval, they would sell their holdings of Wheeling & Lake Erie stock to the Allegheny Corporation, a newly formed Van Sweringen holding company, and the Van Sweringens would sell the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh to the Baltimore & Ohio.

In the opinion of railroad men here, the sale of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Stock to the Allegheny Corporation would not be carrying out the provisions of the ruling, since the holding company is virtually identical with the Van Sweringen group of roads of which the New York, Chicago & St. Louis is one.

At the time the trade of the Wheeling & Lake Erie for the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh was announced, it was generally believed that this would make the consummation of the Taplin plan more difficult by concentrating actual control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie in the Van Sweringen hands. The ruling of yesterday not only stops this plan, but also will leave the Pittsburgh & West Virginia as the only carrier owning a large block of the contested road's stock.

TAPLIN STRONGER

Since August, 1927, the Pittsburgh & West Virginia has had an application before the commission for permission to acquire control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie. Although the removal of the other carriers from the picture does not necessarily mean that favorable action will be taken on the request, it puts the local road in a much stronger position.

The commission has continually frowned on the efforts of the Van Sweringens, the Baltimore & Ohio and the New York Central to hog tie the Wheeling & Lake Erie. Last May it denied them the right to exercise joint control over the line by placing representatives on the board of directors.

The commission's action is also viewed as throwing the first monkey wrench into the well-laid plans of the Van Sweringens to dictate the eastern railroad consolidations. Apparently the Baltimore & Ohio was working in close co-operation with them while the New York Central at least showed no serious objections to the proposal since it agreed to sell its Wheeling & Lake Erie stock to the Allegheny Corporation.

PLAYS LONE HAND

Taplin has been playing a lone and spectacular hand in the great game of railroad mergers. With his 68 miles of line he has been fighting all of the great trunk line systems. His Connellsville extension was bitterly opposed by the other carriers but he was victorious and finally obtained the commission's approval. None of the carriers welcomes the prospect of an additional trunk line but so far Taplin's plans have been successful.

The holdings of the Wheeling & Lake Erie stock which must be sold under the order, amount to $29,790,300 in par value. Since it would be ruinous to dump so large an amount of stock on the open market, the roads will probably make arrangements with a banking group to take it off their hands.

Copper Rise Likely.

Some producers are already unwilling to sell copper metal at 20 cents delivered in the domestic market, and it would seem as if it were only a question of how much more copper they would sell before the price would be forced higher by the demand. Inquiry is strong and both here and abroad producers are selling only limited tonnages.

Brokers' Work Reduced.

The old system under which all stock certificates sold by New York Stock Exchange firms had to be signed by a member of the firm will become obsolete on May 1, to the immense satisfaction of brokers who suffered writers' cramp during the successions of 5,000,000 and 6,000,000-share days in recent months. The stock exchange committee on securities has approved a plan whereby this onerous task may be assigned to employes with power of attorney.

Barnsdall Prospects.

Interest close to Barnsdall predict earnings for the first quarter of more than $2,500,000, or approximately $1.10 on the 2,247,063 shares outstanding since conversion on February 15, of $21,155,000, 6 per cent. debentures. Net earnings in January were $663,099 against only $59,463 in the same month last year. First quarter 1928 earnings were equal to only 31 cents a share and for the entire year $3.13 on 1,288,592 combined common shares then outstanding. Barnsdall and Rio Grande Oil have a joint interest in 880 acres of leases in the Elwood Terrace Field, California, currently producing about 25,000 barrels of crude daily, with high gasoline content. The company has several wells drilling in this field which should be brought in any day.

COUNTY EMPLOYEE REGAINS HEALTH

Ten Herbs Ended His Ailments; Relieved Wife's Nervousness; Helped Nine Friends.

"I can honestly say that Ten Herbs has made me feel like a new man," was the recent statement of Mr. Joseph A. Rectenwald, who does clerical work for Allegheny County, and lives at 437 Walde Street, Mt. Oliver, Pittsburgh. That has been the experience of thousands of men and women throughout this section whom Ten Herbs has restored to glorious health by relieving stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Where does Ten Herbs get this amazing power? From its ten wonderful herbal ingredients, each of which has a highly beneficial and invigorating action on one or more organs and at the same time they cleanse and tone up the whole system. There is little wonder so many sufferers are calling at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where this famous medicine is being introduced.

"Before using Ten Herbs I suffered from nervous indigestion," continued Mr. Rectenwald. "My stomach would quiver and fill with gas, causing me to be in misery. I was always taking physics for constipation. My liver was inactive, and I had such severe dizzy spells I could hardly stand up. At night I would be too nervous to sleep properly and would perspire.

"Now, thanks to Ten Herbs, I am a changed man. I enjoy my meals and am free of stomach trouble. My liver and kidneys are working the way they should, and dizzy spells are gone. I rest well at night, as my nerves are stronger. My bowels are regular. In place of that sluggish feeling I am energetic and ambitious. My wife was on the verge of having a nervous breakdown, but after taking Ten Herbs, she is feeling better. I induced nine of my friends to try your medicine, and they are all being helped. After all this, anyone can see that I have good reasons for recommending Ten Herbs."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

Grandmother Knew

there was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musterole gives the relief that mustard plasters gave without plaster and blister.

Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion.

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid-indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

DANGER LIES IN BULKLESS DIETS

Eat ALL-BRAN and Prevent Constipation

Thousands of people wonder why they are suffering when they try to be so careful regarding their diet. They have headaches, bad complexions and are unhappy because their old-time strength and vigor are gone.

Constipation is often the cause of this bad health. And lack of bulk in the diet is usually the cause of constipation. Roughage is needed daily to sweep the system clean of poisonous wastes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply this roughage.

ALL-BRAN works as nature works. It is guaranteed to bring relief — to prevent constipation.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious in flavor. Add it to your muffins and other hot breads. Try the recipes on the package. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Sold by all grocers.

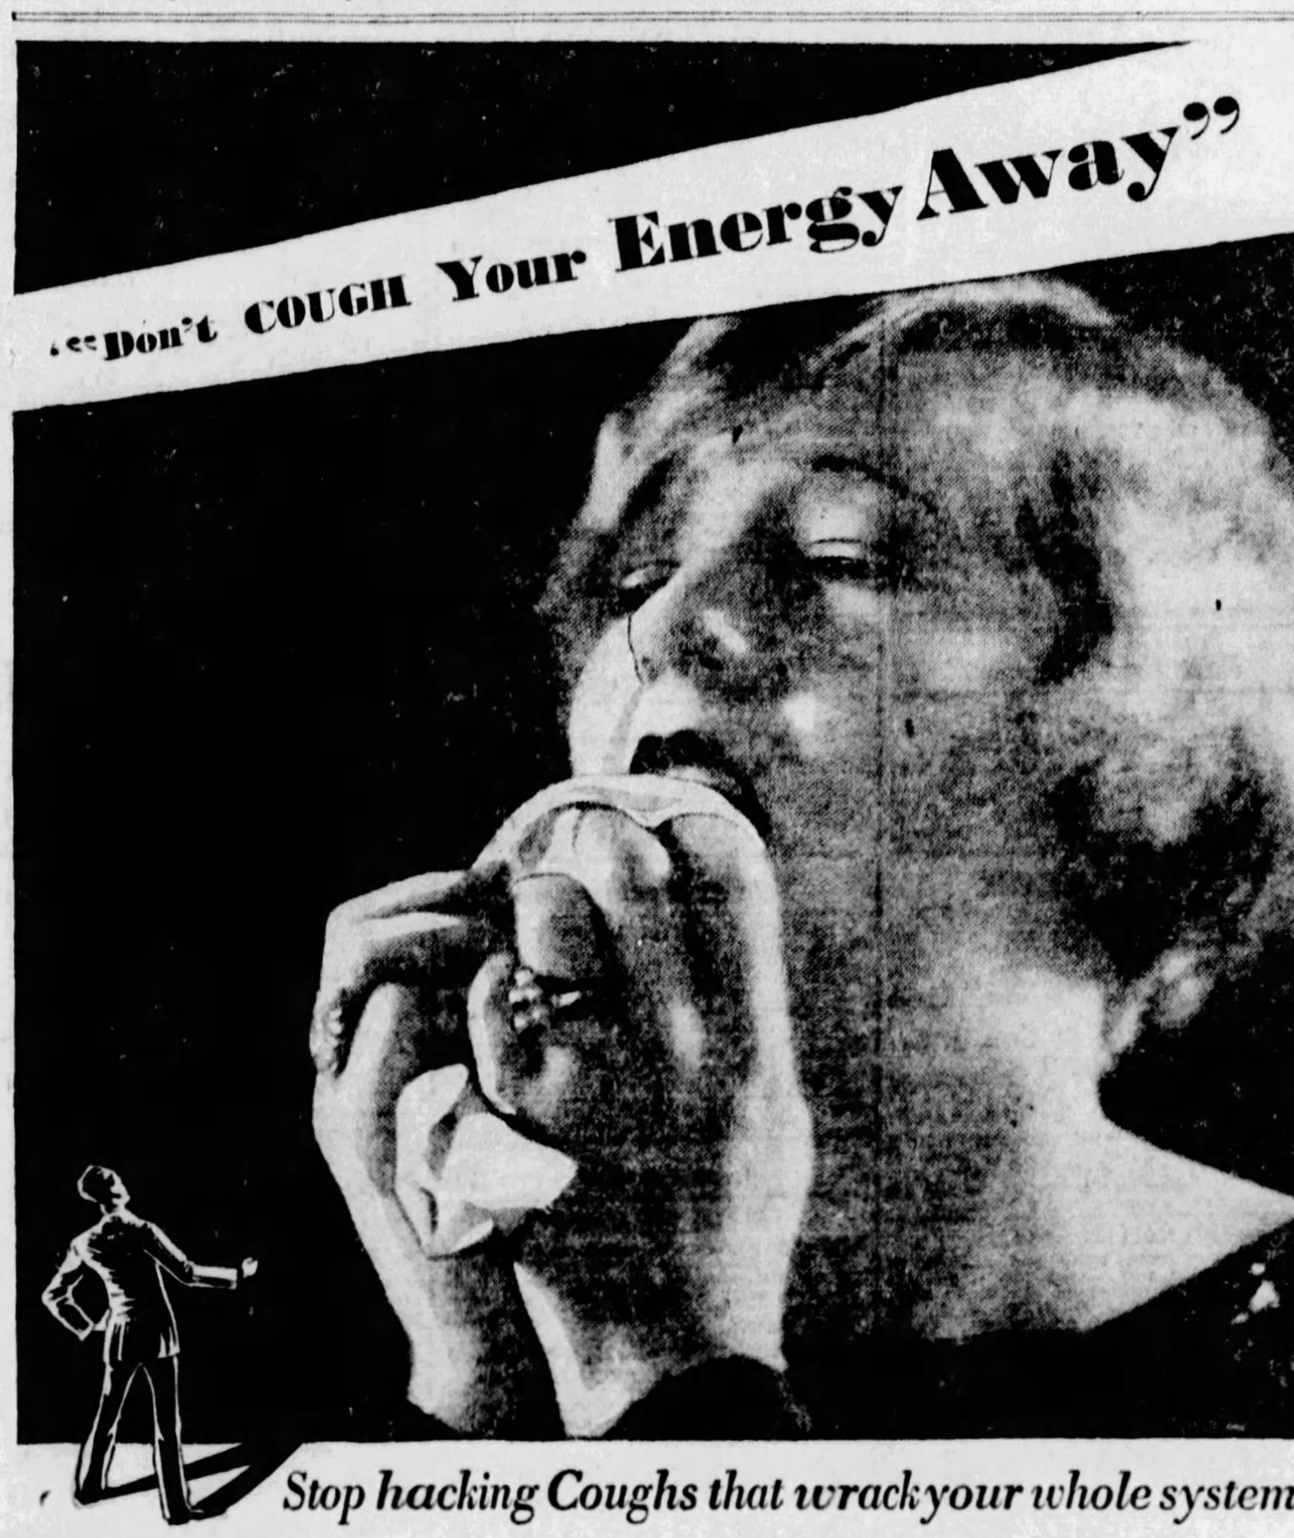
SWERVES AUTO, INJURES 4

AMBRIDGE, Pa., March 14.—Four persons were injured here, when an automobile driver swerved his car to avoid hitting a child and then struck a pedestrian crossing the street and crashed into a telephone pole.

The pedestrian injured was Joe Senik, 32, of 1131 Maplewood avenue. The driver of the car, L. C. Hohman, R. D. No. 2, Sewickley, and two occupants of the machine, Miss Gilenn Flanigan, 18, of 652 Merchant street and Walter McKeever, 36, of 328 Park road, were also injured. Miss Flanigan is in the Sewickley Hospital in a serious condition.



Stop hacking Coughs that wrack your whole system

DOCTORS advise coughs should be checked quickly. They sap vitality—put a terrific strain upon the vital organs. A cough can wrack your whole body—tear at the delicate tissues of the throat—leave the muscles of your chest and stomach sore from sheer exertion. Your health demands that coughs be checked, before exhaustion or serious infection sets in.

At the first sign of a cough or throat irritation, take PERTUSSIN. It helps Nature free the air passages of germ-laden mucus, soothes the irritation and quiets the cough. PERTUSSIN has been prescribed more often for coughs than any other advertised remedy.

PERTUSSIN is safe even for small children and convalescents—a good remedy for "coughs that hang on". It is free from dope—does not upset the stomach and can be taken as often as necessary.

Middle Age Can Be Happy

NO woman need fear middle age if her health is good. Hundreds of active, contented middle-aged women tell their friends that they owe their health and vigor to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. ANNA WEAVER
R. F. D. No. 2, Rose Hill, Iowa

MRS. MINNIE SHERIDAN
Warrensburg, Missouri

MRS. MERTON SECOR
Alton, N. Y.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine at the Change of Life. I would get blue spells and just walk the floor. I was nervous and did not care for anything, could not sleep at night and was not able to do my work. I know if it had not been for your medicine I would have been in bed most of this time and had a big doctor's bill. If women would only take your medicine they would be better. I eat and sleep as I should and can do lots of work now."—Mrs. Anna Weaver.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at this time (Change of Life), also Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, which I think is wonderful, and the Pills for Constipation. I recommend this full treatment whenever I can and I am perfectly willing to tell anyone what I know about it. I am in better health than I ever was and I am often told that I look more like a sister to my daughter than her mother. I am a hotel cook and have been at one place for six years."—Mrs. Minnie Sheridan.

"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the Change of Life and it certainly has done wonders for me. I highly recommend it to all women who are having troubles like mine. It has helped my nerves and my appetite and I sleep well. I feel much better and am gaining in flesh. I am able to do my housework for my husband and little boy and am always busy sewing or crocheting. I am willing to tell other women what the medicine has done for me if they care to write to me."—Mrs. Merton Secor.

Your Own Business

In the Classified Ad Columns of this paper you will find a column headed "Business Opportunities," Classification 12.

Many a man can trace his success in life back to the day he read of a little business for sale under this classification. It didn't take much money, and it gave him the opportunity to put his energy and ability to work—and gradually his mammoth factories developed from that small beginning.

You, too, may find there the opportunity that will start you on the road to fortune. In them you will discover real money-making opportunities in many lines of business, and just the one that suits you.

If you have a little money you can use, begin now, read "Business Opportunities" faithfully, and your reward will soon come.

(Fort Scott Tribune)

Parsons Sun: Harve Dennis, who lives near Vinita, got $110 worth of crows at one shot recently. He planted 200 pounds of dynamite under trees in which thousands of crows roost at night and at the proper time set off the charge. Several tons of gravel had been piled on top of the dynamite. The gravel and dynamite together got 2,200 crows at one blast, not counting the cripples.

This vehicle, it seems to us, is just the thing for parlour, or intimate, drama—blending as it does, clean fun and a vital moral message.

TRUE COURAGE.

Act I.

RALPH—Cousin Laura! I have a word to say to you.

LAURA—Only a word?

R.—I saw you yesterday speaking to that fellow Sterling—Frank Sterling.

L.—What then? Is he too good to be spoken to?

R.—Far from it. You must give up his acquaintance.

L.—Indeed! On what compulsion must I?

R.—If you do not wish to be cut by all the boys of the academy, you must cut Frank Sterling.

L.—(Tartly)—So I must either give up the acquaintance of my friend Frank, or submit to the terrible mortification of being cut by Mr. Ralph Burton and his companions?

R.—Certainly. Frank is a boy of no spirit—in short, a coward.

L.—Indeed, and how has he shown it?

Executive Police Bill Lets State Evade Duty

Gov. Fisher's own coal and iron police bill, introduced in the House in Harrisburg by Representative M. A. Musmanno, while a great improvement on the present law, which it would replace, still is faulty in that it permits the state to continue to evade its direct responsibility of guarding the peace and safety of its citizens. Police power is a matter of state and municipal authority which cannot be safely delegated to private hands.

The administration bill limits the power of coal and iron police by restricting their activities to territory within 1,000 feet of the property of the company employing them. It provides that they shall be bonded and that their good character be certified to by reputable citizens, as a prerequisite of appointment, that copies of commissions be on file in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county, and that the governor may refuse commissions or terminate them at will.

They are all good and desirable provisions, but the proposed law still will leave a police power in private control, when seen in its ultimate effect. It is true that the governor will be able to remove those who abuse their authority, but it also is true that the state still will be delegating a power that belongs wholly to it and municipalities. The state still will be evading a fundamental duty of protecting the safety of all the people, and not part of them.

Coal and iron police will continue to be private employes, even with all regulations that can be put upon them. Their duty then is first to the man who pays them. An officer employed by the state is neutral, for example, in case of a strike. He would be supposed to protect the safety of the striker as well as the property of the mine owner. The fealty of a coal and iron policeman would be as directly to the mine owner, under the proposed law, as it is under the present one.

The Sun-Telegraph does not object to the passage of the administration bill. It sees in it a great improvement. In fact it promises men of character, instead of thugs, as employes of coal companies with police powers. But it does contend that the state has a duty, that it is evading it and that it is not warranted in letting any of its powers pass into private hands. The state of Pennsylvania is rich enough to pay for its own police and it ought to do so.

Neither are we opposed to the coal companies employing watchmen to guard their properties. But they should be watchmen—and nothing more. Such protection as requires policing should be under state control entirely.

The REAL Savings Bank Is Your Best Plan.

All readers interested in these little creatures shown here please observe that they know enough to SAVE.

See the very interesting feature in today's Sun-Telegraph on the Thrift Campaign on Page 3.

Two strange creatures, shown in these pictures, prove that Nature teaches even the lower animals the importance of saving and of savings banks.

The swollen frog at the right, whose scientific name is Cheiroleptes Platycephalus, lives in Australia, around on the other side of the world, and is described by Sir Walter Spencer in his interesting book, "Wandering in Wild Australia."

THE SAVINGS BANK FROG

This frog, named after the queer shape of his head, lives in a climate where there is sometimes no rain for many months. Pools in which he swims dry up. Nature teaches him to look ahead, as some of us HUMAN beings have not yet learned to look ahead.

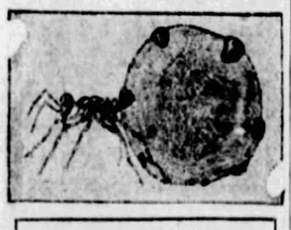
As the dry season comes on this frog, with a low forehead and considerable intelligence, fills himself with water until he swells from a flat-backed, flat-stomached creature to the shape that you see here.

Having taken in all the water that his interior will hold, he retires to a burrow in the mud, and there remains as long as the drought lasts, sometimes 12 or 18 months.

In addition to storing up and saving water, he also saves his energies, or Nature saves them for him. He remains quiet, everything in his system is sluggish. He is simply waiting for the kind rain to come back.

The other creature, called by his scientific name, Melophorus Inflatus, is an ant with an abdomen gigantically distended by the amount of honey stored away inside of it.

This ant, whose name is made up of words meaning "honey" and "inflated," has no savings banks, no place to put money with which he might later, in harder times, go forth to buy food.



THE HONEY-POT SAVINGS BANK ANT

So they each select a certain number in their community. The ant in the picture is one of those selected.

They feed, feed, stuff and overfeed these selected "honey-pot" ants with the choicest honey. Stored away in the abdomen of the living honey-pot, it remains for use as needed by the entire ant community.

With such a swollen abdomen, the patriotic ant, sacrificing comfort for the general welfare, cannot walk. It is hung up in the air from some projecting twig or other suitable hook and kept there to be "tapped" as needed.

It has the power to disgorge from its abdomen food stored away in it. And this food it yields on the demand of the worker ants that get it to feed to the queen, or to the baby ants that are coming along to work, or provide drones and queens, as the adult workers may decide.

Fortunately for us human beings, we are not obliged to fill ourselves with water like the toad, or to take members of our families and fill them with the food supply in this way.

All we need do, as we go through life, is to work hard and honestly, giving a dollar's value for a dollar's pay, and saving part of each dollar.

Put away in the savings bank the money saved. While waiting to be called forth and used it produces interest, increasing its own size.

A savings bank account is to an intelligent human being what the body swollen with water, or the "honey-pot ant," is to the frog and ant communities.

Learn from Nature, from the humble frog and ant, the importance of preparing TODAY for what may happen TOMORROW.

OPEN A SAVINGS BANK ACCOUNT, AND DON'T LET ANYBODY GET THAT MONEY AWAY FROM YOU UNTIL YOU KNOW THAT YOU ARE MAKING A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Serious, Short, Sad True Story of Income Tax Inequality

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

SOME people are born with tails.

Not long, curly tails like Fido's, but a small elongation of the spine which would have speedily developed into an ample tail had they been born some millions of years ago.

These tiny, twentieth century tails are really hang-overs from our savage great-granfather's equipment. We do not know exactly what those first great-grandfathers were like, but we do know that they were nearer the ape in body and mind than we are. The proportions of their bodies were different. They had longer and more powerful arms, they had shorter legs, heavier torsos. They could grip with their toes as a monkey grips, and they exercised certain muscles and organs of which we have the now useless remnants.

Our useless tails are merely a reminder of bodies we have long since outgrown. If we understand their significance they may keep us humble, but otherwise they do not bother us very much.

Most of us enter adult life with hang-overs which are infinitely more mischievous than an extra inch or two of spine. Emotional hang-overs—attitudes and ideas which we should have shed with our baby teeth. And because of this, we prolong through life problems and confusions which should have been settled before we were 25.

During the first 20 or 25 years of life we should get our bearings. We should come to understand and should establish our proper relationship to society.

Children have no idea of their proper relationship to society. They hardly know that the rest of the world exists. They have the viewpoint of animals and savages. They think only of themselves. They are the slaves of their own feelings.

Such optimism is natural and right in children; it is necessary for their growth. But it should pass with childhood. Gradually the child's viewpoint should broaden until he sees and feels other needs beside his own; until he is able to bear disappointment and loneliness and irritation and loss as a grown man.

But some people never acquire grown-up minds. Their bodies mature, but their minds remain unripe. They enter adult life as some babies enter life, with hang-over tails—silly, waggy tails of emotion.

They still fly into rages if they are thwarted.

They boast and strut like children.

They are governed by unreasonable fears and prejudices.

They cling feverishly to love as a child clings to its mother's apron.

All these are the reactions of children. They are hang-overs from baby attitudes. They are, if we could but realize it, as silly as human tails.

"Infantilism," the psycho-analysts call such hang-overs.

Critics say that we Americans, as a race, suffer from infantilism.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM IT?

I do. That's why I can write such a mean article about it.

GRAVITATION

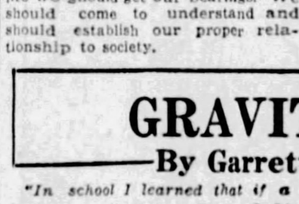
By Garrett P. Serviss

"In school I learned that if a bullet were fired from a gun held level and another bullet were dropped from the muzzle of the gun at the same distant they would strike the earth at the same time. Now some of my friends laugh at me and say it is impossible. Please explain this.—L. H. W., Bridgeville, Pa."

NEVER mind—you have the laugh on your friends, for mathematics bears you out. There is a marriage of forces which constitutes one of the most beautiful ordinances of nature. It can best be explained with the aid of a simple diagram. Suppose we take a play cannon which has power enough to give a ball a velocity of 32 feet per second. Place the cannon 16 feet above the level ground and point it parallel with the ground.

Now, you doubtless know that gravitation causes all objects that are not so light that the air retards their fall to drop a distance of 16 feet in the first second after they are let fall.

But the falling object does not travel at a uniform velocity. At the start it falls slowly, but it quickly gains velocity, so that at the end of one second it is moving at the rate of 32 feet per second. But having started with 0 velocity and ended with 32 feet, the distance fallen in the second will be the mean of the two, or 16 feet.



THE MARRIAGE OF FORCES

The mathematical law of falling bodies is that the distance fallen in any time equals 16 feet multiplied by the square of the number of seconds during which the fall lasted.

Now, a very important thing to remember is that the same law applies to a body otherwise moving, like a cannon ball, as well as to a body that starts from rest. The two movements are married together and become one, but the course of the body after this marriage of the forces acting upon it is not the same as it was when only one force was acting. Like the partners in all successful marriages, the two completely respect one another's rights, and neither robs the other. The full efficiency of each is retained and they work independently, and yet together, with complete accord. The picture shows the effect.

The gun at the right fires its ball with a velocity of 32 feet per second, on a level aim, and if gravitation did not act, the ball would go straight ahead to the point marked "1 sec." But gravitation exercises its force upon the ball just as if, instead of having a velocity parallel with the ground, it had simply dropped straight down from the mouth of the cannon.

In that case, as before said, the ball would reach the ground at the end of one second. But in reality the two forces acting simultaneously are combined, so that the ball, obeying both alike, does not either fall straight to the ground or shoot straight ahead. What it does do is to follow a parabolic curve which brings it to the ground at the end of the second at the point marked "16 ft."

The picture analyzes this for you. In a quarter of a second the ball has gone forward eight feet from the gun, but in the same time gravity has drawn it down one foot. In half a second it has gone forward 16 feet, but has simultaneously fallen four feet. In three-quarters of a second it has gone ahead 24 feet and dropped nine feet. Finally at the end of the second it has moved 32 feet straight away and at the same time dropped 16 feet to the ground. If another ball had been dropped at the same instant from the cannon's muzzle, it would have struck the ground simultaneously with the first.

Bible Passages

Moses' Song

(Exodus 15; 1-15)

THEN sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the Lord, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.

The Lord is a man of war: the Lord is his name.

Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.

Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.

Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestina.

Then the dukes of Edom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Moab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.

Tales That Are Told

Her Helping Hand

A WOMAN and her little daughter stood at a busy crossing.

"This is such a dangerous corner," declared the mother. "Do keep close behind me, dear."

She stepped into the road and glanced carefully up and down from behind a bus. Her daughter had not been so quick, and a man stepped off the sidewalk first, coming between the mother and her daughter.

"Now, dear, let's make a dash for it!"

The woman seized the man's hand and dashed across the road. Turning, she began: "I do think there ought——"

She stopped short and stared at the man, whose hand she still held.

"Very kind o' you, ma'am," he observed, "but I could 'a' crossed by myself, easy!"

The Reason

ALTHOUGH as big and strong as the policeman who had arrested him, the man with the close-cropped hair and brutal face allowed himself to be marched towards the police station.

There had been the usual crowd in anticipation of a scrap, but it had drifted away when they saw there was nothing doing. Even the policeman admitted it was the tamest arrest he had made for many a day.

"It isn't like you to go so quietly," he remarked. "What's taken all the ginger out of you?"

The prisoner signed. "I've got my best clothes on."

On the Banks of the Hudson

By Herbert Kaufman

EVERY god has his day. Jupiter's nose is out of joint, and Diana, evicted even from Madison Square Garden, turns greener with envy, at word of the projected temple to Pluto, in which the Guaranty Trust plans to enshrine its two billions.

This latest marvel of modern times could reconstruct the Seven Wonders of the ancient world out of a regular dividend. And duplicate Troy for lagnappe.

Archimedes muffed his one best bet when he overlooked interest. The fulcrum-and-lever power to move the earth lay in ideas and money.

War's biggest rainy day chest—the Julius Spandau tower—with which Germany planned to finance supreme conquest, held just half the funds of this single New York bank.

The Guaranty's assets exceed Europes negotiable wealth, when Columbus was wheedling the price of a Rolls-Royce to promote the discovery of America.

Alec Moore must have got a great kick out of discussing the ifs of that venture in possibility, with his dear friend Alfonso—whose ancestors, however, weren't monopolists in letting a good thing slip from their grasp.

Any, among 90 per cent of native New Yorkers, might be lolling on yachts and wearing chinchilla pajamas, had their parents put forth more faith and savings into Manhattan's future.

Fify years ago pennies met chances that snub dollars today.

But the value of Knickerbocker's island had already multiplied so incredibly, that few could then sense how development might be pushed very much farther.

European writers remarked in awe of Gotham's "$150,000,000 manufacturing revenues," and blurbingly exclaimed at "4,374 establishments employing 90,000-odd hands."

Pittsburgh's "astounding growth" equally amazed them. The early seventies rubbed eyes at "30 iron factories on the Monongahela, with a $6,000,000 annual output," 35 glass works, shipping $500,000 worth of wares each month; and oil refineries, with "3,000 workers and an overturn of $15,000,000."

Compare these statistics with Uncle Sam's last balance sheet, and realize in how short a while enterprise and imagination have created industrial, commercial and transportation systems—from which 14,000 millionaires have already sprung—and the structural materials for a new civilization since issued.

Heads and hands did it all.

Pathfinders, ranging the frontiers of opportunity, found and founded the sources of present prosperity.

Brains coined the gold streaming into the Guaranty strongboxes, crowding National City vaults, Chase coffers and the Morgan till.

Forges and trip-hammers minted it. Automobiles, dynamos, locomotives, radio, motion pictures, cash registers and adding machines are its sires.

It sprang from the marriage of initiative with determination—it was smelted from waste heaps and processed from by-products. It descended from EFFICIENCY—which takes no chances and never trusts to luck.

RIGHT ANGLES

By Alexander Cairns

IT IS neither blarney nor buncombe when I reiterate that in my opinion womanhood is God's repository for the world's divinest life.

And yet I thank God I'm no woman. Just as Emerson said:

"And yet for all his faith can see I would not the good bishop be."

And for this personal aversion to skirthood I present the following reasons.

1. Because woman must change her name and lose her family identity when she weds, even though the application be the blazonry of genius or the escutcheon of fame.

2. Because woman cannot forage for a mate but must sit quiet in the wigwam and wait for Hiawatha, with no assurance that he will ever come.

3. Because woman suffers a worse exile than Cato if she rebels against the slavery of fashion and has the temerity to be her own sartorial judge.

4. Because woman dare not circumnavigate a city block without an escort, and thus her liberty is bisected and her pleasure trisected.

5. Because woman is judged a bit strange if she ventures on a vocation not approved by sedate years of custom.

6. Because woman is still the servant in the house whose work ends never and whose compensation is optical with a capricious husband.

7. Because maternity, woman's crowning glory, is ever a walk through the valley of the shadow of death in agony unutterable.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

SOME married men seem to get amusement out of making derogatory statements about other married men before their wives.

While there may not be anything really bad, yet it is hinted, and while done perhaps in a spirit of fun the practice is likely to cause trouble.

This is especially true if another woman's name is brought into it.

Some wives are not bothered apparently by such remarks.

Having control over their real feelings they make a joke of it and wait for an opportunity to have a few words with friend husband alone, later.

Often serious domestic trouble is started in just this way.

A wife is happy as long as she has confidence in her husband, but when she begins to doubt him, to feel that he may be untrue to her, unhappiness is the result and trouble starts.

It does not require much to arouse suspicion.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 14.—Manhattan is rivaling Paris as a perfume center these days. The new shops opened recently are as flamboyantly fancy as those gorgeous mirrored hutches on the rue de la Paix. Dozens of cooing French saleswomen have been imported to add "atmosphere."

While most shops bear French names, it is said a large number are financed by American capital. The perfumer has found America one of the most profitable of all countries for sale of his wares. Perfumes are not only designed for men and women, but children and babies as well.

All the French sale subtleties are in evidence in the amazing number of shops along Madison, Park and Fifth avenues—the atomizers filled with free scents, the enticing and magnificent bottles and the marvelous window displays. The profits are said to be enormous.

Twenty years ago the perfume shop was unknown here. Perfume was purchased chiefly in drug and department stores. Today manufacturers are renting the choice corners and bringing over famous decorators to outfit them in dazzling splendor.

There are places that "blend fragrant inflections of your own personality," and one silvered shrine boasts 200 Social Registerites who have odors prepared for them especially at a cost of $40 an ounce. Three so-called smart periodicals derive the biggest revenue from perfume advertising.

The "parfume vogue" is another released suppression following the war—like jazz. Prices have risen to astounding proportions. A lady with a $5,000 yearly perfume bill is not unusual. Even in Paris the $2 bottle of perfume of other days is now $25.

The exquisite odor today marks the smartly dressed woman with a verve and distinction as much as her clothes. She has her perfume for morning, afternoon, evening, the bridge table, the play and so on. Thus the making of perfume has become another American racket.

The Bowery has noted the passing of Slippery Max, once proprietor of "The Sink," an infamous beer dive. He introduced the custom of serving a large schooner of beer, with straws for two customers, at 5 cents. Sucking beer through a straw did something. Those who indulged were likely to walk out on their hands or in some other quaint fashion.

Another rendezvous of those days was "The Doctor's," whose clinic was a swing door saloon a few blocks north of Park Row. The Doctor himself was an odd figure among the blowzy bums who frequented his laboratory. He was a fellow of a Royal Surgical Society who fell through drink, but with a monthly remittance was able to maintain his sawdust sanctuary. In the late evening when he became mellow from his "prescriptions" he would deliver a profound lecture on the physiological evils of alcohol, conclude by setting up a free drink on the house and stumble off upstairs to slumber.

A plumber, deservedly indignant at stage jests at his craft, sends a 200-word telegram that in 30 years of plumbing he has never known a plumber to forget his tools when called on a job. But why pick on me? I'm not only skinny picking, but I never gossip about plumbers.

In a nice mild way, however, I have often wondered if a plumber requires all the tools he brings when you phone him you need a washer on a bathroom tap. I don't care a whole lot, but asking fills a line or so.

* * *

I have also received a duck of a note from a chorus man who says he has never heard a chorus man lisp. "But I know three newspapermen who do," he adds, the meanie.

* * *

And a boulevardier sighs in print that all the chorus girls he knows are no longer frivolous and gay, but sedate and dignified. He should cry in his chili, the mug! All the chorus girls I used to know are in the Old Ladies' Home.

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Winter Moon: A Fantasy

WHEN in Winter the moon goes sailing
On the infinite seas of night,
With a flurry of snowclouds veiling
For a moment its silver light,
Does it see in the white world whirling
A ghost of the Earth it loved,
With the petals of roses curling
Where the feet of Summer roved?

Can it be that the moon remembers
The glow of the world in Spring,
And that out of the year's dim embers
It can conjure the robin's wing?
Can it be that this pallid yearning
Of the wistful winter moon,
Will be known to the rose, returning,
And will quicken her pulse, in June?

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

I'M afraid the jokes about Chicago are going to run out pretty soon, so we better be using up the ones we've got. This is about two Chicagoans that were visiting in New York. They went out for a walk and got lost.

"Where are we, Bill?" says one to the other.

"I don't know. I don't think we'll ever find our hotel this way."

"Well," says the other one, "I've got it! We'll shoot a couple of cops, and somebody in the crowd will surely know where our hotel is."
